Crews Push Repair After Train Wreck

16 Cars Skip Tracks With $50,000 Loss In Irondale Mishap

Pennsylvania Railroad Co. crews were clearing away the last bit of wreckage today at the scene of a 16-car derailment Saturday night at New Salisbury, near Irondale, that tore up some 800 feet of track on both east and westbound lines.

Railroad officials estimated damage to cars and tracks at $50,000.

The 16 cars of the 145-car freight, enroute from Crestline to Conway, derailed when a coupling broke loose and dropped to the rails near 90th car, officials said.

Tons of wheat and soybeans were spilled onto the tracks near the New Salisbury brick plant of the H. K. Porter Co., Inc., about three miles west of Irondale.

Two repair crews from Canton and Mingo Junction worked with two 250-ton cranes to clear away the wreckage. Crews were on the job about 4:30 a. m. Sunday and opened the westbound track to limited traffic at 12:15 a. m. today.

The railroad expected to restore traffic on the eastbound line today. Crews clearing away the wreckage were hampered because a 200-foot section of the tangled double track was shoved over a small embankment near a road leading to the brick plant. A 40-man crew laid new rails to the scene so that the cranes could reach the overturned cars.

Two of the derailed cars were carrying soybeans and the cars were split open, causing the cargo to spill over an embankment. Seven other soybean cars were punctured and also spilled their contents. However, a tank car filled with grease escaped the grinding crash without bursting.

The train, listed as the "ED-2," was hauling 107 loaded cars and 42 empty cars. Engineer of the eastbound freight was Harley Neal of Mansfield and the conductor was J. B. Keller of North Canton.

The derailment occurred on Pennsylvania's Bayard Branch, which runs between Canton and Pittsburgh and handles all freight trains between the two cities, keeping the Chicago-New York main lines in the area reserved for passenger trains.

Freight was re-routed over passenger lines while the Bayard Branch was blocked by the wreck.

The dertailment tore up about 450 feet of track on one line and about 350 feet on the adjoining line. Railroad officials said the freight was traveling about 35 miles an hour when the coupling broke loose about two-thirds of the length of the train from the engine. The official blamed the dropped coupling for the wreck.

As Freight Cars Jumped Tracks In Irondale District

Future Seen Only Hope For Tax Cut

Increase Proposed In U.S. Gas Tax, Postage On Letters

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today sent Congress his election year budget and said it promises a $4,184,000,000 surplus that can pave the way for a tax cut, possibly next year.

For the present, however, Eisenhower proposed raising more revenue. He said Congress should increase the federal gasoline tax by half a cent a gallon — to 4½ cents — and add a penny each to the 4-cent letter charge and the 7-cent air mail rate.

The President implied that unless Congress votes these and other revenue measures—and resists any urge to boost spending — the predicted surplus will melt away and with it hopes of broadscale tax relief sometime after the November election.

For the 1961 fiscal year that begins July 1, Eisenhower estimated record revenues of 84 billion dollars. He called for spending of $79,816,000,000.

This would produce the biggest surplus in 13 years—a margin of black ink which the President said should be used to reduce the record national debt of 292 billion dollars. He said a debt cut would counter inflation and spur savings needed to stimulate new economic growth.

Eisenhower said the projected spending level will permit small increases in both the military and foreign aid budgets, a major step-up in space exploration and record outlays for water projects.

Although allotting 50 million dollars more for defense, the budget proposes small cuts in purchases of missiles and ships and a big reduction in aircraft purchases.

Cuts in non-military programs generally were small and scattered.

Eisenhower asserted that if the fiscal blueprint can be translated into reality, the president and Congress to be elected in November will have an opportunity to cut taxes, assuming prosperity continues.

"Soundly conceived tax revision can then be approached on a comprehensive and orderly basis, rather than by haphazard piecemeal changes," he added.

Eisenhower did not say specifically that a tax cut should be considered in 1961. He merely pointed to this as a possibility during the two-year tenure of the Congress that will convene next January.

He also commented the legislators might prefer debt reduction to tax reduction.

In addition to a big surplus in fiscal 1961, the President is counting on a 217-million-dollar surplus in the current bookkeeping year. For the 12 months which end June 30, he estimated revenues of $78,600,000,000 and spending of $78,383,000,000.

The 952-page budget contained no major surprises, particularly since Eisenhower revealed the principal figures 11 days ago in his State of the Union message.

Altogether, the document included 79 legislative proposals, these being the most important:

Freezing Rain And Snow Due

Northwest Ohio Due Heavy Accumulation

A mixture of light snow and freezing rain will make driving hazardous in Northeast Ohio today, the weatherman warned.

The first installment of the freezing rain arrived in East Liverpool early this morning, slicking streets and highways in the suburbs and rural areas, but leaving city pavements comparatively clear.

In rural areas, residents reported ice formed in some exposed locations, although main highways were generally clear.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported roads were slick with ice early this morning, creating hazardous driving conditions, but the ice was breaking up by 10 a. m. No accidents were reported to the patrol.

It will be cloudy and colder with snow flurries tonight and Tuesday, the weatherman said. The high today will be 30-35 and the low tonight will be 22-27.

The weatherman issued a heavy snow warning for extreme Northwest Ohio. He said the snowfall will total 4 inches by tonight.

Dam 8 at Newell reported a high of 33 degrees Sunday afternoon and an overnight low of 31. Precipitation totaled five hundredths of an inch.

Moscow First Stop On 10-Day Trip To Promote Friendship

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's crusade of world travels to promote peace and freedom will take him behind the Iron Curtain into the Soviet Union for 10 days starting June 10.

Dates for the President's trip, planned since last summer, were announced Sunday by the White House and the Soviet government.

The U.S. announcement was made in Albany, Ga., shortly before Eisenhower flew back to Washington after a weekend of quail hunting.

In going to the Soviet Union, Eisenhower will be returning the two-week visit which Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev made to the United States last September.

The President will go first to Moscow. He also will visit a few other cities in the Soviet Union but there has been no final decision as to which ones.

There were no immediate announcements as to whether the President will be accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower and their four grandchildren. Khrushchev invited the youngsters when he met them at the President's Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

Diplomatic sources in Moscow said Eisenhower will stay in a guest house in the Kremlin rather than the Kremlin palace.

Eisenhower's trip will be part of his campaign of worldwide travel in behalf of what he terms "peace and friendship — in freedom."

Khrushchev's two weeks in this country seem to have made no basic improvement in relations, and now he is pushing a new pressure drive to force the Western leaders to give up protection of West Berlin.

That will be a main issue at the Paris summit conference starting May 16, less than a month before Eisenhower's arrival in the Soviet Union.

2 More Enter County Races In May Voting

Two more Democrats have filed with the County Election Board to seek nomination for county posts at the May 3 primary.

Donald J. Longshore of Columbiana, an oil salesman, filed for recorder and Robert Barnett of Beloit R. D. 2, a dairy and turkey farmer in Knox Township, filed for commissioner.

Both are the third candidates to seek the party nominations for the two jobs.

John Graham of Wellsville and Lawrence Finlay of East Liverpool filed earlier for recorder while Dan A. McKeever of Lisbon R. D. 3 and R. Max Gard of Hanoverton R. D., incumbent, filed previously for the commissioner post, in which two will be elected.

Constable Candidates Enter Hancock Races

A Chester man and Pughtown resident today became candidates for constables in Hancock County's primary May 10.

L. W. (Pete) Board, Republican of 124 Virginia Ave., Chester, is a candidate for constable in Grant District, while James F. Wellington, Democrat, of Pughtown filed for constable of Clay District.

A chemical analyst at the Titanium Division of the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland, Board is a veteran of World War II, when he served in Africa, Sicily and Italy. He is a trustee of the First Methodist Church and a lifetime resident of the county. He is married and has one son.

Wellington is a veteran of 6 years with the Navy and works at the Steubenville plant of the Weirton Steel Co. He is married and has one son.

Driver Due In 2 Courts

Youth Pursued By Deputy Rams Auto Into 3 Houses

An 18-year-old Industry youth was to go before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff this afternoon on a reckless driving charge after a high speed chase from Calcutta early Sunday morning that ended when he crashed into three homes on Dresden Ave., causing extensive damage to the houses, injuring himself and a Midland youth and demolishing his car.

Two 16-year-old girls from the East Liverpool area escaped injury.

Jack Dean Azzarello of Industry R. D. 1 was charged with reckless driving by Deputy Sheriff Herman Wellman.

A charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors by keeping them out after curfew also was filed against Azzarello.

Azzarello was treated at City Hospital for a possible fracture of the right hand. A 16-year-old Glenmoor girl and a St. Clair Ave. girl, also 16, were examined and released.

Louis Ancrile, 17, of 424 Midland Ave., Midland, another passenger was treated at the hospital for bruises and abrasions of the chest.

However, he was returned to the hospital at 10:40 a. m. yesterday and was admitted. The hospital said his condition is "good" today.

The most extensive damage was caused to the home of James S. Martin, 1294 Dresden Ave., who had to flee with his family because a gas meter was ripped off in the crash and the gas was entering his home.

The homes of Mrs. Helen Buckley, 1296 Dresden, and James W. Boyle, 1292 Dresden, also were damaged and a fender of Martin's car was damaged slightly.

Wellman said the chase started after he observed Azzarello crashing a stop sign at the intersection of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. and Route 170.

When Azzarello failed to stop for his signal, the chase continued over Route 170 with the Pennsylvania driver also failing to stop for the stop sign at the junction of Routes 170 and 30, Wellman said.

The deputy said Azzarello passed all other cars on Route 30 and then failed to negotiate the curve on Dresden Ave. Azzarello reportedly passed three cars on the slight grade before losing control.

Azzarello's 1948 auto brushed the left rear fender of Martin's car and then ripped off a corner of Mrs. Buckley's home and severed a TV antenna.

Martin said he was preparing to go to bed when he heard the approaching car and then the crash. Looking out the window, he saw the porch and steps at the Boyle residence had been ripped away.

Martin said he then realized his own home had been damaged and smelled gas. He aroused his family and got out of the house. The house quickly filled with gas fumes, but firemen were called to shut off the gas.

The front wall of the Martin home was damaged. A storm door, garage door and overhang were torn off in the crash, besides the damage to the gas meter.

The Martin family, had to spend the rest of the night and Sunday night with relatives because the home is heated with gas.

The home where the Boyle family resides has been struck at least twice before by careening cars, Martin said.

7 Defendants Give Innocent Plea To Court

A city man, charged with auto theft, and a Wheeling man indicted for illegally obtaining narcotics in East Liverpool pleaded innocent at arraignment held this morning at Lisbon for 14 of the 18 persons indicted by the January Grand Jury.

Seven men pleaded innocent before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, while seven others filed guilty pleas and requested probation.

Pleas for two others were deferred, and arraignment for two others was not held because their indictments had not been served.

A request was filed for dismissal of an armed robberty charge against James Maras, 20, of Warren, indicted for the Dec. 11 robbery of a Salem area motel in which his brother and another man allegedly took part.

Atty. Francis X. Diana of Warren asked for the dismissal for Maras, claiming Maras was refused legal counsel at a preliminary hearing at Salem. Judge Buzzard deferred hearing the plea until the attorney can file a written report on the testimony at the hearing.

Meanwhile, Edmund Maras, 30, of Newton Falls — also charged with armed robbery in an indictment stemming from the motel robbery — remains at large after having escaped a jail at Freeport, Ill. He was captured at Dixon, Ill., in a gun fight in which Charles Harris, 33, of Warren — third man in the motel robbery — was killed by police.

A report that Edmund Maras was seen near Warren was investigated by officers in Trumbull County early Sunday night, but no one answering his description was found.

Maras' indictment, along with a secret indictment for non-support, have not been served, Sheriff Russell VanFossan advised the judge today.

Criminal trials will start Feb. 1, according to Norman Ward, assignment commissioner. Judge Buzzard will preside.

French Clear Sky For First A-Bomb Test

Planes Are Warned To Bypass Certain Areas Over Sahara

PARIS (AP)—France is expected to explode her first atomic weapon in the Sahara any day. A successful blast will put France in the nuclear weapon club restricted so far to the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain.

The French Defense Ministry warned planes flying over the African desert to stay clear of certain areas beginning today.

The device set off will be atomic, not a more powerful hydrogen-bomb weapon.

Airliners flying over the Sahara — mostly French and British — were warned to stay clear of a zone around Reggane in central Algeria. The site is about 600 miles from the Mediterranean coast and about the same distance from the Atlantic.

Planes flying over the rest of the French Sahara were advised to remain above 10,000 feet, avoid certain other areas and keep in radio contact with French authorities.

The French announcement gave no time limit for the regulations, saying only that they would be in force "for the months to come."

The French have pushed determinedly ahead with development of an atomic weapon despite intense opposition to the Sahara tests from independent African nations and two resolutions by the U.N. Assembly opposing the Sahara tests.

Ghana, Tunisia and other African nations expressed fear the French explosions would contaminate African areas with dangerous radioactivity. The French gave assurance that radioactivity would be confined to a small area.

American and British officials have expressed the opinion privately that the Soviets might use French testing of a nuclear weapon as a pretext for resuming test explosions of their own.

Stolen Car Demolished In Dive Down Hillside

A city's man auto, stolen Saturdan night or early Sunday, was demolished when it plunged over a steep embankment near Grimm's Bridge Sunday afternoon, police were told.

The 1955 Ford owned by Raymond Horner Jr., 1770 Dakota Ave., plunged down the 125-foot hill, St. Clair Township Constables John Jackson and Harry Skelton told police. The car was found at 5:35 p. m. yesterday, they said.

Horner reported his car missing from E. 2nd St. shortly after 1 a. m. yesterday. It had been parked at 7 p. m. Saturday, he said.

by half a cent a gallon — to 4½ cents — and add a penny each to the 4-cent letter charge and the 7-cent air mail rate.

The President implied that unless Congress votes these and other revenue measures—and resists any urge to boost spending — the predicted surplus will melt away and with it hopes of broadscale tax relief sometime after the November election.

For the 1961 fiscal year that begins July 1, Eisenhower estimated record revenues of 84 billion dollars. He called for spending of $79,816,000,000.

This would produce the biggest surplus in 13 years—a margin of black ink which the President said should be used to reduce the record national debt of 292 billion dollars. He said a debt cut would counter inflation and spur savings needed to stimulate new economic growth.

Eisenhower said the projected spending level will permit small increases in both the military and foreign aid budgets, a major step-up in space exploration and record outlays for water projects.

Although allotting 50 million dollars more for defense, the budget proposes small cuts in purchases of missiles and ships and a big reduction in aircraft purchases.

Cuts in non-military programs generally were small and scattered.

Eisenhower asserted that if the fiscal blueprint can be translated into reality, the president and Congress to be elected in November will have an opportunity to cut taxes, assuming prosperity continues.

"Soundly conceived tax revision can then be approached on a comprehensive and orderly basis, rather than by haphazard piecemeal changes," he added.

Eisenhower did not say specifically that a tax cut should be considered in 1961. He merely pointed to this as a possibility during the two-year tenure of the Congress that will convene next January.

He also commented the legislators might prefer debt reduction to tax reduction.

In addition to a big surplus in fiscal 1961, the President is counting on a 217-million-dollar surplus in the current bookkeeping year. For the 12 months which end June 30, he estimated revenues of $78,600,000,000 and spending of $78,383,000,000.

The 952-page budget contained no major surprises, particularly since Eisenhower revealed the principal figures 11 days ago in his State of the Union message.

Altogether, the document included 79 legislative proposals, these being the most important:

Stolen Car Demolished In Dive Down Hillside

A city's man auto, stolen Saturdan night or early Sunday, was demolished when it plunged over a steep embankment near Grimm's Bridge Sunday afternoon, police were told.

The 1955 Ford owned by Raymond Horner Jr., 1770 Dakota Ave., plunged down the 125-foot hill, St. Clair Township Constables John Jackson and Harry Skelton told police. The car was found at 5:35 p. m. yesterday, they said.

Horner reported his car missing from E. 2nd St. shortly after 1 a. m. yesterday. It had been parked at 7 p. m. Saturday, he said.

County Board Names Elliott As New Head

LISBON — Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers was elected president of the Columbiana County Board of Education at a reorganization meeting Saturday night, when a 1960 appropriation of $47,792 was adopted.

Elliott succeeds Ben Weingart of Leetonia. Mrs. Elizabeth Strabley of Salineville was named vice president.

The annual appropriation is over $4,000 larger than the 1959 appropriation of $43,588. Actual expenditures last year totaled $40,360.

The state will provide $23,710 of the 1960 budget and the county will furnish $20,470. A sum of $3,612 remained from the 1959 appropriation.

Supt. James L. McBride said he hopes to be able to add a guidance counsellor "and possibly a psychologist" to the county staff.

A $200 salary increase was granted Mrs. June Ingraham, county office secretary, making her annual pay $4,200. A $150 pay increase was authorized for Fred Lohman, attendance officer, for his 9 months work, making his salary $2,539 plus travel allowance.

In other action, the board officially adopted curriculum guides for the high schools and elementary grades as prepared by Mrs. Marilyn Solak, high school consultant, and Lorin Ruff, elementary consultant. The guides will be issued to each teacher in the county system.

Others may receive copies of the mimeographed guides for $2.50 each. The board authorized Supt. McBride and his staff to issue complimentary copies at their descretion.

The board continued the regular meeting dates for the third Tuesday of each month. The next meeting, however, will be Feb. 9 to enable Supt. McBride to attend a meeting of school administrators at Atlantic City, N. J.

Atty. Elliott administered the oath of office to Dan Furey of Hanoverton, elected in November to succeed George Wilkinson of Oakmont, who did not seek re-election.

McBride was authorized to purchase school supplies for 1960 and to schedule a joint meeting with local boards of education late in March or early in April.

McBride reported the county office telephone number has been changed to HArrison 4-7781 to avoid confusion with the number at the Courthouse.

Supt. McBride and his wife entertained board members and guests at their home after the meeting.

Ohio's Traffic Claims But 7

Traffic	7
Fires	0
Miscellaneous	2
Total	9

By The Associated Press

An almost unbelievable Sunday without a reported traffic fatality wrote a rare bright page in the weekly Ohio weekend accidental death log and left only nine persons killed in mishaps the 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday period just past.

The Associated Press tally showed seven deaths in traffic and two by gunfire over the 54-hour period. The total was a far cry from the 30 reported fatalities the previous weekend.

Highway patrolmen, looking over the blank Sunday list, expressed hope that the state's motorists will be just as cautious during the hazardous driving weather forecast for today. People killed on Monday are just as dead as those killed on the weekend.

The fatalities:

Friday Night

William M. Williams, 66, of Dover, struck by a car in Dover.

Saturday

Albert McGoogan, 59, of Youngstown, struck by a car while he walked along Ohio 625 just south of the Youngstown city limits.

William Rickard of near Middletown, when a gun he had in the trunk of his car accidentally discharged while he was getting some papers from the trunk.

Will J. Irwin, 63, of Olmstead Falls, of injuries sustained when his car ran into the rear of another in the Cleveland suburb of Brook Park.

Mario Palermini, 4, of near Columbus, struck by a car in front of his home.

Mrs. Ethel Lawson, 49, of Painesville, when her car hit a tree in Painesville.

James Landers, 45, address unknown, struck by a car as he was crossing a Columbus street.

Sgt. John Aumiller, 41, of Mason, W. Va., stationed with the 5th Missile Bn. at Felicity, when the car in which he was riding hit a culvert on Ohio 222 near Batavia.

Sunday

Simpson Henry Fairchild, 17, of Cincinnati, shot apparently accidentally in horseplay with a drinking companion.

There are about 80 million licensed automobile drivers in the United States.

Jury

David E. Randolph, 1100 Dresden Ave., theft of a car owned by Frank Yanico of Alliance R. D. 5.

John Dalton, 59, of Wheeling, obtaining narcotics illegally by using a false name.

Charles Cannell, 65, of New Waterford R. D. 1, driving while intoxicated.

Leroy George, 23, of Lisbon R. D. 1 and Roy L. Campbell, 31, of Lisbon R. D. 4, burglary of the Zeigler Tire Service near Hanoverton.

Frank Howard of East Liverpool, unlawful assault on Ronald Gerlach, a police officer, at Howard's tavern.

Walter R. Kline of Alliance, forgery of a $25 check at the Salem store of the Sears Roebuck Co.

Pleading guilty were:

Joseph Stuart Dick, 20, and David Anthony Yanni, 19, both of East Liverpool R.D., breaking and entering the S. & S. Motors, 640 Bradshaw Ave.

Gerald Edward Raffle, 23, of Salineville, theft of a station wagon belonging to John Margraf.

Roy F. Johnson Jr., 21, of Midland, breaking and entering Kelly's Park skating rink.

Daniel Morgan, 22, of Salineville R. D. 1, forgery with intent to defraud.

Ronald G. Carter, 25, of Berry, N. H., burglary at Joe's Place in Salem.

James B. Bagley, 22, of Lisbon R.D. 4 told Judge Buzzard he had no means to hire an attorney. Judge Buzzard appointed counsel. He will plead later.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average about 6 degrees below normal. Normal high 35 north to 40 south, normal low 20-24. Turning colder tonight and Tuesday and a little colder Wednesday with only minor day-to-day changes expected through Saturday. Precipitation will total about one-half inch in snow and snow flurries tonight and Tuesday and in northeast Wednesday. Little or no precipitation expected Thursday through Saturday.

Midland To Begin New Night Classes

Two Midland High School evening classes will begin tonight at 7, Principal William A. Walters said.

During recent registration there were enough applicants for the comptometer and women's physical education classes, he said. All classes offered need 20 except for the comptometer class, which requires 10.

Mrs. Myrel Melvin of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. will instruct on the comptometer and Miss Rhonda Moll, high school teacher, will lead the physical education class.

Classes are held Monday and Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p. m. for a 10-week period. About 38 completed classes offered last semester.

A representative of W&J College will speak to senior boys Thursday, Walters said.

School board members have been invited to attend a workshop meeting Thursday evening at Mt. Lebanon High School, sponsored by the Tri-State School Study Council.

A scientific center near Novosibirsk is being built to house the laboratory work of 60,000 scientists in Russia in the fields of nuclear physics and kinetics.

2-Car Mishap At Hanoverton Hurts 2 Men

A Kensington area motorist is in Salem Central Clinic today with injuries suffered when his car sideswiped another on Route 30 near Hanoverton and overturned Saturday.

Veryl Iden, 20, of Kensington R. D. 1 is in "fair" condition with back injuries, cuts of the hands and body bruises received when his car wrecked along Route 30, injuring a passenger, Ray Martin, 17, of East Rochester who was treated for a sprained ankle.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Iden, headed west, sideswiped a car driven by Cecil Barker, 24, of Salineville R. D. 1, who was driving east.

Iden then lost control of his car, and it veered from the highway, overturning. The mishap occurred about three miles east of Minerva at 10:30 p. m. Iden was charged with reckless operation.

Young Driver Escapes In Cumberland Mishap

A young Weirton motorist escaped injury when his auto crashed into an embankment near New Cumberland Sunday night at 11:15, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported.

William Adams, 23, said he lost control of his car when the brakes failed as he was coming to a halt for the intersection of State Route 2 and Route 66.

Deputies said Adams' 1954 sedan crossed the intersection and slammed into an embankment.

Adams, cited for reckless driving, is scheduled for a hearing tonight at 7:30 before Mayor Albert (Jakie) Fuccy of New Cumberland.

Selection Eyed In Firemen's Post

Appointment of a man to fill a vacancy on the fire department will be made within a few days, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said today.

However, the mayor said he wants to confer with the Firemen's Pension Board before making the appointment to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of James Reed.

Meanwhile, Mayor Goodballet said the heads of all city departments under Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver have been instructed to clear all purchases through the director's office.

In cases of emergency, the department heads will continue to make the purchases, the mayor explained.

Woman's Purse Taken, Discarded By Thieves

Two boys fled from the Bus Terminal Saturday night with a woman's purse but discarded it in a nearby parking lot, police were told.

Mrs. Elsie Downard of Patton Pl. told officers she laid her purse down for a moment when the two boys grabbed it and fled.

The purse apparently was empty because no report of any missing money was made. It was found Saturday night in the Community Parking Lot, police said.

Ohio's Traffic Claims But 7

Traffic	7
Fires	0
Miscellaneous	2
Total	9

By The Associated Press

An almost unbelievable Sunday without a reported traffic fatality wrote a rare bright page in the weekly Ohio weekend accidental death log and left only nine persons killed in mishaps the 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Sunday period just past.

The Associated Press tally showed seven deaths in traffic and two by gunfire over the 54-hour period. The total was a far cry from the 30 reported fatalities the previous weekend.

Highway patrolmen, looking over the blank Sunday list, expressed hope that the state's motorists will be just as cautious during the hazardous driving weather forecast for today. People killed on Monday are just as dead as those killed on the weekend.

The fatalities:

Friday Night

William M. Williams, 66, of Dover, struck by a car in Dover.

Saturday

Albert McGoogan, 59, of Youngstown, struck by a car while he walked along Ohio 625 just south of the Youngstown city limits.

William Rickard of near Middletown, when a gun he had in the trunk of his car accidentally discharged while he was getting some papers from the trunk.

Will J. Irwin, 63, of Olmstead Falls, of injuries sustained when his car ran into the rear of another in the Cleveland suburb of Brook Park.

Mario Palermini, 4, of near Columbus, struck by a car in front of his home.

Mrs. Ethel Lawson, 49, of Painesville, when her car hit a tree in Painesville.

James Landers, 45, address unknown, struck by a car as he was crossing a Columbus street.

Sgt. John Aumiller, 41, of Mason, W. Va., stationed with the 5th Missile Bn. at Felicity, when the car in which he was riding hit a culvert on Ohio 222 near Batavia.

Sunday

Simpson Henry Fairchild, 17, of Cincinnati, shot apparently accidentally in horseplay with a drinking companion.

There are about 80 million licensed automobile drivers in the United States.

John Dalton, 59, of Wheeling, obtaining narcotics illegally by using a false name.

Charles Cannell, 65, of New Waterford R. D. 1, driving while intoxicated.

Leroy George, 23, of Lisbon R. D. 1 and Roy L. Campbell, 31, of Lisbon R. D. 4, burglary of the Zeigler Tire Service near Hanoverton.

Frank Howard of East Liverpool, unlawful assault on Ronald Gerlach, a police officer, at Howard's tavern.

Walter R. Kline of Alliance, forgery of a $25 check at the Salem store of the Sears Roebuck Co.

Pleading guilty were:

Joseph Stuart Dick, 20, and David Anthony Yanni, 19, both of East Liverpool R.D., breaking and entering the S. & S. Motors, 640 Bradshaw Ave.

Gerald Edward Raffle, 23, of Salineville, theft of a station wagon belonging to John Margraf.

Roy F. Johnson Jr., 21, of Midland, breaking and entering Kelly's Park skating rink.

Daniel Morgan, 22, of Salineville R. D. 1, forgery with intent to defraud.

Ronald G. Carter, 25, of Berry, N. H., burglary at Joe's Place in Salem.

James B. Bagley, 22, of Lisbon R.D. 4 told Judge Buzzard he had no means to hire an attorney. Judge Buzzard appointed counsel. He will plead later.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average about 6 degrees below normal. Normal high 35 north to 40 south, normal low 20-24. Turning colder tonight and Tuesday and a little colder Wednesday with only minor day-to-day changes expected through Saturday. Precipitation will total about one-half inch in snow and snow flurries tonight and Tuesday and in northeast Wednesday. Little or no precipitation expected Thursday through Saturday.

Midland To Begin New Night Classes

Two Midland High School evening classes will begin tonight at 7, Principal William A. Walters said.

During recent registration there were enough applicants for the comptometer and women's physical education classes, he said. All classes offered need 20 except for the comptometer class, which requires 10.

Mrs. Myrel Melvin of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. will instruct on the comptometer and Miss Rhonda Moll, high school teacher, will lead the physical education class.

Classes are held Monday and Wednesdays from 7 to 9 p. m. for a 10-week period. About 38 completed classes offered last semester.

A representative of W&J College will speak to senior boys Thursday, Walters said.

School board members have been invited to attend a workshop meeting Thursday evening at Mt. Lebanon High School, sponsored by the Tri-State School Study Council.

A scientific center near Novosibirsk is being built to house the laboratory work of 60,000 scientists in Russia in the fields of nuclear physics and kinetics.

2-Car Mishap At Hanoverton Hurts 2 Men

A Kensington area motorist is in Salem Central Clinic today with injuries suffered when his car sideswiped another on Route 30 near Hanoverton and overturned Saturday.

Veryl Iden, 20, of Kensington R. D. 1 is in "fair" condition with back injuries, cuts of the hands and body bruises received when his car wrecked along Route 30, injuring a passenger, Ray Martin, 17, of East Rochester who was treated for a sprained ankle.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Iden, headed west, sideswiped a car driven by Cecil Barker, 24, of Salineville R. D. 1, who was driving east.

Iden then lost control of his car, and it veered from the highway, overturning. The mishap occurred about three miles east of Minerva at 10:30 p. m. Iden was charged with reckless operation.

Young Driver Escapes In Cumberland Mishap

A young Weirton motorist escaped injury when his auto crashed into an embankment near New Cumberland Sunday night at 11:15, Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported.

William Adams, 23, said he lost control of his car when the brakes failed as he was coming to a halt for the intersection of State Route 2 and Route 66.

Deputies said Adams' 1954 sedan crossed the intersection and slammed into an embankment.

Adams, cited for reckless driving, is scheduled for a hearing tonight at 7:30 before Mayor Albert (Jakie) Fuccy of New Cumberland.

Selection Eyed In Firemen's Post

Appointment of a man to fill a vacancy on the fire department will be made within a few days, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet said today.

However, the mayor said he wants to confer with the Firemen's Pension Board before making the appointment to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of James Reed.

Meanwhile, Mayor Goodballet said the heads of all city departments under Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver have been instructed to clear all purchases through the director's office.

In cases of emergency, the department heads will continue to make the purchases, the mayor explained.

Woman's Purse Taken, Discarded By Thieves

Two boys fled from the Bus Terminal Saturday night with a woman's purse but discarded it in a nearby parking lot, police were told.

Mrs. Elsie Downard of Patton Pl. told officers she laid her purse down for a moment when the two boys grabbed it and fled.

The purse apparently was empty because no report of any missing money was made. It was found Saturday night in the Community Parking Lot, police said.

Everything You Read And Hear

There will be times when the floor of the U.S. Senate in the next few months will look like a scene from the 1960 Democratic convention. No one will be able to forget that all but one of the leading contenders for the party's presidential nomination are senators.

But elsewhere, it won't be so obvious that this is the year of a national election and that everything you read and everything you hear, if it's about politics—even this comment—is designed to influence your opinion.

Some of the influence will be as easy to spot as the local office-seeker who beams upon you after years of staring past you.

Some will be as subtle as the absence of information that might have the effect of irritating voters, such as a decision to postpone what would have looked like ostentation.

This is part of the process of popular government. There is nothing wrong about it. It needs to be kept under control only in aspects that become forms of corruption.

When too many streets are scheduled for fixing, too many highways for building, too many buildings for the beginning of construction, in an election year, it has been planned that way with votes in mind.

When pension checks are distributed prematurely, with a picture of your favorite candidate enclosed, that's too obvious to be condoned. When Harry Truman was running for the presidency in 1948 and told farmers they should show gratitude at the polls for the new storage bins his administration was giving them for surplus corn and wheat, his bluntness became the all-time example of the use of the people's money to influence partisan opinion.

The voter must make a choice, as always. He must reserve the right to agree and disagree with those trying to influence his judgment. But to make the choice intelligently, he first must know when his judgment is being influenced.

He must know the difference between a whole truth and a half truth. He must be able to spot a political gimmick and analyze it. He must hold his opinions dearly and not sell his favor cheaply.

The history of national elections is full of minds made upon the basis of slurs and rumors and of promises that could not have been kept even if made sincerely.

History is crowded with criss-crossed trails left by red herrings dragged by journeymen office-seekers who sometimes actually pretended to be on anti-red-herring patrols.

These things will be done again, some of them in 1960. No one will try to stop them, and they couldn't be stopped anyway. They are part of popular government.

But there is deep gratification for the individual who learns the difference between basic and false issues that have been created to conceal basic issues. Only then can a citizen of the United States claim he has qualified as one of Abe Lincoln's knowledgeable countrymen who can't be fooled all the time.

Nixon, Mitchell And An Encore

When Democratic spear-throwers cocked their arms for an assassination attempt on Vice President Nixon after he had been credited with a major share in the steel settlement, they did not take into account the probability he would be a moving target.

The young vice president has been in politics too long to make any obvious mistakes, and the most obvious one he could have made after the steel settlement was to lie on his laurels while his opponents closed in.

It is interesting, therefore, to note these subsequent moves that have not been reported in headlines because attention has shifted from the problems of the steel industry to other matters.

1. President Eisenhower has repeated in his state-of-the-union message what he had said before—that he intends to take seriously AFL-CIO president George Meany's proposal for a series of harmony meetings between management and labor.

2. The harmony meetings will be under the personal direction of Secretary of Labor Mitchell, who shared with Vice President Nixon the main credit for winding up the steel negotiations. Secretary Mitchell is working at them seriously.

3. Both Mr. Eisenhower and his secretary of commerce, Frederick H. Mueller, have said in recent days that whatever inflation may be implicit in the steel settlement could be removed if management and labor in the steel industry would work together to step up their production efficiency faster than the increase in production costs written into the new contracts.

4. On the night of Jan. 11, two guests for dinner arrived at the home of Vice President and Mrs. Nixon—the same place where some of the key parleys in the showdown on the steel deadlock were held, with Mrs. Nixon making coffee for the negotiators when their talks lasted past midnight. One of the guests was David J. McDonald, president of United Steelworkers. The other was Roger M. Blough, chairman of the board of U.S. Steel Corp.

One of the most widely discussed possibilities in national politics is a break this year in the almost solid front of organized labor's support of the Democratic party. One of the most intriguing possibilities that might come out of this would be a campaign team of Richard M. Nixon and James P. Mitchell, sharing as candidates for the presidency and vice presidency, respectively, the common identity of Republicans who earned the confidence of unionism by producing harmony between management and labor in the steel industry.

Vice President Nixon is a proud man. He is skilled in politics. It takes no wild stretch of the imagination in 1960 to see that the most baffling thing he could do to his political opponents as front runner for a presidential nomination would be to emerge from the great steel strike of 1959 with the confidence of both management and labor.

Past And Present

The Lotus Ware exhibit at the Ohio State Museum in Columbus has created quite a sensation.

From all sides has come praise for the exquisite china pieces introduced years ago by the former Knowles, Taylor and Knowles pottery of East Liverpool.

Fern Sharp, writing in The Columbus Dispatch, had this to say among other nice things about the display: "Ohioans' ego should shoot to a new high when they view the exhibit of 100 or more pieces of Lotus Ware now on display at the Ohio State Museum. . .

"Lighting, arrangements of shelving and cases, acoustics and natural wood decor all play up to starring the exhibit and Lotus Ware is a gem of an exhibit to play up to. . ."

Her words, along with the others, are a fitting tribute to the craftsmen of the past who gave the world outstanding pottery over the years and should serve as an inspiration for those still diligently turning out the best in modern design.

Economy Neckwear

By Frank Tripp

Man thinks he's a clever inventive genius; yet for 19 centuries he pulled his shirt over his head. Not until 1900 did it occur to him that a shirt could have buttons down the front and be put on like a coat.

As late as the turn of the century he still was wearing what amounted to a bag with a collar band at the top; starched dickies without sleeves or tails, just white tombstone slabs to cover frontal nakedness; separate cuffs hitched to his coat sleeves — and paper collars. Yes sir, paper collars and celluloid ones too.

Contemporary women's collars were high with whalebone stays well up to their ears, or chokers of velvet which looked like a label around a catsup bottle.

PAPER COLLARS had varied shapes. There was the turndown and there was the standup, which really stood up high, till perspiration wilted it into a blotter. "Blotter" was what the sneerers called the paper collar.

Wise devottees of the economical neckwear always carried a spare or two on important occasions. They only cost a couple of cents, the common ones, but you could get sporty and pay as much as a nickel for a better kind.

When you got that extravagant you were faced by a thrift problem. Whether to buy linen collars, two for a quarter, which laundries refreshed for two cents each, or wear blotters and discard them.

Even some fastidious men of means secretly wore paper collars. There were types so well conceived that it took the close scrutiny of a female head upon a male shoulder to detect them.

Then came the celluloid collar: as if it wasn't economy enough to wear a two - cent collar for a week and throw it away.

The celluloid improvement caught my fancy when I was a reporter. Poor as I was, I never wore paper collars, but I did fall hook, line and sinker for its celluloid competitor.

THESE WE thought a bit expensive, two bits (that's a quarter) apiece, but they were touted to be indestructible and everlasting. With such prospect I invested in two of different shapes and confidently expected to be buried in one of them at a ripe old age.

Until I learned their shortcomings, celluloid collars made my frugal newspaper life one of extreme joy and abandon, sartorially speaking.

You not only could wash a celluloid collar with a damp cloth, but you could do so without taking it off your neck. In fact you could wash your collar and your neck at the same time, if careful not to leave a watermark, such as pester housewives on bath tubs.

Alas, how great expectations end in disappointment. After a few weeks of this heavenly bliss my celluloid collars began to smell.

The warmth, of which I then had plenty, released an unadvertised smell that the makers put into the trick neckwear; sort of ammonia-like and mildly suggestive of a horse paddock.

Disillusionment, and return to cloth collars, came when a yellowish brown developed around the top edge of my new collars. Though it matched the meerschaum pipe I was coloring, my 50 cents worth of everlasting chokers went into the ash can.

I'd be the last to suggest a return to paper collars. But here is a challenge for the birds who play with plastics — if they can harness the aroma.

The sharpness of one's hearing, according to recent findings depends upon the time of day. The average person's hearing is keenest at about seven a. m., and dullest at about one p. m. After a meal, or after a good amount of heavy exercise, one's hearing efficiency usually declines.

The term "widow's peak," as applied to a person's hair that grows to a point on the forehead, originated from a type of headdress worn by widows in medieval Europe, a cap that came to a point on the forehead.

Any Less Formidable?

Joe Louis Enters Labor Ring

By Victor Riesel

Joe Louis, on whose head once rested the world's heavyweight crown, has just climbed into a new ring. This time he'll work without gloves.

Victor Riesel

He's now a labor leader. He has a union of his own—which could give many other labor leaders some hard jolts and not a few headaches.

Big Joe be- ABCDEFGHIJKL came organizing director of the California Bartenders, Barbers ad Culinary Workers last Dec. 10. When I tried to reach him there the other day, he was out in the field signing up folks — his folks.

The union — an independent one not chartered by any AFL-CIO international — is seeking Negro and Mexican, workers.

At union headquarters in Los Angeles, 2618 Southwestern, I was told that Joe Louis was moving among the hotels, restaurants and bars, personally recruiting members. There are thousands of them—potentially. For there are few in the standard unions there.

A CHECK REVEALS that the AFL-CIO Waiters have some 500 to 600 Negro members; the Bartenders have 20 colored duespayers; the Waitresses probably fewer and the Cooks, none.

The remainder are on the outside and Joe's independent union wants them in. Working with the ex-fighter are some seven other officials — headed by their president, Adams MacBeth — who now claim 1,500 members.

Joe's jurisdiction is all of California. Soon the idea may roll eastward.

It all began in San Francisco some months ago when someone started counting noses in the culinary field. They found that there are AFL-CIO Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union locals across country which have no Negroes or mighty few. There are a large number of Negro workers in the trade.

Also, they found that the national union has but one Negro national officer — and he represents colored railroad dining car workers.

So the handful of Negro leaders set up a culinary outfit. They decided to operate out of sprawling Los Angeles where they could tie in with the non-unionized Mexican workers.

JOE LOUIS came to their attention. He hadn't been doing much recently. He moved from one task to another.

Then Louis, by some strange coincidence, found himself in the federal courtroom where his friend, Jimmy Hoffa, was on trial.

Big Joe put his arm around little Jimmy and proclaimed his friendship.

Jim never forgot that, according to Robert Kennedy's soon-to-be published book, "The Enemy Within."

Kennedy reports: "Some time after the bribery trial, I had a telephone call from a major television performer who told me that Joe Louis, through Hoffa's arrangement, was on the payroll of Mercury Records (Chicago).

"Later, during our investigation of juke boxes, we went into the files of Mercury Records and found that Joe Louis had worked for them in 'public relations' for approximately seven months.

We also found that the major owner of the company had received a two-million-dollar loan through the Teamsters Union pension and welfare fund. Mercury executives denied to me that Jimmy Hoffa or the Teamsters applied any influence to get Joe Louis his job."

Joe apparently did not think of Bob Kennedy as one of his favorite people. The boxer not too long ago told the McClellan committee's ace prober, Walter Sheridan, to tell the chief counsel to "take a jump off the Empire State Building."

BOB KENNEDY didn't resent this. He says of Joe Louis that the ex-champ "has made great contributions to this country. And has been used again and again over the years by a long list of people he has encountered. Jimmy Hoffa simply joined that list."

For a while Joe Louis was a lonely man. Now he is unionizing his people. His massive figure could become a symbol to Negro workers — even to the 1½ million already in the big unions. They are restless. They could well flock to him.

If successful in California, he could weld the Negro workers into a powerful bloc inside labor. That would jolt the leadership as Joe's left hook used to jolt the boys in the ring.

World Wooing Mexico

By Daniel Berger

MEXICO CITY

This largely undeveloped nation of Mexico with its 33 million population is determined to pull itself up by its bootstraps — even if it has to buy the bootstraps from abroad.

Although the United States has been taking 75 to 80 per cent of Mexico's exports, and supplying most of its imports, there has been a sharp rise in Mexico's trade contacts with other countries.

Russians have been in Mexico in droves, so far failing to drum up much commerce. West German and Japanese trade missions have toured the country with greater success. French, British and other European companies operate in Mexico.

The economic recovery of western Europe and Japan has meant that these nations are beginning to compete with the united States in offering capital, plant equipment and technicians to Mexico.

Mexico wants these things and can afford to pay for some of them. The government of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos is encouraging foreign investment and credit and, in line with Mexican tradition, makes all business—public and private—its business.

PROTECTIVE TARIFFS keep luxury consumer money from leaving the country and force foreign, mostly U.S., companies to operate through Mexican subsidiaries, creating factories and jobs here.

General Electric, for instance, does not export refrigerators to Mexico but builds them in a plant in a suburb of Mexico City. The refrigerators are not the U.S. models but are resigned to use Mexico's available production techniques and tooling. The same is true of this firm's competitors.

There are also assembly plants here for U.S. automobiles. President Lope Mateos can decide how many automobiles will be assembled, as he has, and can also decide to lower the very high auto import duties on small cars only, which he has done to help relieve the Mexico City traffic snarl.

Fritz Gerg, head of a visiting West German trade mission, told Mexican business and government officials that German capitalists are able and willing to invest much more in Mexico. He grumbled, however, that Mexicans don't consume enough. Many Mexicans agree.

A LOWER CALIFORNIA businessman is sponsoring a group of Japanese fishing experts, complete with the most modern boats, to teach scientific techniques to the underdeveloped Mexican fishing industry. The Mexicans will keep the boats.

Adm. Manuel Sermeno Araico, secretary of the Mexican navy, has called the creation of a Mexican merchant marine an absolute necessity. He said the government has rehabilitation programs for the nation's 70 seaports, most of them insignificant ones.

Mexico is also beginning to push atomic research, spurred partly by the discovery of large uranium deposits.

President Lopez Mateos recently sent to Congress for rubber-stamping a record federal budget for 1960.

The government will spend more than 800 million dollars which is 70 million more than last year's.

Rural electrification and road building, both sorely needed, are being stressed. Also to be expanded are railways, school building, water works and other public works and welfare projects.

Was Eisenhower Right?

By James Marlow

Only Time Will Tell On Budget Figures

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower's budget, many months in preparation so it could be handed down to Congress today, is a good barometer of the extent of his wisdom in this new age.

Yet by studying the budget, no one can say with certainty at this moment whether Eisenhower is one of the wisest of our presidents or whether he was far out of date in his own lifetime and didn't understand his problems.

There are a couple of reasons:

1. More than a week ago he revealed the spending budget—his estimate of the cost of running the government another year—would be $79,800,000,000. It was a record for peactime. But it was far less than some of his critics think necessary.

Trouble is, his estimate and their complaint are both matters of opinion. It will be years before his ideas on spending can be proved right or wrong—and then only by the results as they show up.

2. Eisenhower took over the presidency as a new age was dawning — an age of missiles, space travel, competition with a surging Soviet economy, and a military competition with rockets undreamed of a few years ago.

It's because we are still in the infant years of this new age that no one can say for sure either that Eisenhower kept his balance or that he underestimated the national problem and the American needs in terms of spending.

In his 1952 presidential campaign Eisenhower criticized the Democrats for spending too much of the budget." He was in the Army all his life and may have had an oversimplified idea of government costs.

There was a drop in spending after the Korean war, briefly. Steadily, in the past five years the budget he offered Congress has been going up, although accompanied by a warning from him to keep spending down.

In other words, his budgets may have been setting peacetime records but each time he considered his figures a minimum necessity.

He can argue he tried to make good on his promise to trim the fat. But his critics complain that he cut bone and sinew, too, by not making provisions for a number of programs they think the nation needs for not spending on others, such as defense and government aid to education.

Earlier this month Leon Keyserling, who headed President Truman's Council of Economic Advisers, said the government next year should be spending about 10 billion dollars more than Eisenhower is calling for.

He urged further stepups to a total of 102 billion by 1964. His theory is that the expanding American economy requires that kind of thinking and that such spending would help the expansion.

All this happens at a time when Premier Nikita Khrushchev is confidently predicting that Soviet communism in sheer prosperity will sail past the American capitalist system in a few years.

Thus the economic competition with the Soviets, hardly a problem in the 1940s, is very real, is being watched by the rest of the world, and in the end may change history.

All this had to be in the minds of Eisenhower and his advisers when they decided $79,800,000,000 would see the United States through another year. Were they right? All the rest of us can do is wait and see.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

I finally have figured out where the catch is in measures to stop inflation. They are like measures to eliminate waste — something we prescribe for the other fellow and have no use for ourselves.

There is a kind of tumbleweed that grows in the countryside and starts to roll about in the winter wind this time of year. It collects in the outside stairway to our basement and comes through the door whenever it's opened. I never saw it or heard of it before living in Rosy Fingered Dawn.

Swagger sticks disappeared from the hands of Marine Corps officers in a hurry when the new No. 1 officer said they should be carried only if their bearers thought they needed them. This would be the way to rout a lot of annoying habits, including bullying.

The Soviet Union uses all kinds of gimmicks in the cold war, but it used logic for the first time when it staked out a rocket range in the Pacific. The United States, having done the same thing in the South Atlantic, had no logical grounds for protesting.

I find no instance anywhere of any inclination to stop short of the ultimate act in a series of acts to take advantage of the helplessness of the victims of a power rampage. Big business went the limit and was curbed by antitrust laws. Big unions will go the limit, too, forcing politicians to slap them down when the public loses patience.

The national debt of 291 billion dollars is costing 9 billion a year in interest, which is why the best way to save money for U.S. taxpayers would be to reduce the principal of my share of the debt, which is roughly $1,617.

One of the curious hangovers of my appetite memory is a craving during winter months for old-fashioned buckwheat cakes drowned in country butter and maple syrup — the kind of syrup your family used to buy in tin cans. It's curious because I never cared for this combination when it was a standard breakfast item in my youth.

I am sure the outcome of the presidential election will be determined in 1960 by the female vote and am wracking my brain to figure out a way I could clean up by finding out in advance what the girls are going to do if the race is between the two possibilities I think it will be between.

Catastrophes Show Drop

NEW YORK

Catastrophes—accidents in which five or more persons lost their lives—killed more than 1,400 persons in 1959, or about 150 fewer than in the preceding year, it is reported by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

The more favorable record for 1959 reflects the decreased number of fatal injuries in major catastrophes—accidents in which at least 25 people are killed—the statisticians point out. The loss of life in such catastrophes dropped from nearly 430 in 1958 to about 175 last year, an appreciably lower toll than in any year since 1941.

Four of the five major catastrophes in 1959 involved civil aviation. In February, a scheduled plane plunged into the East River at New York City, killing 65; another plane disintegrated in the air in a thunderstorm near Baltimore in May, taking 31 lives; in October a crash near Charlottesville, Va., killed 26; and 25 died when a scheduled plane rammed a mountain near Williamsport, Pa., on Dec. 1. The fifth major catastrophe was a series of earthquakes which took place on Aug. 17 in the area of West Yellowstone, Mont., claiming about 29 victims.

Motor vehicle accidents were responsible for about two-fifths of the lives lost in all catastrophes last year. Fires and explosions accounted for about one-fourth and civil aviation for somewhat less than one fifth of such deaths.

The remaining fatalities were very largely due to natural catastrophes and to accidents involving military aviation, water transporation and railroads.

The Wild Frontier

Formosa, the crowded stronghold of Nationalist China, is trying to tame its wild eastern frontier.

Some 10,000,000 people live on Formosa, a leaf-shaped island about the size of Maryland and Delaware. The birth rate is high. To provide more living and working space, the government is opening up a mountainous region that was once the domain of head-hunters.

The mist - wreathed peaks of the Central Range cover most of eastern Formosa, leaving only narrow plains and valleys. These pockets have been cut off from the populous western plains, but now a 190-mile-long highway is being hacked across the rugged mountain barrier to link the east and west coasts for the first time. A new port is being built at Hualien. New power stations, factories, and forts are rising.

Until recent times, Formosan aborigines regarded the hunting of heads as the highest form of human endeavor. If a dispute arose between two warriors, it was decided in favor of the first to take a head. An adolescent boy was not admitted into the company of men until he had won a trophy. Each village proudly displayed its collection of skulls.

Everything You Read And Hear

There will be times when the floor of the U.S. Senate in the next few months will look like a scene from the 1960 Democratic convention. No one will be able to forget that all but one of the leading contenders for the party's presidential nomination are senators.

But elsewhere, it won't be so obvious that this is the year of a national election and that everything you read and everything you hear, if it's about politics—even this comment—is designed to influence your opinion.

Some of the influence will be as easy to spot as the local office-seeker who beams upon you after years of staring past you.

Some will be as subtle as the absence of information that might have the effect of irritating voters, such as a decision to postpone what would have looked like ostentation.

This is part of the process of popular government. There is nothing wrong about it. It needs to be kept under control only in aspects that become forms of corruption.

When too many streets are scheduled for fixing, too many highways for building, too many buildings for the beginning of construction, in an election year, it has been planned that way with votes in mind.

When pension checks are distributed prematurely, with a picture of your favorite candidate enclosed, that's too obvious to be condoned. When Harry Truman was running for the presidency in 1948 and told farmers they should show gratitude at the polls for the new storage bins his administration was giving them for surplus corn and wheat, his bluntness became the all-time example of the use of the people's money to influence partisan opinion.

The voter must make a choice, as always. He must reserve the right to agree and disagree with those trying to influence his judgment. But to make the choice intelligently, he first must know when his judgment is being influenced.

He must know the difference between a whole truth and a half truth. He must be able to spot a political gimmick and analyze it. He must hold his opinions dearly and not sell his favor cheaply.

The history of national elections is full of minds made upon the basis of slurs and rumors and of promises that could not have been kept even if made sincerely.

History is crowded with criss-crossed trails left by red herrings dragged by journeymen office-seekers who sometimes actually pretended to be on anti-red-herring patrols.

These things will be done again, some of them in 1960. No one will try to stop them, and they couldn't be stopped anyway. They are part of popular government.

But there is deep gratification for the individual who learns the difference between basic and false issues that have been created to conceal basic issues. Only then can a citizen of the United States claim he has qualified as one of Abe Lincoln's knowledgeable countrymen who can't be fooled all the time.

Nixon, Mitchell And An Encore

When Democratic spear-throwers cocked their arms for an assassination attempt on Vice President Nixon after he had been credited with a major share in the steel settlement, they did not take into account the probability he would be a moving target.

The young vice president has been in politics too long to make any obvious mistakes, and the most obvious one he could have made after the steel settlement was to lie on his laurels while his opponents closed in.

It is interesting, therefore, to note these subsequent moves that have not been reported in headlines because attention has shifted from the problems of the steel industry to other matters.

1. President Eisenhower has repeated in his state-of-the-union message what he had said before—that he intends to take seriously AFL-CIO president George Meany's proposal for a series of harmony meetings between management and labor.

2. The harmony meetings will be under the personal direction of Secretary of Labor Mitchell, who shared with Vice President Nixon the main credit for winding up the steel negotiations. Secretary Mitchell is working at them seriously.

3. Both Mr. Eisenhower and his secretary of commerce, Frederick H. Mueller, have said in recent days that whatever inflation may be implicit in the steel settlement could be removed if management and labor in the steel industry would work together to step up their production efficiency faster than the increase in production costs written into the new contracts.

4. On the night of Jan. 11, two guests for dinner arrived at the home of Vice President and Mrs. Nixon—the same place where some of the key parleys in the showdown on the steel deadlock were held, with Mrs. Nixon making coffee for the negotiators when their talks lasted past midnight. One of the guests was David J. McDonald, president of United Steelworkers. The other was Roger M. Blough, chairman of the board of U.S. Steel Corp.

One of the most widely discussed possibilities in national politics is a break this year in the almost solid front of organized labor's support of the Democratic party. One of the most intriguing possibilities that might come out of this would be a campaign team of Richard M. Nixon and James P. Mitchell, sharing as candidates for the presidency and vice presidency, respectively, the common identity of Republicans who earned the confidence of unionism by producing harmony between management and labor in the steel industry.

Vice President Nixon is a proud man. He is skilled in politics. It takes no wild stretch of the imagination in 1960 to see that the most baffling thing he could do to his political opponents as front runner for a presidential nomination would be to emerge from the great steel strike of 1959 with the confidence of both management and labor.

Past And Present

The Lotus Ware exhibit at the Ohio State Museum in Columbus has created quite a sensation.

From all sides has come praise for the exquisite china pieces introduced years ago by the former Knowles, Taylor and Knowles pottery of East Liverpool.

Fern Sharp, writing in The Columbus Dispatch, had this to say among other nice things about the display: "Ohioans' ego should shoot to a new high when they view the exhibit of 100 or more pieces of Lotus Ware now on display at the Ohio State Museum. . .

"Lighting, arrangements of shelving and cases, acoustics and natural wood decor all play up to starring the exhibit and Lotus Ware is a gem of an exhibit to play up to. . ."

Her words, along with the others, are a fitting tribute to the craftsmen of the past who gave the world outstanding pottery over the years and should serve as an inspiration for those still diligently turning out the best in modern design.

Economy Neckwear

By Frank Tripp

Man thinks he's a clever inventive genius; yet for 19 centuries he pulled his shirt over his head. Not until 1900 did it occur to him that a shirt could have buttons down the front and be put on like a coat.

As late as the turn of the century he still was wearing what amounted to a bag with a collar band at the top; starched dickies without sleeves or tails, just white tombstone slabs to cover frontal nakedness; separate cuffs hitched to his coat sleeves — and paper collars. Yes sir, paper collars and celluloid ones too.

Contemporary women's collars were high with whalebone stays well up to their ears, or chokers of velvet which looked like a label around a catsup bottle.

PAPER COLLARS had varied shapes. There was the turndown and there was the standup, which really stood up high, till perspiration wilted it into a blotter. "Blotter" was what the sneerers called the paper collar.

Wise devottees of the economical neckwear always carried a spare or two on important occasions. They only cost a couple of cents, the common ones, but you could get sporty and pay as much as a nickel for a better kind.

When you got that extravagant you were faced by a thrift problem. Whether to buy linen collars, two for a quarter, which laundries refreshed for two cents each, or wear blotters and discard them.

Even some fastidious men of means secretly wore paper collars. There were types so well conceived that it took the close scrutiny of a female head upon a male shoulder to detect them.

Then came the celluloid collar; as if it wasn't economy enough to wear a two - cent collar for a week and throw it away.

The celluloid improvement caught my fancy when I was a reporter. Poor as I was, I never wore paper collars, but I did fall hook, line and sinker for its celluloid competitor.

THESE WE thought a bit expensive, two bits (that's a quarter) apiece, but they were touted to be indestructible and everlasting. With such prospect I invested in two of different shapes and confidently expected to be buried in one of them at a ripe old age.

Until I learned their shortcomings, celluloid collars made my frugal newspaper life one of extreme joy and abandon, sartorially speaking.

You not only could wash a celluloid collar with a damp cloth, but you could do so without taking it off your neck. In fact you could wash your collar and your neck at the same time, if careful not to leave a watermark, such as pester housewives on bath tubs.

Alas, how great expectations end in disappointment. After a few weeks of this heavenly bliss my celluloid collars began to smell.

The warmth, of which I then had plenty, released an unadvertised smell that the makers put into the trick neckwear; sort of ammonia-like and mildly suggestive of a horse paddock.

Disillusionment, and return to cloth collars, came when a yellowish brown developed around the top edge of my new collars. Though it matched the meerschaum pipe I was coloring, my 50 cents worth of everlasting chokers went into the ash can.

I'd be the last to suggest a return to paper collars. But here is a challenge for the birds who play with plastics — if they can harness the aroma.

The sharpness of one's hearing, according to recent findings depends upon the time of day. The average person's hearing is keenest at about seven a. m., and dullest at about one p. m. After a meal, or after a good amount of heavy exercise, one's hearing efficiency usually declines.

The term "widow's peak," as applied to a person's hair that grows to a point on the forehead, originated from a type of headdress worn by widows in medieval Europe, a cap that came to a point on the forehead.

Any Less Formidable?

Joe Louis Enters Labor Ring

By Victor Riesel

Joe Louis, on whose head once rested the world's heavyweight crown, has just climbed into a new ring. This time he'll work without gloves.

Victor Riesel

He's now a labor leader. He has a union of his own—which could give many other labor leaders some hard jolts and not a few headaches.

Big Joe be-ABCDEFGHIJKL came organizing director of the California Bartenders, Barbers ad Culinary Workers last Dec. 10. When I tried to reach him there the other day, he was out in the field signing up folks — his folks.

The union — an independent one not chartered by any AFL-CIO international — is seeking Negro and Mexican, workers.

At union headquarters in Los Angeles, 2618 Southwestern, I was told that Joe Louis was moving among the hotels, restaurants and bars, personally recruiting members. There are thousands of them—potentially. For there are few in the standard unions there.

A CHECK REVEALS that the AFL-CIO Waiters have some 500 to 600 Negro members; the Bartenders have 20 colored duespayers; the Waitresses probably fewer and the Cooks, none.

The remainder are on the outside and Joe's independent union wants them in. Working with the ex-fighter are some seven other officials — headed by their president, Adams MacBeth — who now claim 1,500 members.

Joe's jurisdiction is all of California. Soon the idea may roll eastward.

It all began in San Francisco some months ago when someone started counting noses in the culinary field. They found that there are AFL-CIO Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union locals across country which have no Negroes or mighty few. There are a large number of Negro workers in the trade.

Also, they found that the national union has but one Negro national officer — and he represents colored railroad dining car workers.

So the handful of Negro leaders set up a culinary outfit. They decided to operate out of sprawling Los Angeles where they could tie in with the non-unionized Mexican workers.

JOE LOUIS came to their attention. He hadn't been doing much recently. He moved from one task to another.

Then Louis, by some strange coincidence, found himself in the federal courtroom where his friend, Jimmy Hoffa, was on trial.

Big Joe put his arm around little Jimmy and proclaimed his friendship.

Jim never forgot that, according to Robert Kennedy's soon-to-be published book, "The Enemy Within."

Kennedy reports: "Some time after the bribery trial, I had a telephone call from a major television performer who told me that Joe Louis, through Hoffa's arrangement, was on the payroll of Mercury Records (Chicago).

"Later, during our investigation of juke boxes, we went into the files of Mercury Records and found that Joe Louis had worked for them in 'public relations' for approximately seven months.

We also found that the major owner of the company had received a two-million-dollar loan through the Teamsters Union pension and welfare fund. Mercury executives denied to me that Jimmy Hoffa or the Teamsters applied any influence to get Joe Louis his job."

Joe apparently did not think of Bob Kennedy as one of his favorite people. The boxer not too long ago told the McClellan committee's ace prober, Walter Sheridan, to tell the chief counsel to "take a jump off the Empire State Building."

BOB KENNEDY didn't resent this. He says of Joe Louis that the ex-champ "has made great contributions to this country. And has been used again and again over the years by a long list of people he has encountered. Jimmy Hoffa simply joined that list."

For a while Joe Louis was a lonely man. Now he is unionizing his people. His massive figure could become a symbol to Negro workers — even to the 1½ million already in the big unions. They are restless. They could well flock to him.

If successful in California, he could weld the Negro workers into a powerful bloc inside labor. That would jolt the leadership as Joe's left hook used to jolt the boys in the ring.

World Wooing Mexico

By Daniel Berger

MEXICO CITY

This largely undeveloped nation of Mexico with its 33 million population is determined to pull itself up by its bootstraps — even if it has to buy the bootstraps from abroad.

Although the United States has been taking 75 to 80 per cent of Mexico's exports, and supplying most of its imports, there has been a sharp rise in Mexico's trade contacts with other countries.

Russians have been in Mexico in droves, so far failing to drum up much commerce. West German and Japanese trade missions have toured the country with greater success. French, British and other European companies operate in Mexico.

The economic recovery of western Europe and Japan has meant that these nations are beginning to compete with the united States in offering capital, plant equipment and technicians to Mexico.

Mexico wants these things and can afford to pay for some of them. The government of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos is encouraging foreign investment and credit and, in line with Mexican tradition, makes all business—public and private—its business.

PROTECTIVE TARIFFS keep luxury consumer money from leaving the country and force foreign, mostly U.S., companies to operate through Mexican subsidiaries, creating factories and jobs here.

General Electric, for instance, does not export refrigerators to Mexico but builds them in a plant in a suburb of Mexico City. The refrigerators are not the U.S. models but are resigned to use Mexico's available production techniques and tooling. The same is true of this firm's competitors.

There are also assembly plants here for U.S. automobiles. President Lope Mateos can decide how many automobiles will be assembled, as he has, and can also decide to lower the very high auto import duties on small cars only, which he has done to help relieve the Mexico City traffic snarl.

Fritz Gerg, head of a visiting West German trade mission, told Mexican business and government officials that German capitalists are able and willing to invest much more in Mexico. He grumbled, however, that Mexicans don't consume enough. Many Mexicans agree.

A LOWER CALIFORNIA businessman is sponsoring a group of Japanese fishing experts, complete with the most modern boats, to teach scientific techniques to the underdeveloped Mexican fishing industry. The Mexicans will keep the boats.

Adm. Manuel Sermeno Araico, secretary of the Mexican navy, has called the creation of a Mexican merchant marine an absolute necessity. He said the government has rehabilitation programs for the nation's 70 seaports, most of them insignificant ones.

Mexico is also beginning to push atomic research, spurred partly by the discovery of large uranium deposits.

President Lopez Mateos recently sent to Congress for rubber-stamping a record federal budget for 1960.

The government will spend more than 800 million dollars which is 70 million more than last year's.

Rural electrification and road building, both sorely needed, are being stressed. Also to be expanded are railways, school building, water works and other public works and welfare projects.

Was Eisenhower Right?

By James Marlow

Only Time Will Tell On Budget Figures

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower's budget, many months in preparation so it could be handed down to Congress today, is a good barometer of the extent of his wisdom in this new age.

Yet by studying the budget, no one can say with certainty at this moment whether Eisenhower is one of the wisest of our presidents or whether he was far out of date in his own lifetime and didn't understand his problems.

There are a couple of reasons:

1. More than a week ago he revealed the spending budget—his estimate of the cost of running the government another year—would be $79,800,000,000. It was a record for peactime. But it was far less than some of his critics think necessary.

Trouble is, his estimate and their complaint are both matters of opinion. It will be years before his ideas on spending can be proved right or wrong—and then only by the results as they show up.

2. Eisenhower took over the presidency as a new age was dawning — an age of missiles, space travel, competition with a surging Soviet economy, and a military competition with rockets undreamed of a few years ago.

It's because we are still in the infant years of this new age that no one can say for sure either that Eisenhower kept his balance or that he underestimated the national problem and the American needs in terms of spending.

In his 1952 presidential campaign Eisenhower criticized the Democrats for spending too much of the budget." He was in the Army all his life and may have had an oversimplified idea of government costs.

There was a drop in spending after the Korean war, briefly. Steadily, in the past five years the budget he offered Congress has been going up, although accompanied by a warning from him to keep spending down.

In other words, his budgets may have been setting peacetime records but each time he considered his figures a minimum necessity.

He can argue he tried to make good on his promise to trim the fat. But his critics complain that he cut bone and sinew, too, by not making provisions for a number of programs they think the nation needs for not spending on others, such as defense and government aid to education.

Earlier this month Leon Keyserling, who headed President Truman's Council of Economic Advisers, said the government next year should be spending about 10 billion dollars more than Eisenhower is calling for.

He urged further stepups to a total of 102 billion by 1964. His theory is that the expanding American economy requires that kind of thinking and that such spending would help the expansion.

All this happens at a time when Premier Nikita Khrushchev is confidently predicting that Soviet communism in sheer prosperity will sail past the American capitalist system in a few years.

Thus the economic competition with the Soviets, hardly a problem in the 1940s, is very real, is being watched by the rest of the world, and in the end may change history.

All this had to be in the minds of Eisenhower and his advisers when they decided $79,800,000,000 would see the United States through another year. Were they right? All the rest of us can do is wait and see.

Thieves Take $25 In Bakery

Thieves made off with approximately $25 in change from a downtown bakery over the weekend, but rust foiled an attempt to enter a restaurant, police reported.

Joseph Smith and James Smith, operators of Smith's Bakery, 605 St. Clair Ave., discovered the theft at 4:30 a. m. today.

The theft occurred between noon Sunday and this morning, they said, with entrances being gained by breaking a window on the north side of the building.

An attempt was made to enter the Bus Terminal restaurant Sunday but the thief was foiled because rust allowed the window to be opened only a few inches, police said.

Police said the attempt was discovered at 6 p. m. yesterday but may have occurred after 4 a. m. Police said the thief had lifted a grating from above a basement window and broke out a 10-x-16-inch window and then released the inside latch.

The window was pulled out 1 or 2 inches, police said, but rust prevented it from being opened further.

The home of Meyer Reich, 762 Woodlawn Ave., was ransacked sometime between Jan. 2 and Saturday afternoon, police said, but apparently only a monkey wrench was taken. Entrance was gained by climbing through a cellar window and then prying open a cellar door to get upstairs, police were told.

More than 100 kinds of birds have become extinct in the world since 1869 when the last dodo died.

Rail Executive Dies

ROANOKE, Va (AP)—Col. William Jackson Jenks, 89, former president and chairman of the board of the Norfolk and Western Railway, died Sunday. He had been associated with the road for 50 years. He was born on a farm near Raleigh, N.C.

West Virginia Park Work Studied

CHARLESTON (AP)—West Virginia's legislators returned today after a weekend recess to begin the first full week of the 1960 session.

Floor sessions will continue to be brief for a few days yet, until bills start coming out of committee. There was little business to be transacted at today's 2 p. m. meetings of the Senate and House.

About a dozen senators visited state parks and forests during their weekend recess. They were gathering information on expansion and improvement needs and on the feasibility of undertaking park projects as recommended by Gov. Underwood to relieve unemployment and build up the tourist business.

WHILE THEY were gone, the governor made known details of the park development program he has recommended.

At a new conference Saturday, Underwood and Conservation Director Warden Lane proposed construction of four new parks at an estimated cost of $1,370,000 and outlined $5,175,000 worth of recommended projects at existing parks.

They estimated the $6,545,000 program would require 327,278 man-days of construction work.

The department is giving the breakdown of its plans bit by bit. Forests, game, water and reclamation each will be detailed separately.

New parks and the estimated costs would be:

Valley Falls, nine miles from Fairmont on the Tygart River in Marion County, $320,000.

Seneca Rocks in Pendleton County, $150,000.

Bluestone River Gorge in Mercer County, $400,000.

Organ Cave in Greenbrier County, $500,000.

The hoped for developments at these four:

Valley Falls would cost $320,000 and provide facilities for boating, swimming and picnics.

Seneca Rocks, $150,000 would have picnic facilities and hiking trails.

Bluestone River Gorge, $400,000, with riding and hiking trails.

Organ Cave, $500,000, a cavern for tourists with underground elevators and a system of trails, lights and the like.

—:—

SOME OF the immediate needs listed for existing parks:

Babcock, in Fayette County, $120,000 for a swimming pool and bathhouse; Blackwater Falls, $52,000 for various roads and $20,000 for an assistant superintendent's residence.

Bluestone, near Hinton, $60,000 for a swimming pool because of the coal silt in Bluestone River; Cacapon, near Berkeley Springs, $42,000 to blacktop roads.

Grandview, near Beckley, $95,000 to complete an ampitheater, $30,000 to pave a road, $20,000 for a superintendent's residence and $20,000 for a water system; Holly River in Webster County, $21,000 for a superintendent's residence.

Lost River in Hardy, $24,000 for a parking lot and road paving; North Bend in Ritchie, $120,000 for swimming facilities; Mont Chateau, near Morgantown, $35,000 for swimming facilities and $24,000 for a lodge sprinkler system.

$25,000 Requested For Hancock Project

Gov. Cecil H. Underwood has recommended $25,000 for a new concession building at Tomlinson Run State Park be included in appropriations for parks in West Virginia.

The Pughtown area park presently has a small concession stand in a boiler room near the swimming pool on State Route 2.

The park was inspected Friday by Sen. Herbert Traubert (D-Brooke) and Miss Callie Tsapis of Weirton, a member of the House of Delegates, who viewed several new cabins being erected. N. T. Holbrook is park supervisor.

DiSalle Turns Down Terms Of Miller On 'Favorite Son'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said today he would not give his favorite-son consent to Democratic national convention delegates from Ohio under terms demanded by Ray T. Miller Sr. of Cleveland, party chairman in Cuyahoga County.

DiSalle has announced that delegates pledged to him would agree to support Sen. John F. Kennedy until the Massachusetts senator is nominated for president or withdraws from the race.

The governor said Miller demanded that Ohio delegates go to the candidate designated by Kennedy if the senator should withdraw.

DiSalle asserted that Ohio delegates should be free to go to whatever candidate they choose in event Kennedy withdraws from contention for nomination.

Ohio will have 64 votes at the convention in Los Angeles July 11.

DiSalle previously rejected Miller's request for the right to select 13 of the 36 at-large delegates to be elected statewide in the May 3 primary. Each at-large delegate will have a half vote at the convention. Two delegates elected from each of Ohio's 23 congressional districts will have a full vote apiece. Cuyahoga county has four congressional districts.

The Cuyahoga County organization endorsed Kennedy last May. That was before the senator's announcement for president or DiSalle's favorite son commitment to him early this month.

After receiving DiSalle's pledge, Kennedy said he would not contest for delegates in the Ohio primary.

Miller's letter to DiSalle last Saturday said:

"Our pledge to Senator Kennedy is that we will stand with him until nominated and failing that, we pledge to follow him to whomsoever he may go for president or vice president.

"This pledge of long standing cannot now be changed because you now make a unilateral statement changing it. It could well be that Senator Kennedy would choose to go with you and if so, we would follow the senator's direction."

Miller's letter said delegates from his county could not agree to abide by DiSalle's direction once Kennedy is out of any nomination race. The assertion raised the possibility that Miller might field his own slate of delegate candidates in the primary.

DiSalle said Miller apparently had misunderstood the governor's position.

DiSalle's reply to Miller said: "Unless your delegates are free, first, to endorse my favorite-son candidacy as outlined in my statement of Jan. 5, and unless they are free to make their own decisions in the event that Senator Kennedy should withdraw, then I cannot in good conscience give my consent to their candidacy for delegate.

"This does not prevent their being candidates based on any other course of conduct that they should seem proper. . . ."

Ohio law requires delegate candidates to state their first and second choices for president and obtain their written consent. Such pleges are not legally binding, however.

DiSalle repeated that his statement early this month contained three major points. They were that he would be a favorite son committed to Kennedy, that he would stay with Kennedy until he won nomination or withdrew and that then Ohioans "would still be free as a solid delegation to support a person of their own choice."

The governor added to newsmen that there is no commitment for delegates to remain in a bloc if they desired to support different candidates after Kennedy.

Midwest Hit By Big Snow; 9 Known Dead

By The Associated Press

A blustery snowstorm swept into the Midwest today from the West, leaving a heavy blanket of white across areas from the eastern Colorado plains to the Mississippi Valley.

The storm, which dumped up to a foot of snow in parts of Colorado, curtailed travel, blocked roads and closed many schools. The Weather Bureau posted warnings of hazardous driving conditions.

The storm was blamed for at least nine deaths, eight of them in accidents on ice - slicked and snow - covered highways. Five were reported in Colorado and three in Illinois. One woman froze to death in Amarillo, Tex.

Heaviest snow during the night, two to four inches, was in southern Iowa and extreme northern Missouri. The fresh falls made a total four to eight inches on the ground. The snow moved into southern Wisconsin, lower Michigan, northern sections of Illinois and Indiana and headed northeastward.

Snow diminished westward from Iowa and Missouri, with light falls from Kansas into the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming and Colorado. Strong winds caused much drifting in some areas.

Strong northerly winds fanned cold Canadian air southward across the plains, with temperatures dropping in the Dakotas and Montana southward through Colorado and northern New Mexico and Arizona. It was below zero in some areas, with the mercury from near zero to about 10 in most of the snow-covered sections.

In Colorado, two main highways, U.S. 24 and U.S. 40, were blocked by huge drifts and many rural roads were blocked.

Up to nine inches of snow fell over the weekend in the Texas Panhandle. Ice slicked roads in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Church Fixes 1960's Budget

A 1960 budget totaling $75,000 was given unanimous approval Sunday morning at the annual corporational meeting of the congregation of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

The budget includes $66,000 for current expenses and $9,000 for benevolences. The current expenses include $26,195 for the church program; $2,710 for music; $12,090 for maintenance of property, $5,805 for general expenses and reserve and $19,200 for debt service.

The $9,000 for benevolences includes support of Foreign and National boards of the church, the American Bible Society, the National Council of Churches, Ohio Presbyterian Homes, Wooster College, parish relief and other items.

Four members were elected to the Board of Trustees for three-year terms and two were elected to fill unexpired terms.

Elected for four years are Harold J. Allison, Grandon E. Eckert Jr., Leonard R. Gamble and Winston A. Porter.

William H. Smith was elected for a two-year term to fill the unexpired tenure of Reed Campbell, who has moved to Allentown, Pa.

Elected for one-year term was Stanley W. Rose, succeeding Emil Liebschner Jr., who resigned.

The new trustees, who will be recognized at the ordination and installation service Sunday morning at 11, will assume their duties after Feb. 8.

The call was read by Mrs. Robert E. Weaver; president's report, James A. Locke Jr., vice president of the Board of Trustees, who presided at the meeting; report of the treasurer, Mrs. Weaver; presentation of the budget, James T. Fortiner, and report of the nominating committee, Donald R. Golden, chairman.

Fire Truck Put Up For Public Auction

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (AP)—The town is having a hard time getting rid of its 1937 model fire truck, which has been replaced by more modern apparatus.

A volunteer fire group said it didn't want the contraption. Now the truck is up for public auction.

Church Picks New Minister

The Rev. Robert Thomas of Princeton, W. Va., was called as pastor of the Chester Church of the Nazarene at a meeting of the congregation following Sunday morning worship.

The Rev. H. Harvey Hendershott, superintendent of the West Virginia District, conducted the meeting.

The new pastor is expected to assume his duties about Feb. 14, replacing the Rev. Lewis Legg, who will begin his duties as pastor of the Elk River Church of the Nazarene at Charleston Feb. 7.

Rev. Legg, who was ordained in 1955 at Summersville, W. Va., was pastor of the Chester Church for 9 years. He came from Beckley, W. Va.

During the time of his pastorate, a new church was built in Chester, which was appraised for $135,000. The project began in 1955 and was completed in 1956. The church seats about 500.

The membership was doubled during the 9-year period.

New Revenue Steps Sought In Ike Budget

million dollars a year. This was 150 million more than was requested, and refused, in 1959.

If Congress again bypasses higher rates, as seems likely, spending will be increased by a like amount since postal revenues are used to reduce the department's demands on the Treasury.

Boost the gas tax to 4½ cents a gallon until June 30, 1964, when the rate would revert to 3 cents. This would produce an extra 500 million a year to speed construction of superhighways—a program handled through a trust fund outside the budget.

Congress last year boosted the tax from 3 cents to 4 cents for a 21-month period beginning last October and is expected to resist the new request.

Increase the tax on aviation gasoline to 4½ cents a gallon, from 2 cents, and establish a new 4½ cent tax on jet fuels. These actions, also requested in 1959, would add 72 million dollars to revenues.

Eisenhower also asked that aviation taxes go into the general fund, instead of the highway trust fund.

Postpone a scheduled June 30 cut in corporation income and excise taxes. Unless this is done, Treasury revenues would drop at least 3½ billion dollars a year.

Increase the national debt ceiling temporarily. Eisenhower said the prospective surplus plus cash on hand will permit cutting the debt to 280 billion dollars by the end of fiscal 1961. However, he said seasonal borrowings next fall will make necessary a temporary increase in the ceiling.

The permanent ceiling is 285 billion dollars and a temporary lid of 295 billion expires June 30.

Remove the 4¼ per cent interest ceiling on money borrowed for more than 5 years. Eisenhower already has submitted a special message renewing this 1959 request but congressional Democrats have shown little enthusiasm.

Here are the spending plans Eisenhower blueprinted for major programs:

Defense outlays will inch upward by 50 million dollars to $40,995,000,000. Aircraft purchases will be cut by 642 million dollars to six billions. Missile procurement will drop by 21 millions to $3,479,000,000. Funds for the new ships will be seven millions lower at $1,644,000,000.

Money is requested to begin work on three new Polaris missile submarines and to buy some equipment for three more now in the planning stage. This brings to 15 the number of Polaris subs built or planned.

Also on the fiscal 1961 schedule is a new aircraft carrier, but without the nuclear power plant the Navy wanted.

Atomic energy programs will cost an estimated $2,689,000,000 — about the same as this year. A cut in uranium purchases will be offset by "substantial increases for research and development."

Space exploration outlays will be increased by 275 million dollars to 600 million.

Foreign aid spending is pegged at $3,450,000,000, a boost of 100 million. Military assistance represents $1,750,000,000 of the total. The rest is economic and technical aid. But his total request, for 1961 and future years, was $4,175,000,000, including two billion for military aid.

The Army Engineers and Bureau of Reclamation will spend a record $1,210,000,000 on flood control, navigation, irrigation and power projects. This is 116 million dollars more than this year and includes 18 millions to start work on 42 new projects.

Interest on the national debt is estimated at $9,585,000,000. Eisenhower said the 200-million-dollar increase over this year reflects rising interest rates which, he implied, will level off if the forecast surplus materializes.

Agricultural programs will cost an estimated $5,623,000,000, an increase of 510 millions, mostly for the price support programs. These and other farm price stabilization activities would account for 451 millions of the increase and $3,950,000,000 of the total.

Veterans services and benefits will increase by 314 millions to 15,471,000,000, because of higher pension rates voted last year and an increase in eligible veterans.

Labor and welfare spending will rise by 128 millions to $4,569,000,000. The largest increases are for medical research and hospital construction.

Commerce and housing is the only broad category to show a drop. Estimated spending is down by 293 millions to $2,709,000,000. However, the postal rate request of 544 million more than accounts for this.

Budget Represents $437 For Each Of Us

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's new spending budget comes to $437.74 for every man, woman and child in the country.

Though spending will be $1,400,000,000 higher than in this fiscal year, the increase per capita is only about 48 cents per person.

That's because the population will increase by almost the same percentage as federal outlays.

$6 Million Requested For 'Super Dam' Work

An appropriation of $6,180,000 to continue construction of the Stratton "super dam" was included in President Eisenhower's budget for flood control, navigation and reclamation work in the 12 months beginning July 1.

The president also requested $400,000 for an Ohio River basin review by the Army Corps of Engineers and $107,000 for a Great Lakes harbor survey.

Meanwhile, Rep. Wayne L. Hays said in a "progress report" that the project is 75 per cent complete. Work on the dam structure is 45 per cent complete, he added.

The overall cost of the work now is estimated at $40,500,000. Appropriations to date total $33,970,000, with construction scheduled to be completed in 1961.

These Are Figures Proposed By Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fiscal 1961 budget proposes—

Taxes: A ½ cent a gallon increase in gasoline tax. All other tax rates continued.

Postal: First - class postage boosted to 5 cents. Other unspecified increases.

Spending: Up $1,400,000,000,000 from this year, to $79,800,000,000. For defense, 41 billion dollars.

Income: Up $5,400,000,000 to 84 billion dollars, assuming record prosperity.

Surplus: About $4,200,000,000, all to be used to reduce the 292 billion national debt.

Where Dollar Goes, Where It Comes From

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here's where Uncle Sam's budget dollar goes in fiscal 1961:

National Security—37.1 cents.
Interest on debt—12 cents.
Veterans—6.9 cents.
Agriculture—7 cents.
All other—11.3 cents.

Here's where the budget dollar comes from:

Individual income tax—52 cents.
Corporation tax—28 cents.
Excise taxes—11 cents.
Other—9 cents.

Tribute Given Hero Of AEF

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet today paid tribute to the memory of the late George Watkin of Dresden Ave., who won the Distinguished Service Cross in World War I.

Services for Mr. Watkin, who died Thursday night after a brief illness, were to be held this afternoon at 2 at the Dawson Funeral Home.

"In the death of Mr. Watkin, East Liverpool lost a distinguished citizen; a man who fought valorously in World War I and received our nation's second highest military decoration," the mayor commented.

A sergeant in Co. D, 135th Machinegun Battalion, 37th Division, Mr. Watkin was awarded the DSC after he "distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an armed enemy of the United States at Cierges, France, on Sept. 27-28, 1918. . . ." according to the citation given him by Gen. John J. Pershing, commander of the American Expeditionary Forces.

The citation from Gen. Pershing was issued June 3, 1919, "in the name of the president."

Mr. Watkin received a second citation for the same decoration, issued Feb. 1, 1926, and signed by Secretary of War Dwight F. Daws and Robert C. Davis, Adjutant General of the United States. It says that the medal was conferred on Mr. Watkin by the President "pursuant to Act of Congress approved July 9, 1918, "for extraordinary heroism in military operations against an armed enemy of the United States."

New Revenue Steps Sought In Ike Budget

million dollars a year. This was 150 million more than was requested, and refused, in 1959.

If Congress again bypasses higher rates, as seems likely, spending will be increased by a like amount since postal revenues are used to reduce the department's demands on the Treasury.

Boost the gas tax to 4½ cents a gallon until June 30, 1964, when the rate would revert to 3 cents. This would produce an extra 500 million a year to speed construction of superhighways—a program handled through a trust fund outside the budget.

Congress last year boosted the tax from 3 cents to 4 cents for a 21-month period beginning last October and is expected to resist the new request.

Increase the tax on aviation gasoline to 4½ cents a gallon, from 2 cents, and establish a new 4½ cent tax on jet fuels. These actions, also requested in 1959, would add 72 million dollars to revenues.

Eisenhower also asked that aviation taxes go into the general fund, instead of the highway trust fund.

Postpone a scheduled June 30 cut in corporation income and excise taxes. Unless this is done, Treasury revenues would drop at least 3½ billion dollars a year.

Increase the national debt ceiling temporarily. Eisenhower said the prospective surplus plus cash on hand will permit cutting the debt to 280 billion dollars by the end of fiscal 1961. However, he said seasonal borrowings next fall will make necessary a temporary increase in the ceiling.

The permanent ceiling is 285 billion dollars and a temporary lid of 295 billion expires June 30.

Remove the 4¼ per cent interest ceiling on money borrowed for more than 5 years. Eisenhower already has submitted a special message renewing this 1959 request but congressional Democrats have shown little enthusiasm.

Here are the spending plans Eisenhower blueprinted for major programs:

Defense outlays will inch upward by 50 million dollars to $40,995,000,000. Aircraft purchases will be cut by 642 million dollars to six billions. Missile procurement will drop by 21 millions to $3,479,000,000. Funds for the new ships will be seven millions lower at $1,644,000,000.

Money is requested to begin work on three new Polaris missile submarines and to buy some equipment for three more now in the planning stage. This brings to 15 the number of Polaris subs built or planned.

Also on the fiscal 1961 schedule is a new aircraft carrier, but without the nuclear power plant the Navy wanted.

Atomic energy programs will cost an estimated $2,689,000,000 — about the same as this year. A cut in uranium purchases will be offset by "substantial increases for research and development."

Space exploration outlays will be increased by 275 million dollars to 600 million.

Foreign aid spending is pegged at $3,450,000,000, a boost of 100 million. Military assistance represents $1,750,000,000 of the total. The rest is economic and technical aid. But his total request, for 1961 and future years, was $4,175,000,000, including two billion for military aid.

The Army Engineers and Bureau of Reclamation will spend a record $1,210,000,000 on flood control, navigation, irrigation and power projects. This is 116 million dollars more than this year and includes 18 millions to start work on 42 new projects.

Interest on the national debt is estimated at $9,585,000,000. Eisenhower said the 200-million-dollar increase over this year reflects rising interest rates which, he implied, will level off if the forecast surplus materializes.

Agricultural programs will cost an estimated $5,623,000,000, an increase of 510 millions, mostly for the price support programs. These and other farm price stabilization activities would account for 451 millions of the increase and $3,950,000,000 of the total.

Veterans services and benefits will increase by 314 millions to 15,471,000,000, because of higher pension rates voted last year and an increase in eligible veterans.

Labor and welfare spending will rise by 128 millions to $4,569,000,000. The largest increases are for medical research and hospital construction.

Commerce and housing is the only broad category to show a drop. Estimated spending is down by 293 millions to $2,709,000,000. However, the postal rate request of 544 million more than accounts for this.

Budget Represents $437 For Each Of Us

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's new spending budget comes to $437.74 for every man, woman and child in the country.

Though spending will be $1,400,000,000 higher than in this fiscal year, the increase per capita is only about 48 cents per person.

That's because the population will increase by almost the same percentage as federal outlays.

$6 Million Requested For 'Super Dam' Work

An appropriation of $6,180,000 to continue construction of the Stratton "super dam" was included in President Eisenhower's budget for flood control, navigation and reclamation work in the 12 months beginning July 1.

The president also requested $400,000 for an Ohio River basin review by the Army Corps of Engineers and $107,000 for a Great Lakes harbor survey.

Meanwhile, Rep. Wayne L. Hays said in a "progress report" that the project is 75 per cent complete. Work on the dam structure is 45 per cent complete, he added.

The overall cost of the work now is estimated at $40,500,000. Appropriations to date total $33,970,000, with construction scheduled to be completed in 1961.

These Are Figures Proposed By Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fiscal 1961 budget proposes—

Taxes: A ½ cent a gallon increase in gasoline tax. All other tax rates continued.

Postal: First - class postage boosted to 5 cents. Other unspecified increases.

Spending: Up $1,400,000,000,000 from this year, to $79,800,000,000. For defense, 41 billion dollars.

Income: Up $5,400,000,000 to 84 billion dollars, assuming record prosperity.

Surplus: About $4,200,000,000, all to be used to reduce the 292 billion national debt.

Lt. J. W. DiStefano Takes Canton Girl For His Bride

White ribbons marked the family pews when Miss May Bumes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bumes of Canton, became the bride of Lt. Joseph William DiStefano son of Mr. and Mrs. William DiStefano, 420 Vine St., Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at St. Haralambo's Catholic Church of Canton.

Palms, ferns and candelabra formed the altar setting for the double-ring ceremony performed by Fr. Leon Pachis, pastor.

Miss Barbara Ergazos presented a half-hour of organ music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a full-length gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta. The Basque bodice was styled with a jewel-trimmed Sabrina neckline and long, tapered sleeves. Multiple tiers of scallop-edged lace ruffles detailed the skirt extending into a chapel-length train. A jewel-trimmed double-crown held her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Louis Fakelis was her sister's matron of honor and wore a gown of ice-blue chiffon over taffeta and a matching jeweled crown. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations tied with silver streamers.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Sam Cascio of Beaver, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Eleanor Meszaros of Scenery Hill, Pa., his cousin, and Miss Helen Bastounis.

Their costumes were identical to that of the matron of honor and they carried cascade bouquets of white carnations tied with white satin streamers.

Carolyn Fakelis, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Peter Ponos of Akron was the best man and ushers were Sam Cascio, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Donald Smith of East Liverpool and Roger Dent of Canton.

MRS. J. W. DiSTEFANO
She Was Miss Mary Bumes.

The mother of the bride wore a royal blue dress and the bridegroom's mother chose metallic winter white. Both wore white orchid corsages.

A reception was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall at Canton.

They are honeymooning at Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

The bride is a graduate of McKinley High School at Canton and Ohio University at Athens. She is an elementary teacher at Horace Mann School of Canton.

Her husband is a graduate of East Liverpool High School and the university. He will leave for Germany Feb. 2 and his bride will join him at the close of the school term in June.

Draws Record 23,928

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Mid-American Boat Show drew a crowd of 23,928 at Cleveland Auditorium Sunday, show manager Irving Gray reported. This was the largest single-day attendance in the three years the show has been held. The boat show continues through next Sunday.

Home Builders' Class Elects At LaCroft Church

Mrs. Echo Gilkinson was elected president at the meeting of the Home Builders Class of the LaCroft Church of the Nazarene Friday night at the parsonage recreation room. She succeeds Mrs. Clara Chapman.

Other officers include Bob Williams, vice president; Mrs. Verla Davis, secretary; Mrs. Eileen Purinton, assistant secretary; Mrs. Mary Jo Garren, treasurer, and Mrs. Jeanette Lawson, reporter.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Garren, who read poems, "The Divine King" and "Praise to God."

During business, the class decided to start a $25 Christmas savings. A discussion was held on ways to raise money for the treasury.

The group decided not to exchange secret pal names and not to print pamphlets listing officers and committees.

Lunch was served by a committee headed by Mrs. June Toland and Mrs. Maxine Lyle.

The next meeting will be Feb. 12 and the social committee will include Mrs. Chapman and Mrs. Gilkinson. Mrs. Viola Densmore and Mrs. Donna Miller will be in charge of entertainment. Mrs. Verla Davis will lead devotions.

New Board Chairman

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Brush Beryllum Co. today named Bengt R. F. Kjellgren board chairman. George S. Mikhalapov was named president—the post Kjellgren has held since 1948. C. Baldwin Sawyer, board chairman since 1946, becomes chairman of the board's executive committee.

Permissive Feeding Has Drawbacks

Some years ago when the practice of permissiveness with young children was launched on the advice of a few pediatricians, many mothers welcomed it as a grand and glorious way. Just take up baby when he cries, feed him when you think he's hungry, no more worries, many mothers supposed.

By Garry Meyers

This was then called "demand feeding". But in recent years, many of these mothers have become disillusioned. They have no time they can call their own. Some of their infants, turning days to nights, are demanding food many times around the clock, 24 hours a day; and a lot of these youngsters don't choose a schedule on their own account for months or years.

SO THE prophets of "demand feeding" wishing to remove the onus of this term, have invented a more acceptable one—"permissive feeding".

Gradually they have come to advise "permissive feeding" during the infants first few weeks, with the assurance that he will, with a little assistance by the mother, gradually adapt himself to a somewhat flexible schedule soon thereafter; and this plan seems to make some sense.

But mothers also have been led to suppose that if the infant hasn't time he is several months of age or older, there is nothing to worry about.

Along with the delightful release of the mother from worry over schedules for the child before he is 18 months or two years of age, has arisen another assurance:

Don't worry if he doesn't choose to eat a balanced diet. Just keep offering him what he should eat and, if he doesn't want some of it, give him something else he will like.

IF HE doesn't want any meat, give him substitutes in fish, cheese and the like to provide the necessary proteins. If he doesn't care for carrots, beets, lettuce, string beans, etc., substitute some other food on the assumption that in the long run he will choose a balanced diet.

What assurance have we that he is getting a balanced diet from substitutes? Isn't it reasonable to suppose that many children, two to five or older, are not getting an adequate diet though their hunger is satisfied with an overbalance of carbohydrates in the form of starches and sweets?

"I won't worry," the mother tells herself; "he's getting enough food and his weight is normal."

IF THE DOCTOR discovers his nutrition indicates he needs more vitamins, he can prescribe vitamin pills for this child.

Isn't it highly probable that thousands of mothers have been lulled into supposing all is well now and will be well later with the child who doesn't choose to eat some or many essential foods?

Much in need now is a study of a large number of children, two to five, to ascertain how many are choosing to eat necessary foods, especially vegetables. Might many pediatricians be kidding themselves about this problem?

More on this tomorrow.

My bulletins, "Eating Problems: Their Prevention and Solution" (I & II), may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Koppers To Construct New Unit At Follansbee

Koppers Co., of Pittsburgh has announced plans to construct a new de-sulfurization unit at its Follansbee tar-processing plant.

According to F. L. Byrom, vice president and general manager of the company's Tar Products Division, the plant will have a yearly capacity of 60 million pounds of virtually sulfur-free naphthalene. Koppers is a basic producer of both crude and refined naphthalene.

First major customer for the plant will be American Cyanamid Co., which will use the low-sulfur naphthalene for the production of phthalic anhydride in its fluid bed process at Bridgeville, Pa.

This will be Koppers first commercial plant — and perhaps the first in the world — to produce de-sulfurized naphthalene using a "pressure hydrogenation" process. Present schedules call for the plant to be completed and in operation by the end of 1960.

Cubs To Mark Scouting Week

Plans for the observance of Boy Scout week, beginning Feb. 7, were outlined when Cub Pack 7 met Friday night in the St. Aloysius School Auditorium. Ninteyfive attended.

During Scout Week, members of the pack will receive communion at Mass in St. Aloysius Catholic Church. The pack will display handicraft in a window at the D. M. Ogilvie & Co. store.

Plans were made to visit the sewage disposal and water filtration plants this month. Awards were presented to the following boys by Matthew Kuzmich, cubmaster:

Jeffry White, wolf badge; Gary Corns, two silver arrows for bear rank; Michael Dinsmore, William Danley, Vincent Capraruolo and Gene Gloeckner, denner stripes, and Lloyd Krumlauf and William Ward, one-year pins.

A perfect attendance pin was presented to William Ward for not missing a den or pack meeting for a year. The prayer and flag ceremony were led by Den 1. Inspection was held, with Eugene Seeley, district commissioner, and Frank Hancock, neighborhood commissioner, in charge.

The attendance award was won by Den 2, of which Mrs. Florence Gloeckner is den mother. Marvin Moore was introduced as a new committeeman by Al Gloeckner, pack chairman. The treasurer's report was given by Emanuel Volino.

A "pinewood derby" race for miniature cars followed the meeting. Winners, in the order in which they finished, were: Vincent Capraruolo, William Danley, David Burcham, Lloyd Krumlauf and Emanuel Volino.

Frank Pucci, assistant cubmaster, will be leader of the Webelos-Den. He spoke on the 50th anniversary award the cubs may earn.

Trial Now Turns To Miss Tregoff

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The name of pretty Carole Tregoff — accused of helping her wealthy doctor lover plot his wife's death—formally enters the Finch murder trial for the first time today.

First witnesses will be the managers of two apartment houses where the state contends Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, held trysts in the weeks just before Mrs. Finch was slain last July 18.

Until now the prosecution has concentrated on the crew-cut, tennis-playing doctor. The name of Miss Tregoff, Finch's red-haired mistress and former receptionist, has not been linked to the slaying.

The prosecution says it also will call a man later to testify that Miss Tregoff tried to hire him to kill 36-year-old Barbara Jean Finch.

Sometime today actor-producer Mark Stevens is expected to testify that Mrs. Finch, his frequent tennis partner, lived in mortal fear of her life.

Opposition Of Senator Affects 2 Postmasters

Sen. Stephen M. Young, Ohio Democrat, conceded over the weekend in Washington that his opposition has blocked Senate confirmation of two East Liverpool district postmasters nominated by President Eisenhower.

Now acting postmasters until their appointments are made official, they are Orvil C. Hoover of Salem and Guy W. Smith of Bergholz. Clarence J. Loch of Salineville was cleared by Sen. Young last year, but was not confirmed. Sen. Young said it probably was for lack of time before the Senate adjourned.

Sen. Young charged that "many of these appointments are political." He said he will continue to investigate the nominees' qualifications.

Will Seek Judge Post

CINCINNATI (AP) — Richard H. Hildebrant of Wilmington, former state appellate judge, says he plans to seek the Republican nomination for return to the First District Court of Appeals for a six-year term. Hildebrant, defeated in 1958, seeks the post of Judge Stanley Matthews who does not plan to seek re-election. The court serves Hamilton, Butler, Warren, Clermont and Clinton counties.

Humorist To Speak

140 Waited Wednesday At Jaycee 'Bosses Night'

More than 140 are expected to attend the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce "Bosses' Night" dinner Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Country Club.

Irv Wermont, nationally known humorist, educator and author, will be guest speaker. His topic will be "You're Worth More Than You Think."

Wermont is a business and radio executive with 28 years' experience in selling, sales promotion and management. He currently is public relations director of a large New England corporation.

He is a graduate of Northeastern University School of Law and Emerson College, where he majored in speech. Author of the book "Here's How To Remember," he has conducted many seminars on memory and personality development for executives and supervisory personnel of large corporations.

The Jaycees also will present the Distinguished Service and Civic Service Awards, the two highest honors conferred by the organization. The Distinguished Service Award is made to a man under 36 and the civic service award is for a man over 36. Both are given for displays of leadership and contributions to the community.

John (Jack) Hales, chairman, said Ralph A. Finley will make the DSA presentation, while the CSA will be given by Richard Martin. The recipients are selected by an anonymous committee.

IRV WERMONT
He's Author, Educator.

W. Edward Adkins, president, will give the welcoming address while T. Fred Edwards, Chamber of Commerce president, will make the "bosses' response."

Carl Shaheen of Canton, District 7 Jaycee vice president, will be a guest. Atty. Francis Lang will be toastmaster.

District Chairmen To Arrange For 'Mothers March On Polio'

Women who will serve as district chairmen for the annual Mothers March on Polio Jan. 27 are scheduled to meet Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the Travelers Hotel to receive instructions and campaign material.

The meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Dorothy Crooks of Sturgis Ave., chairman of the "Mothers March," and her newly-designated co-chairmen, Mrs. Edwin L. Marton of Illinois Ave. and Mrs. Thomas Snow of Wyoming Ave. Approximately 35 are expected to attend.

The district chairmen, who will recruit volunteers to canvass homes in their own neighborhoods, are scheduled to receive coin canisters, identifying armbands and literature that will be used in the one-night drive.

Richard G. Brian, southern county chairman for the March of Dimes, will preside as the meeting opens and then turn over the discussion to Mrs. Crooks.

Literature the women will receive includes questionnaires to be left at each home to determine how many sufferers of arthritis, birth defects and polio reside in East Liverpool and how many persons have received the three injections of Salk vaccine needed to assure immunity to infantile paralysis.

About 6,000 of the questionnaires have been received for distribution, Brian said. The tabulation is called "the new March of Dimes door count." The word "new" is stressed in the drive because the National Foundation has broadened its goals to include research into the cause of arthritis and birth defects since the incidence of polio has been reduced drastically by use of the Salk vaccine.

But March of Dimes funds still are needed to help treat and rehabilitate persons who contracted polio before the discovery of the vaccine and the diminishing number that has been affected since the discovery of the vaccine, Brian said.

Black market high prices have made illegal poaching of wild game a profitable industry in Africa's Tanganyika. Arrow poison and wire snares are openly peddled from the village to village.

Purchase Set By Fire Group

A serving cart will be purchased for the kitchen of the fire hall by the Ohio Township volunteer fire department auxiliary, it was decided at the monthly meeting Thursday night in the fire hall.

Mrs. Wilbur Wolfe, president, conducted business. A committee will be appointed at the next meeting to establish rules and rental fees for use of the kitchen. Mrs. Carl Popp and Mrs. Richard Rice will serve on the sick committee for the year.

The ways and means committee announced plans for a public card party in the fire hall January 29 at 8 p. m. Mrs. Martin Richards, ways and means committee chairman, is in charge.

Program books, listing the year's events, were distributed to members by Mrs. Michael Selak, program chairman.

Members drew numbers for the attendance teams. Mrs. Ed Kubala and Mrs. Minnie Reed are captains of the two teams. The losing team will furnish and serve refreshments to the winners. Mrs. Emily Carroll won the monthly project prize.

Refreshments were served by members of last year's losing attendance team. Mrs. Louis Poff was chairman.

The next meeting will be at the fire hall Feb. 11.

3,500 Obtain New Beaver Dog Tags

BEAVER — The office of Russell Milnes, Beaver County treasurer, today reported some 3,500 new dog licenses were sold when the deadline fell Friday.

The sale has been slow but is beginning to pick up, a spokesman said. About 18,000 licenses are expected to be issued by the end of the year.

Licenses may be purchased by mail at the treasurer's office in Beaver. Owners must enclose sufficient return postage and give information on color, age, sex and type of dog and include a return address, the office said.

Male dog licenses cost $1.10 and female, $2.10. License for spayed dogs cost $1.10 if the owner presents a veterinarian's certificate.

Dog owners are required by Pennsylvania law to buy the new licenses or face a fine of $5 to $100 and costs or a jail term up to 30 days.

Man Dreams Of Blaze, Awakes To Find Smoke

A short circuit in a furnace motor early Sunday morning caused the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence (Bud) Means of 7th Ave., LaCroft, to fill with smoke, awakening Means in time to call firemen and prevent serious damage.

Three trucks and 18 men of the Liverpool Township East department went to the home about 6:10 when notified by Means, principal at East Junior High School.

Homer Cronin, assistant fire chief, said a motor of a fan on the furnace had short circuited, causing smoke to fill the home. Means told firemen he had been asleep, dreaming the home was on fire, when he awakened to find the smoke.

Damage was confined to the motor Cronin said. Deputy Sheriff Cy Wellman stood by at the home to provide assistance, Cronin reported.

New Officers Chosen For Emmanuel Church

Members of the Session, trustees, deacons and a treasurer were elected at the congregational meeting of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church Sunday morning following worship.

Named members of the Session for three-year terms are Joseph W. Chetwynd, John Graham, Walter J. Johnson and G. H. Thompson.

Trustees for a three-year terms are John T. Hall, William B. Louthan, James H. Riggs and W. Leland Thompson and deacons for the same terms include William E. Nagel and E. R. Tittle.

Miss Helen Winland was elected church treasurer.

J. Donald Thompson, president of the trustees, was in charge of the meeting.

First witnesses will be the managers of two apartment houses where the state contends Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, held trysts in the weeks just before Mrs. Finch was slain last July 18.

Until now the prosecution has concentrated on the crew-cut, tennis-playing doctor. The name of Miss Tregoff, Finch's red-haired mistress and former receptionist, has not been linked to the slaying.

The prosecution says it also will call a man later to testify that Miss Tregoff tried to hire him to kill 36-year-old Barbara Jean Finch.

Sometime today actor-producer Mark Stevens is expected to testify that Mrs. Finch, his frequent tennis partner, lived in mortal fear of her life.

Opposition Of Senator Affects 2 Postmasters

Sen. Stephen M. Young, Ohio Democrat, conceded over the weekend in Washington that his opposition has blocked Senate confirmation of two East Liverpool district postmasters nominated by President Eisenhower.

Now acting postmasters until their appointments are made official, they are Orvil C. Hoover of Salem and Guy W. Smith of Bergholz. Clarence J. Loch of Salineville was cleared by Sen. Young last year, but was not confirmed. Sen. Young said it probably was for lack of time before the Senate adjourned.

Sen. Young charged that "many of these appointments are political." He said he will continue to investigate the nominees' qualifications.

Will Seek Judge Post

CINCINNATI (AP) — Richard H. Hildebrant of Wilmington, former state appellate judge, says he plans to seek the Republican nomination for return to the First District Court of Appeals for a six-year term. Hildebrant, defeated in 1958, seeks the post of Judge Stanley Matthews who does not plan to seek re-election. The court serves Hamilton, Butler, Warren, Clermont and Clinton counties.

Humorist To Speak

140 Waited Wednesday At Jaycee 'Bosses Night'

More than 140 are expected to attend the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce "Bosses' Night" dinner Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Country Club.

Irv Wermont, nationally known humorist, educator and author, will be guest speaker. His topic will be "You're Worth More Than You Think."

Wermont is a business and radio executive with 28 years' experience in selling, sales promotion and management. He currently is public relations director of a large New England corporation.

He is a graduate of Northeastern University School of Law and Emerson College, where he majored in speech. Author of the book "Here's How To Remember," he has conducted many seminars on memory and personality development for executives and supervisory personnel of large corporations.

The Jaycees also will present the Distinguished Service and Civic Service Awards, the two highest honors conferred by the organization. The Distinguished Service Award is made to a man under 36 and the civic service award is for a man over 36. Both are given for displays of leadership and contributions to the community.

John (Jack) Hales, chairman, said Ralph A. Finley will make the DSA presentation, while the CSA will be given by Richard Martin. The recipients are selected by an anonymous committee.

IRV WERMONT
He's Author, Educator.

W. Edward Adkins, president, will give the welcoming address while T. Fred Edwards, Chamber of Commerce president, will make the "bosses' response."

Carl Shaheen of Canton, District 7 Jaycee vice president, will be a guest. Atty. Francis Lang will be toastmaster.

District Chairmen To Arrange For 'Mothers March On Polio'

Women who will serve as district chairmen for the annual Mothers March on Polio Jan. 27 are scheduled to meet Wednesday at 1 p. m. at the Travelers Hotel to receive instructions and campaign material.

The meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Dorothy Crooks of Sturgis Ave., chairman of the "Mothers March," and her newly-designated co-chairmen, Mrs. Edwin L. Marton of Illinois Ave. and Mrs. Thomas Snow of Wyoming Ave. Approximately 35 are expected to attend.

The district chairmen, who will recruit volunteers to canvass homes in their own neighborhoods, are scheduled to receive coin canisters, identifying armbands and literature that will be used in the one-night drive.

Richard G. Brian, southern county chairman for the March of Dimes, will preside as the meeting opens and then turn over the discussion to Mrs. Crooks.

Literature the women will receive includes questionnaires to be left at each home to determine how many sufferers of arthritis, birth defects and polio reside in East Liverpool and how many persons have received the three injections of Salk vaccine needed to assure immunity to infantile paralysis.

About 6,000 of the questionnaires have been received for distribution, Brian said. The tabulation is called "the new March of Dimes door count." The word "new" is stressed in the drive because the National Foundation has broadened its goals to include research into the cause of arthritis and birth defects since the incidence of polio has been reduced drastically by use of the Salk vaccine.

But March of Dimes funds still are needed to help treat and rehabilitate persons who contracted polio before the discovery of the vaccine and the diminishing number that has been affected since the discovery of the vaccine, Brian said.

Black market high prices have made illegal poaching of wild game a profitable industry in Africa's Tanganyika. Arrow poison and wire snares are openly peddled from the village to village.

Purchase Set By Fire Group

A serving cart will be purchased for the kitchen of the fire hall by the Ohio Township volunteer fire department auxiliary, it was decided at the monthly meeting Thursday night in the fire hall.

Mrs. Wilbur Wolfe, president, conducted business. A committee will be appointed at the next meeting to establish rules and rental fees for use of the kitchen. Mrs. Carl Popp and Mrs. Richard Rice will serve on the sick committee for the year.

The ways and means committee announced plans for a public card party in the fire hall January 29 at 8 p. m. Mrs. Martin Richards, ways and means committee chairman, is in charge.

Program books, listing the year's events, were distributed to members by Mrs. Michael Selak, program chairman.

Members drew numbers for the attendance teams. Mrs. Ed Kubala and Mrs. Minnie Reed are captains of the two teams. The losing team will furnish and serve refreshments to the winners. Mrs. Emily Carroll won the monthly project prize.

Refreshments were served by members of last year's losing attendance team. Mrs. Louis Poff was chairman.

The next meeting will be at the fire hall Feb. 11.

3,500 Obtain New Beaver Dog Tags

BEAVER — The office of Russell Milnes, Beaver County treasurer, today reported some 3,500 new dog licenses were sold when the deadline fell Friday.

The sale has been slow but is beginning to pick up, a spokesman said. About 18,000 licenses are expected to be issued by the end of the year.

Licenses may be purchased by mail at the treasurer's office in Beaver. Owners must enclose sufficient return postage and give information on color, age, sex and type of dog and include a return address, the office said.

Male dog licenses cost $1.10 and female, $2.10. License for spayed dogs cost $1.10 if the owner presents a veterinarian's certificate.

Dog owners are required by Pennsylvania law to buy the new licenses or face a fine of $5 to $100 and costs or a jail term up to 30 days.

Man Dreams Of Blaze, Awakes To Find Smoke

A short circuit in a furnace motor early Sunday morning caused the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence (Bud) Means of 7th Ave., LaCroft, to fill with smoke, awakening Means in time to call firemen and prevent serious damage.

Three trucks and 18 men of the Liverpool Township East department went to the home about 6:10 when notified by Means, principal at East Junior High School.

Homer Cronin, assistant fire chief, said a motor of a fan on the furnace had short circuited, causing smoke to fill the home. Means told firemen he had been asleep, dreaming the home was on fire, when he awakened to find the smoke.

Damage was confined to the motor Cronin said. Deputy Sheriff Cy Wellman stood by at the home to provide assistance, Cronin reported.

New Officers Chosen For Emmanuel Church

Members of the Session, trustees, deacons and a treasurer were elected at the congregational meeting of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church Sunday morning following worship.

Named members of the Session for three-year terms are Joseph W. Chetwynd, John Graham, Walter J. Johnson and G. H. Thompson.

Trustees for a three-year terms are John T. Hall, William B. Louthan, James H. Riggs and W. Leland Thompson and deacons for the same terms include William E. Nagel and E. R. Tittle.

Miss Helen Winland was elected church treasurer.

J. Donald Thompson, president of the trustees, was in charge of the meeting.

Wellsville Snaps Weirton Madonna Victory Streak, 57-53

Tigers Go Ahead In Final Minutes

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

In one of the most thrilling games ever played at Beacom Memorial gym, Wellsville nudged ninth - ranked Weirton Madonna from the unbeaten ranks, 57-53, in a sizzling battle of Ohio Valley basketball titans Saturday night.

A screaming crowd of nearly 1,000 saw Coach Jack McDevitt's dazzling Tigers come roaring from behind in the final three minutes and snatch victory on a 20-foot jump shot by clutch-shooting guard Milt Lamp with 1:54.

LAMP'S SHOT from the left of the foul circle came with the score tied at 53-53. Wellsville center Franklin Jackson later dropped in a pair of fouls to settle the outcome after being shouldered into the bleachers by husky Tom Sessi, Weirton Madonna's 6-3, 220-pound guard, as the Tigers were operating a freeze.

The victory snapped an eight-game string for the smooth-operating Blue Dons, who outscored Wellsville from the floor by three goals. Wellsville turned 17 of 28 foul throws into points to gain the edge.

Led by the inspired performance of Jackson, 6-3 senior who scored 21 points, Wellsville chalked up its eighth triumph in succession and made a stronger bid for statewide recognition.

—:—

THERE WERE many standouts in the showdown battle, but Madonna's pint-sized guard Dick Palcic kept the fans buzzing with his clever passing and dribbling.

The little court magician also proved his ability to score by firing in 17 points. His passing set up the pivot operations of center Eddie Tarowsky, 6-5 senior, who scored 13.

It was Palcic, too, who nearly brought the Dons from behind in the fading minutes when he stole a pass and raced half the court for a layup attempt with Wellsville leading, 55-53, and trying to run out the clock. The shot missed, however, and Wellsville regained possession on the rebound and held on until time ran out.

The first three quarters were just as tense as the final one and featured a rebounding duel between Wellsville's high - jumping Jackson and cool Bob Kiggans and Weirton's towering Tarowsky and Sessi.

Madonna was red hot in the first half (15 for 40) and led the Tigers until 6:07 remained in the third period. Wellsville went ahead, 35-34, and perked up in the shooting department near the end of the period to forge ahead, 45-40 at the buzzer.

WELLSVILLE'S superior bench strength probably decided the final outcome, both John Grossi of Madonna and McDevitt agreed after the game.

Sessi of Madonna finished the first half with three fouls charged against him and committed his fifth with nine seconds left in the game by pushing Jackson into the stands. Jim Gerlando, senior forward, fouled out with 6:13 left in the game and his absence was noticed almost immediately in Madonna's attack. The Dons tried 13 free throws and made seven.

It was strictly a team victory for the Tigers as Jackson received the necessary aid on the boards and in the scoring column from Kiggans, Ray Franklin and Mac Comparetto.

Kiggans entered the game with a 19-point average, but after scoring in rapid-fire fashion in the first quarter, turned his attention to rebounding and leading Wellsville's fast break. The 6-3 junior bagged 11 points and now has 167 in nine games for a 18.6 average.

—:—

FRANKLIN starred defensively for the Tigers and turned in his best performance of the year in all-around play. Comparetto scored in spurts with a variety of unorthodox drive shots and racked up 11 points. Lamp made only one other field goal besides the deciding shot in the final minute and finished with four points.

Tarowsky was hounded the entire night by Jackson, but scored 13 points and shared Madonna's rebounding chores with Sessi.

Palcic, a senior, was without a doubt the best "little man" the Tigers have met all season. He scored six of his eight field goals in the first half and several came on long, arching push shots from the backcourt area. His "look the other way and pass" maneuvers kept the Tigers in a tizzy.

Homer Smith, the backcourt mate of Palcic, also played an outstanding floor game and dropped in nine points. Gerlando scored six to round out the attack.

The West Virginians were charged with a technical foul in the second quarter because of a jersey number mixup. Ticich, who wore No. 15, was listed in the official scorebook as No. 21.

Safely past the highly - touted Blue Dons, Wellsville now has a week's rest to prepare for an always-tough game next Saturday in the small confines of Steubenville Central Catholic's gymnasium.

Wellsville's Reserves apparently have contacted the "victory fever" from the varsity as they extended their victory streak to seven games in hurling Weirton Madonna's Reserves, 55-52, in the preliminary.

Coach Carl Firm's pupils led most of the distance in snapping a three-game streak of the Madonna reserves, who are 6-3 for the year.

Versatile Ben Cannadate popped in 12 points and Roger Ours led all scorers with 18 to spark Wellsville. Rick Gray chipped in with 10 and Jerry McCloud, 6-3 center, got five.

Coach Joe Krivak's Madonna Jayvees, who nearly came from behind in the final minutes to tie the score, were led by Wojdyla's 14 points. Young added 12 and Ticich 10.

Five Remain Unbeaten In Church Loop

Five teams remain undefeated after the second week of YMCA-Church Basketball League competition Saturday night on the "Y" floor.

The unbeaten list includes First Methodist and St. Stephen's in the Inter-Collegiate Division, while Trinity U. P., Chester U. P. and First U. P. all registered their second victories in the Collegiate Division.

First Methodist took a 27-16 decision from First Church of Christ, with Howell leading the way with 10 points. Brown and Kemple had 5 each for the losers.

St. Stephen's picked up a 33-3 victory over First Church of the Nazarene, with Massey hitting for 10 points. Cunningham had two of the losers' three points.

In other Inter-Collegiate games, St. John's Lutheran, sparked by Bobby Forzano's 14 markers, downed Second U. P., 24-15.

Chester First Methodist turned back Newell First Presbyterian, 20-12. Ed Clunk paved the way for the winners with nine points. Barnett and Bailey had four each for the losers.

Turning to the Collegiate Division, First U. P. rolled into high gear in walloping Calvary Methodist, 64-4. Dave Oliver again led all scorers for the second straight week by pitching in 24 points. Dahl had all four of Calvary Methodist's points.

Trinity U. P. gained its second in a row with a 25-21 win over Oakland Free Methodist. Roach dropped in 13 points to lead the way, while Roger Vincent scored nine for the Oakland five.

Chester U. P. tripped Anderson Methodist, 11-2, with T. Temple and M. Temple scoring four each for the winners. Bud Manley had Anderson's lone two points.

In one other contest, Chester First Christian nipped Grace U. P., 19-17, with Elliott collecting eight markers for Chester. Babb tallied nine for Grace U. P.

Unitas Hurls 3 Touchdown Passes As West Rolls Over East 38 To 21

By JOE LEWIS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The accurate arm of Johnny Unitas, the dogged defensive play of Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb and the telented toe of Paul Hornung proved a winning combination in the 10th annual Pro Bowl.

The West walloped the East 38-21 Sunday for its sixth triumph in the National Football League's All-Star series.

A crowd of 56,876 in the Coliseum saw Baltimore's Unitas, named the game's most valuable player, toss three touchdown passes, all in the first half, for a new Pro Bowl record.

Green Bay's Hornung scored one touchdown, kicked a field goal and five conversions for a total of 14 points, another record.

The West's defensive line was led by Baltimore's Lipscomb, named the game's top lineman. They held the East running game to a scant 59 yards.

Y. A. Title of San Francisco spelled Unitas and tossed seven strikes in a row during a second-quarter touchdown drive. He completed 13 of 18 passes for 72 per cent.

Los Angeles' Jon Arnett led the West's runners with 61 yards in 11 carries. He picked up 44 more on passes, 38 on punt returns and 68 on kickoff returns for a total of 211 yards.

The West's defensive line put a terrific rush on Pittsburgh's Bobby Layne. He was saddled all day with the quarterbacking because Norm Van Brocklin of Philadelphia had the flu.

Layne's 43-yard pass to Pittsburgh's Jimmy Orr sparked the East's final drive in the last period. The East marched to the 5-yard line but needed eight plays and a penalty to score. Several times the East tried, but failed, to power over Lipscomb at tackle. Finally Layne passed a two-yarder to Cleveland's Jimmy Brown for the score.

Canfield Tops United, 69-53

CANFIELD — United trailed all the way in a 69-53 loss to Canfield here Saturday night.

The Golden Eagles dropped their fourth game in 10 starts, while Canfield won its fifth in nine games.

United couldn't get rolling despite an outstanding shooting performance by All-Ohio candidate Jim Summer, who ended with 25 points.

The Eagles trailed 19-15 at the end of the first quarter, then fell out of contention when Canfield took a 37-20 lead at halftime and 55-33 at the end of three quarters.

Jim Albert was virtually unstoppable for Canfield in netting 28 points.

The reserve game went to Canfield 42-22.

Meet City Loop Team At M-A

Major League Baseball Stars To Appear Tonight

Pirate star Roy Face may be called in for some relief work, but he will be pitching basketballs instead of baseballs when the Dick Groat All-Stars meet the East Liverpool City League stars tonight at Memorial Auditorium.

Action will get under way at 7 when the Intramural All-Stars meet the East Liverpool reserves.

The featured contest should begin about 8.

Groat's team is composed of major league baseball players. Paul Smith, manager of the club, said Sunday that Don Hennon, the former Pitt All-American who performs with the team, will not be able to play tonight.

Hennon, a pre-med student at Pitt, is scheduled for examinations early Tuesday morning.

Groat, the former All-American at Duke University, is the sharpshooter of the outfit.

Others who will appear here are Jerry Lynch of the Cincinnati Reds, Chuck Tanner, Bob Del Greco, Ron Kline and Smith.

The local City League will be counting on the scoring of Bevo Francis and ex-Duquesne great Jim Tucker.

The City All-Stars include Bob Bingham, Ted Robinson, George Parfitt, Vince Giles, Jim Harris and Frank Chan.

Jim Flasco, City League director, said Wellsville's Dan Baldwin will replace Stan Yukich on the all-star roster.

The contest is being sponsored by the East Liverpool Sportsmen's Club. Proceeds will be used to light outdoor basketball courts.

Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for children. They will be sold at the door.

City League Player Suspended By Director

Stan Yukich, former Midland and Geneva star, who kicked an official in a City Basketball League game last week, has been suspended, Jim Flasco, league director, said today. Yukich played for Alex's Carry-Out.

Darrow Sharing Spotlight With Some Of Big Boys

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jim Darrow of Bowling Green is proving that collegiate basketball doesn't belong exclusively to the big men.

While everyone is handing deserved praise and pats to Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Jerry Lucas of Ohio State—a pair of giants—the 5-11 Darrow is in danger of being overlooked, especially since the once potent Falcons have won only five of 13.

But Darrow, one of the few ever to make the Associated Press high school All-Ohio team two straight years, would be a standout anywhere. He was All-Ohio guard in 1955 and 1956 for Bill Satterlee's Akron South team, and he hasn't let up since.

He poured in 52 points against Toledo last Tuesday and 18 against Miami Saturday as the Bee-Gees won both. His 70-point week gave him 383 for 13 games, an average of 29.4, which could place him second in the country behind Robertson's 39-point average. Lucas, with 28 against Northwestern Saturday, just about hit his average.

Robertson, despite a 46 - point spree Saturday night, couldn't carry the Cincinnati national leaders to a win over Bradley at Peoria. The 91-90 loss was the first for the Bearcats, and it cost them the Missouri Valley Conference lead—the Braves taking over with 5-1 to Cincinnati's 4-1.

The Cincinnati defeat, and Akron's 77-66 nod over Oberlin last week, left only Defiance unbeaten on the Ohio front. All others, except the Bearcats and Yeomen, have lost at least two.

Ohio clubs swept a dozen home games against out-of-state foes last week, and won four of 10 on the road, to build up a season record of 111 victories and 72 losses.

The home floor advantage continued to be a big factor as hosts won 37 to visitors' 17 last week. For the year home clubs have a 202 to 83 advantage. Some coaches figure home surroundings are worth 15 points in the modern racehorse style of play.

Rush Takes Over As Toledo Coach

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Clive H. Rush, 28, backfield coach at Ohio State University, today takes over the duties of head football coach at the University of Toledo.

Appointment of Rush was announced Saturday by Dr. James W. Long, Toledo University athletic director. Rush signed a one-year contract for $11,500, Long said.

A 1953 graduate of Miami University (Ohio), Rush played with the Green Bay Packers in 1953 and became end coach at the University of Dayton in 1954. He joined the Ohio State staff in 1955, left to be an assistant to Coach Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma in 1958, then returned to OSU.

Fred Lorenzen, 25, of Elmhurst, Ill., USAC national stock car champion for the past two years, will switch to the NASCAR circuit for his 1960 competition.

Cunningham Nets 23 In Sixth Loss

MARIETTA — A full court press by Marietta in the second half and the loss of 6-foot-6 Ray Bigelow led to the East Liverpool Potters sixth defeat of the season Saturday night at the Marietta College Fieldhouse.

Marietta came out on top, 80-56, to notch its eighth victory in nine starts.

East Liverpool, which broke a five-game losing streak on Friday by whipping Toronto, led at halftime 34-33.

Marietta went into the all-court press in the second half and immediately took the lead.

Bigelow, who was doing an outstanding job on the backboards and at the same time dropping in 15 points, left the game early with four minutes still remaining in the third quarter.

After his departure, Marietta spurted and showed a 58-50 lead at the end of the period.

The Tigers scored 43 points in the second half, while East Liverpool tallied only 22.

The Potters were red hot in the first half, hitting on about 60 per cent of their shots.

For the second night in a row, Kenny Cunningham scored in the 20's, collecting 23. The sharpshooting junior guard hit on 11 field goals and dropped in one foul to pace the Potters.

Bigelow was the only other starter to gain the double figures, as the Potters failed to get any scoring from their forwards, Kenny Miller, Craig Burbick and substitute Harold Adkins.

The Potters started out to do a good job of defensing Frank Christie, Marietta's All-Ohio choice last season. The 6-foot-3 Christie was held to one point in the first quarter, but began hitting near the end of the first half and wound up with 22 for the evening.

His running mate, Tom Baker, who stands 6-foot-4, tallied 18 points for the Tigers, while Frank Spriggs, a little outside man, pumped in 17.

A substitute helped in the Marietta attack when Jim Farley tallied 12 points, all in the final 10 minutes of the contest.

Bob Mackall, who has been ailing all week, got back in the lineup for the Potters Saturday night and added 7 points.

Marietta, which was ranked 13th in the first stage cage poll last week, had won seven straight games before losing to Newark on Friday night.

East Liverpool will return to action next Friday night against Steubenville Central at Memorial Auditorium.

The Potter-Marietta game Saturday was played as a preliminary to the Marietta College-Mt. Union contest.

Hirt Scores 33 Points In Marietta's Victory

East Palestine's Sam Hirt tossed in 33 points to pace Marietta College to an 87-78 victory over Mt. Union in an Ohio Conference game Saturday night at the Marietta College fieldhouse. The college tilt followed the East Liverpool-Marietta game.

Hunter Paces Quakers To Seventh Win, 81-48

RAVENNA — Salem won its seventh game of the season and its third straight, 81-48, over Ravenna here Saturday night.

Dave Hunter, Salem's clever southpaw performer, was the top scorer with 29 points.

The Quakers failed to get rolling until the second half. After leading only 36-29 at intermission, Salem swept to a 65-36 margin at the end of the third period.

Behind Hunter in the scoring was Dan Krichbaum with 15 points.

Dick Hugill collected 16 for Ravenna, which dropped its seventh game in 12 starts.

Third Open Title Won At Sea Island By Mickey Wright

SEA ISLAND, Ga. (AP)—Long-hitting Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., attributes her third straight Sea Island Ladies Open golf championship to just luck.

"I felt like a dog beating Kathy Cornelius after that great round she shot. I'm just a lucky golfer," Miss Wright said Sunday.

"Lucky, my eye," said Mrs. Cornelius of Lakeland, Fla. "I applied all the pressure I could and you never ever looked like you were going to fold. You're the champion and you deserve it."

The exchange took place after the blonde Miss Wright fired a two-under-par 70, best round of the 54-hole tournament, to beat Mrs. Cornelius by two strokes.

Miss Wright won first prize of $997.50 in the $6,000 event with rounds of 73-76-70—219 over the 6,520-yard course. Mrs. Cornelius had rounds of 74-76-71—221 and took second money of $769.50.

The San Diego slammer, twice U. S. Open champion, began the final day's play with a one stroke lead over Mrs. Cornelius and Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay.

Miss Crocker was unable to maintain the blistering pace of the other two professionals and came in with a 75 for 225 and third place in the field of 23 professionals and 64 amateurs.

Wellsville Snaps Weirton Madonna Victory Streak, 57-53

Second-Half Marietta Rally Turns Back Potters, 80-56

Tigers Go Ahead In Final Minutes

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

In one of the most thrilling games ever played at Beacom Memorial gym, Wellsville nudged ninth - ranked Weirton Madonna from the unbeaten ranks, 57-53, in a sizzling battle of Ohio Valley basketball titans Saturday night.

A screaming crowd of nearly 1,000 saw Coach Jack McDevitt's dazzling Tigers come roaring from behind in the final three minutes and snatch victory on a 20-foot jump shot by clutch-shooting guard Milt Lamp with 1:54.

LAMP'S SHOT from the left of the foul circle came with the score tied at 53-53. Wellsville center Franklin Jackson later dropped in a pair of fouls to settle the outcome after being shouldered into the bleachers by husky Tom Sessi, Weirton Madonna's 6-3, 220-pound guard, as the Tigers were operating a freeze.

The victory snapped an eight-game string for the smooth-operating Blue Dons, who outscored Wellsville from the floor by three goals. Wellsville turned 17 of 28 foul throws into points to gain the edge.

Led by the inspired performance of Jackson, 6-3 senior who scored 21 points, Wellsville chalked up its eighth triumph in succession and made a stronger bid for statewide recognition.

—:—

THERE WERE many standouts in the showdown battle, but Madonna's pint-sized guard Dick Palcic kept the fans buzzing with his clever passing and dribbling.

The little court magician also proved his ability to score by firing in 17 points. His passing set up the pivot operations of center Eddie Tarowsky, 6-5 senior, who scored 13.

It was Palcic, too, who nearly brought the Dons from behind in the fading minutes when he stole a pass and raced half the court for a layup attempt with Wellsville leading, 55-53, and trying to run out the clock. The shot missed, however, and Wellsville regained possession on the rebound and held on until time ran out.

The first three quarters were just as tense as the final one and featured a rebounding duel between Wellsville's high - jumping Jackson and cool Bob Kiggans and Weirton's towering Tarowsky and Sessi.

Madonna was red hot in the first half (15 for 40) and led the Tigers until 6:07 remained in the third period. Wellsville went ahead, 35-34, and perked up in the shooting department near the end of the period to forge ahead, 45-40 at the buzzer.

WELLSVILLE'S superior bench strength probably decided the final outcome, both John Grossi of Madonna and McDevitt agreed after the game.

Sessi of Madonna finished the first half with three fouls charged against him and committed his fifth with nine seconds left in the game by pushing Jackson into the stands. Jim Gerlando, senior forward, fouled out with 6:13 left in the game and his absence was noticed almost immediately in Madonna's attack. The Dons tried 13 free throws and made seven.

It was strictly a team victory for the Tigers as Jackson received the necessary aid on the boards and in the scoring column from Kiggans, Ray Franklin and Mac Comparetto.

Kiggans entered the game with a 19-point average, but after scoring in rapid-fire fashion in the first quarter, turned his attention to rebounding and leading Wellsville's fast break. The 6-3 junior bagged 11 points and now has 167 in nine games for a 18.6 average.

—:—

FRANKLIN starred defensively for the Tigers and turned in his best performance of the year in all-around play. Comparetto scored in spurts with a variety of unorthodox drive shots and racked up 11 points. Lamp made only one other field goal besides the deciding shot in the final minute and finished with four points.

Tarowsky was hounded the entire night by Jackson, but scored 13 points and shared Madonna's rebounding chores with Sessi.

Palcic, a senior, was without a doubt the best "little man" the Tigers have met all season. He scored six of his eight field goals in the first half and several came on long, arching push shots from the backcourt area. His "look the other way and pass" maneuvers kept the Tigers in a tizzy.

Homer Smith, the backcourt mate of Palcic, also played an outstanding floor game and dropped in nine points. Gerlando scored six to round out the attack.

The West Virginians were charged with a technical foul in the second quarter because of a jersey number mixup. Ticich, who wore No. 15, was listed in the official scorebook as No. 21.

Safely past the highly - touted Blue Dons, Wellsville now has a week's rest to prepare for an always-tough game next Saturday in the small confines of Steubenville Central Catholic's gymnasium.

Wellsville's Reserves apparently have contacted the "victory fever" from the varsity as they extended their victory streak to seven games in hurling Weirton Madonna's Reserves, 55-52, in the preliminary.

Coach Carl Firm's pupils led most of the distance in snapping a three-game streak of the Madonna reserves, who are 6-3 for the year.

Versatile Ben Cannadate popped in 12 points and Roger Ours led all scorers with 18 to spark Wellsville. Rick Gray chipped in with 10 and Jerry McCloud, 6-3 center, got five.

Coach Joe Krivak's Madonna Jayvees, who nearly came from behind in the final minutes to tie the score, were led by Wojdyla's 14 points. Young added 12 and Ticich 10.

Five Remain Unbeaten In Church Loop

Five teams remain undefeated after the second week of YMCA-Church Basketball League competition Saturday night on the "Y" floor.

The unbeaten list includes First Methodist and St. Stephen's in the Inter-Collegiate Division, while Trinity U. P., Chester U. P. and First U. P. all registered their second victories in the Collegiate Division.

First Methodist took a 27-16 decision from First Church of Christ, with Howell leading the way with 10 points. Brown and Kemple had 5 each for the losers.

St. Stephen's picked up a 33-3 victory over First Church of the Nazarene, with Massey hitting for 10 points. Cunningham had two of the losers' three points.

In other Inter-Collegiate games, St. John's Lutheran, sparked by Bobby Forzano's 14 markers, downed Second U. P., 24-15.

Chester First Methodist turned back Newell First Presbyterian, 20-12. Ed Clunk paved the way for the winners with nine points. Barnett and Bailey had four each for the losers.

Turning to the Collegiate Division, First U. P. rolled into high gear in walloping Calvary Methodist, 64-4. Dave Oliver again led all scorers for the second straight week by pitching in 24 points. Dahl had all four of Calvary Methodist's points.

Trinity U. P. gained its second in a row with a 25-21 win over Oakland Free Methodist. Roach dropped in 13 points to lead the way, while Roger Vincent scored nine for the Oakland five.

Chester U. P. tripped Anderson Methodist, 11-2, with T. Temple and M. Temple scoring four each for the winners. Bud Manley had Anderson's lone two points.

In one other contest, Chester First Christian nipped Grace U. P., 19-17, with Elliott collecting eight markers for Chester. Babb tallied nine for Grace U. P.

Unitas Hurls 3 Touchdown Passes As West Rolls Over East 38 To 21

By JOE LEWIS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The accurate arm of Johnny Unitas, the dogged defensive play of Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb and the telented toe of Paul Hornung proved a winning combination in the 10th annual Pro Bowl.

The West walloped the East 38-21 Sunday for its sixth triumph in the National Football League's All-Star series.

A crowd of 56,876 in the Coliseum saw Baltimore's Unitas, named the game's most valuable player, toss three touchdown passes, all in the first half, for a new Pro Bowl record.

Green Bay's Hornung scored one touchdown, kicked a field goal and five conversions for a total of 14 points, another record.

The West's defensive line was led by Baltimore's Lipscomb, named the game's top lineman. They held the East running game to a scant 59 yards.

Y. A. Title of San Francisco spelled Unitas and tossed seven strikes in a row during a second-quarter touchdown drive. He completed 13 of 18 passes for 72 per cent.

Los Angeles' Jon Arnett led the West's runners with 61 yards in 11 carries. He picked up 44 more on passes, 38 on punt returns and 68 on kickoff returns for a total of 211 yards.

The West's defensive line put a terrific rush on Pittsburgh's Bobby Layne. He was saddled all day with the quarterbacking because Norm Van Brocklin of Philadelphia had the flu.

Layne's 43-yard pass to Pittsburgh's Jimmy Orr sparked the East's final drive in the last period. The East marched to the 5-yard line but needed eight plays and a penalty to score. Several times the East tried, but failed, to power over Lipscomb at tackle. Finally Layne passed a two-yarder to Cleveland's Jimmy Brown for the score.

Canfield Tops United, 69-53

CANFIELD — United trailed all the way in a 69-53 loss to Canfield here Saturday night.

The Golden Eagles dropped their fourth game in 10 starts, while Canfield won its fifth in nine games.

United couldn't get rolling despite an outstanding shooting performance by All-Ohio candidate Jim Summer, who ended with 25 points.

The Eagles trailed 19-15 at the end of the first quarter, then fell out of contention when Canfield took a 37-20 lead at halftime and 55-33 at the end of three quarters.

Jim Albert was virtually unstoppable for Canfield in netting 28 points.

The reserve game went to Canfield 42-22.

Meet City Loop Team At M-A

Major League Baseball Stars To Appear Tonight

Pirate star Roy Face may be called in for some relief work, but he will be pitching basketballs instead of baseballs when the Dick Groat All-Stars meet the East Liverpool City League stars tonight at Memorial Auditorium.

Action will get under way at 7 when the Intramural All-Stars meet the East Liverpool reserves.

The featured contest should begin about 8.

Groat's team is composed of major league baseball players. Paul Smith, manager of the club, said Sunday that Don Hennon, the former Pitt All-American who performs with the team, will not be able to play tonight.

Hennon, a pre-med student at Pitt, is scheduled for examinations early Tuesday morning.

Groat, the former All-American at Duke University, is the sharpshooter of the outfit.

Others who will appear here are Jerry Lynch of the Cincinnati Reds, Chuck Tanner, Bob Del Greco, Ron Kline and Smith.

The local City League will be counting on the scoring of Bevo Francis and ex-Duquesne great Jim Tucker.

The City All-Stars include Bob Bingham, Ted Robinson, George Parfitt, Vince Giles, Jim Harris and Frank Chan.

Jim Flasco, City League director, said Wellsville's Dan Baldwin will replace Stan Yukich on the all-star roster.

The contest is being sponsored by the East Liverpool Sportsmen's Club. Proceeds will be used to light outdoor basketball courts.

Tickets are $1.25 for adults and 50 cents for children. They will be sold at the door.

City League Player Suspended By Director

Stan Yukich, former Midland and Geneva star, who kicked an official in a City Basketball League game last week, has been suspended, Jim Flasco, league director, said today. Yukich played for Alex's Carry-Out.

Darrow Sharing Spotlight With Some Of Big Boys

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jim Darrow of Bowling Green is proving that collegiate basketball doesn't belong exclusively to the big men.

While everyone is handing deserved praise and pats to Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Jerry Lucas of Ohio State—a pair of giants—the 5-11 Darrow is in danger of being overlooked, especially since the once potent Falcons have won only five of 13.

But Darrow, one of the few ever to make the Associated Press high school All-Ohio team two straight years, would be a standout anywhere. He was All-Ohio guard in 1955 and 1956 for Bill Satterlee's Akron South team, and he hasn't let up since.

He poured in 52 points against Toledo last Tuesday and 18 against Miami Saturday as the Bee-Gees won both. His 70-point week gave him 383 for 13 games, an average of 29.4, which could place him second in the country behind Robertson's 39-point average. Lucas, with 28 against Northwestern Saturday, just about hit his average.

Robertson, despite a 46 - point spree Saturday night, couldn't carry the Cincinnati national leaders to a win over Bradley at Peoria. The 91-90 loss was the first for the Bearcats, and it cost them the Missouri Valley Conference lead—the Braves taking over with 5-1 to Cincinnati's 4-1.

The Cincinnati defeat, and Akron's 77-66 nod over Oberlin last week, left only Defiance unbeaten on the Ohio front. All others, except the Bearcats and Yeomen, have lost at least two.

Ohio clubs swept a dozen home games against out-of-state foes last week, and won four of 10 on the road, to build up a season record of 111 victories and 72 losses.

The home floor advantage continued to be a big factor as hosts won 37 to visitors' 17 last week. For the year home clubs have a 202 to 83 advantage. Some coaches figure home surroundings are worth 15 points in the modern racehorse style of play.

Rush Takes Over As Toledo Coach

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Clive H. Rush, 28, backfield coach at Ohio State University, today takes over the duties of head football coach at the University of Toledo.

Appointment of Rush was announced Saturday by Dr. James W. Long, Toledo University athletic director. Rush signed a one-year contract for $11,500, Long said.

A 1953 graduate of Miami University (Ohio), Rush played with the Green Bay Packers in 1953 and became end coach at the University of Dayton in 1954. He joined the Ohio State staff in 1955, left to be an assistant to Coach Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma in 1958, then returned to OSU.

Fred Lorenzen, 25, of Elmhurst, Ill., USAC national stock car champion for the past two years, will switch to the NASCAR circuit for his 1960 competition.

Cunningham Nets 23 In Sixth Loss

MARIETTA — A full court press by Marietta in the second half and the loss of 6-foot-6 Ray Bigelow led to the East Liverpool Potters sixth defeat of the season Saturday night at the Marietta College Fieldhouse.

Marietta came out on top, 80-56, to notch its eighth victory in nine starts.

Hirt Scores 33 Points In Marietta's Victory

East Palestine's Sam Hirt tossed in 33 points to pace Marietta College to an 87-78 victory over Mt. Union in an Ohio Conference game Saturday night at the Marietta College fieldhouse. The college tilt followed the East Liverpool-Marietta game.

East Liverpool, which broke a five-game losing streak on Friday by whipping Toronto, led at halftime 34-33.

Marietta went into the all-court press in the second half and immediately took the lead.

Bigelow, who was doing an outstanding job on the backboards and at the same time dropping in 15 points, left the game early with four minutes still remaining in the third quarter.

After his departure, Marietta spurted and showed a 58-50 lead at the end of the period.

The Tigers scored 43 points in the second half, while East Liverpool tallied only 22.

The Potters were red hot in the first half, hitting on about 60 per cent of their shots.

For the second night in a row, Kenny Cunningham scored in the 20's, collecting 23. The sharpshooting junior guard hit on 11 field goals and dropped in one foul to pace the Potters.

Bigelow was the only other starter to gain the double figures, as the Potters failed to get any scoring from their forwards, Kenny Miller, Craig Burbick and substitute Harold Adkins.

The Potters started out to do a good job of defensing Frank Christie, Marietta's All-Ohio choice last season. The 6-foot-3 Christie was held to one point in the first quarter, but began hitting near the end of the first half and wound up with 22 for the evening.

Beaver Local Routs Augusta, 67-43, For Fourth Victory

Durbin Leads Beaver Quint With 16 Points

Beaver Local pushed closer to the .500 mark for the season by defeating Augusta, 67-43, for its fourth victory in nine games Saturday at the Beaver Local gym.

The win was the second over Augusta this season for Coach Jack Frontone's Beavers, who gained a 63-62 decision in December.

Frontone substituted freely as Beaver Local led all the way, 15-5 at the end of the first period, 38-23 at halftime and 50-34 after three quarters.

Beaver Local's balanced scoring attack found four cagers hitting in the double figures.

Leading the parade was Mike Durbin, a 6-foot-2 junior who tallied 16 points.

Bill Reed and Jim Pike, two other juniors, each chipped in with 13 and Thurm Allen connected for 12.

Beaver Local had a wide edge from the field, connecting on 29 field goals. Augusta showed only nine buckets.

The visitors picked up 25 points at the foul line, however.

Dick Barnhart, one of Beaver Local's leading scorers, was slowed by personal fouls after collecting four in the first period.

Crawford topped Augusta in the scoring department with 18 points, including 12 from the foul line.

Beaver Local reserves also won, 34-17.

Potters Drop Third Of Season

Defending State Champs Edge EL Wrestlers, 24-16

East Liverpool's wrestlers had an upset in the making, but dropped the final two matches and Bridgeport came out on top, 24-16, Saturday at Memorial Auditorium.

The Potters were tied at 16-16, but Bridgeport won the 177-pound and heavyweight match to wrap up the victory.

Bridgeport, which captured the state wrestling crown in 1959, won six of the 11 matches, but three victories came by falls while one other bout ended in a tie.

The loss was East Liverpool's third in four starts this season.

Dom Danzo, East Liverpool's 105-pounder, started the Potters off on the right foot with a 5-3 decision over Burley. Then John Goemple outpointed Sommer, 3-1, in the 114-pound bout.

Other Potter victories came at 135, where Joe Hager, a newcomer to the sport this season, won his third match by decking O'Hara in 3:43.

John McCullough picked up a 6-0 decision over Kuhar at 140, while Jim Bise wrestled Ernes to a 1-1 draw in a 167-pound battle.

Douglas, Bridgeport's 122-pounder, pinned Frank Danzo in 3:20, while Cunningham decisioned Don Seibert 5-0 in a match between 129-pounders.

In the 147-pound tussle, Glenn Mays gave Tolarchyk a battle before bowing 2-1.

John Goodballet dropped the 156-pound match on an 8-2 decision to Matusek.

Wiersbick blanked Eugene Wolfe 5-0 at 177, while Ward pinned Bruce "Big Mama" Reynolds in 2:45.

The Potters will travel to Weirton Wednesday for a 4:15 match.

The results of Saturday's competition follow:

105—D. Danzo (EL) decisioned Burley (B) 5-3.

114—Goemple (EL) decisioned Sommer (B) 3-1.

122—Douglas (B) pinned F. Danzo (EL) 3:20.

129—Cunningham (B) decisioned Seibert (EL) 5-0.

135—Hager (EL) pinned O'Hara (B) 3:43.

140—McCullough (EL) decisioned Kuhar (B) 6-0.

147—Tolarchyk (B) decisioned Mays (EL) 3-1.

156—Matusek (B) decisioned Goodballet (EL) 8-2.

167—Bise (EL) and Ernes (B) 1-1 draw.

177—Wierzbicki (B) decisioned Wolfe (EL) 5-0.

Heavyweight — Ward (B) pinned Reynolds (EL) 2:45.

Hoppel Brothers Win Two Matches For BG

Bowling Green notched its 14 and 15th consecutive wrestling victories over a two-year span this past weekend and two East Liverpool brothers captured both of their matches. Jim and Dave Hoppel both won 3-0 decisions in the match with Miami of Ohio Friday and Jim picked up an 8-0 victory against Wayne State Saturday while Dave won on a forfeit. Jim is a 147-pounder and Dave wrestles in the 137-pound division.

Lewis Stays; On Probation

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—Art (Pappy) Lewis will be back next fall as West Virginia University's head football coach, but he is, in effect, on probation.

University President Elvin J. Stahr Jr. took the unusual step of delivering a public reprimand to Lewis over a statewide radio hookup Sunday, in announcing the school's Board of Governors had decided to keep Lewis on the payroll.

Lewis, who will be 49 next month, makes $13,100 a year.

Stahr, who said Lewis was kept on "by the skin of his teeth," has been president only since last fall. Pappy has been around for 10 years.

"I am thankful for the action of President Stahr and the Board of Governors," Lewis said in a prepared statement.

Stahr had recommended that Lewis be retained, contrary to an athletic council secret proposal of last Dec. 12.

One Big Miss

BODE, Iowa (AP) — Albert City High School's sophomore end Dick Sundblad intercepted 11 Bode-Twin River passes in a football game last fall. But in the final seconds, with the winning touchdown pass in his hands, he dropped the ball in the end zone.

Expansion To Be Aired By National Pro Loop

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—One word—"alignment"—could be the key to whether the National Football League expands this year.

The league's executive committee met for an hour Sunday night and voted favorably to consider at Wednesday's annual meeting franchise applications from Dallas, St. Louis, Miami and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Acting Commissioner Austin H. Gunsel said a majority vote of the executive committee — comprising one representative from each of the 12 clubs — approved the move. He refused to disclose the vote but a reliable source said it was 10-2.

The word "alignment" crept into the picture when several club owners were asked just what they meant by favoring expansion. The owners, who declined to be identified, said they thought the league should expand if a satisfactory alignment of the two conferences could be agreed on.

Also, an agreeable schedule and method of alloting players to new clubs would be necessary before new teams were admitted.

The vote to consider the four franchise applications was cast along the lines of expansion feeling. Ten clubs have indicated a desire to consider expansion now. George Preston Marshall of Washington and Walter Wolfner of the Cardinals are against adding any team.

It was learned that Gunsel, who was named acting commissioner last October after the death of Bert Bell, and Marshall Leahy, San Francisco attorney, are leading candidates for commissioner. A source said Gunsel possibly holds a 7-5 edge. It takes nine votes to elect.

An Associated Press poll of the teams showed six clubs firmly committed to Gunsel, two to Leahy and four uncommitted.

Delany Lowered Indoor Mark During Mile Streak

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Irishman Ron Delany lowered the world indoor mile record to 4:01.4, the U. S. men defeated the Russians again in the world's biggest dual meet, and Americans broke a cluster of records in track and field in 1959.

The American men over-powered the Russians, 127-108 — 14 first places to 8 — in the gigantic meet in Philadelphia's Franklin Field. Ray Norton of San Jose State was the big man in the U. S. victory, winning the 100 meter and 200-meter sprints and anchoring the winning 400 - meter relay team.

But the Russian women, as expected, defeated the U. S. lasses, 67-40, for the second straight year.

Of all the American marks, the high jump mark of 7 feet, 1¼ inches set by John Thomas of Boston University, was the best.

Young John dissipated all the arguments caused by Yuri Stepanov's elevator shoe when the Russian ace set a record of 7-1.

Don Bragg of the Army went up 15 feet, 9½ inches for a world indoor pole vault record and now has his sights set on 16 feet.

Veteran Parry O'Brien, pressed by several young muscle men who have been threatening to take over his spot as top man, shattered his own world shot put record with a heave of 63 feet, 4 inches.

Race For National Honors Jumbled After Bradley Edges Cincy, 91-90

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The bulk of the major college basketball teams turn full attention to the classroom for mid-term exams this week, leaving unanswered the question of which is the nation's best.

Bradley's giant - killing Braves and their invincible home court at Peoria, Ill., chopped down Cincinnati's clear-cut claim to No. 1 last Saturday with a sizzling 91-90 defeat of the last major unbeaten.

It was, in fact, wipe-out week among the "unbeatables," with the three other perfect record clubs of a week ago also falling. First it was Texas A&M, beaten by Southern Methodist Tuesday night. Then LaSalle, defeated by Syracuse on Wednesday, before Villanova, beaten by West Virginia 89-81, and top - ranked Cincinnati fell Saturday night.

Now the race for the top national rankings is thoroughly jumbled, with a half-dozen or more teams presenting impressive credentials.

Besides Cincinnati, which holds an 86-71 earlier victory over Bradley, there's defending NCAA champion California (14-1), West Virginia (15-1), Bradley (12-1) and Georgia Tech (13-1) in the front line.

Behind them Ohio State (11-2), the twin Skyline powers of Utah State (13 - 2) and Utah (13 - 2), Texas A&M (11 - 1), Villanova (10-1), and Miami (Fla.), holder of a 15-1 record and an 11-game win streak that's now best among the major schools.

It's such a scramble that it'll be almost like starting all over again when the mid-term exams are over and concentrated play resumes again in the drive toward the wind-up of the conference races, conference tournaments and two major post-season tests —The NCAA and the NIT.

Of the top 20 teams in last week's Associated Press poll, only 12 have games this week and only two of those 12 play more than once.

Bradley, which used the clutch play of sophomore Chet Walker and senior Mike Owens to overcome a 6-point splurge by Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, has a major test against improving Notre Dame (11-3) at Chicago Stadium on Friday. Cincinnati plays at Duquesne on Saturday in its only game of the week. Both second-ranked California and West Virginia are idle.

Fifth-ranked Ohio State is at Purdue Saturday, seventh-ranked Utah at Brigham Young Friday, and 12th-ranked Utah State at Montana Saturday. Georgia Tech, No. 6, is the only top ten club to double up — facing Auburn in a non-Southern eastern conference game Tuesday and Tennessee in a game that counts in the SEC on Saturday.

Miami (Fla), rated 15th nationally last week, tries to push its win streak to 12 against Houston Saturday.

Some of tonight's top pairings send 14th-ranked Illinois (10-2) against Big Ten foe Minnesota, 13th-ranked Wake Forest (9-4) against Tennessee, and Kansas State, the Big Eight Conference leader, against Iowa State.

Other games show Missouri at Oklahoma and Oklahoma State at Kansas in the Big Eight, North Carolina State against Maryland in the Atlantic Coast Conference, Baylor against Southwest Conference foe Texas, Tennessee Tech against Eastern Kentucky's Ohio Valley Conference leaders, and Findlay against 18th-ranked Toledo (10-2), the Mid-American kingpin.

Horses Await Hialeah Tests

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Candidates for two $100,000 races get their first tests this week as Hialeah begins its first full week of a 40-day thoroughbred racing operation with three-year-olds and handicap horses slated to see action.

The $20,000-added six furlong Hibiscus Stakes will be run on Wednesday, giving candidates for the Flamingo Stakes a chance to test their speed. The Hibiscus drew 40 nominations for its 25th running, including 20 Flamingo eligibles, headed by Bally Ache.

This colt finished second in five $100,000 races last year and may face such youngsters as Mad Count, Cuvier Relic, Greek Page, Francis S., Gaylad, Winonly, Grand Total, April Skies, Good Joy, Allowable, Hellenic Star and others.

The $25,000-added Royal Palm on Saturday is for Widener prospects and may attract Dunce, Talent Show, Rose Trellis, Petare, Troubadour 2nd, Muscadel, Amerigo, Captain Kidd 2nd, Stratmat and Grey Ghost, the latter an Australian horse yet to start in this country.

Saturday's crowd of 25,033 set an opening day record at the betting windows of $1,856,426. Record opening day crowd was 28,945 in 1946.

Silver Creek Farm's Roman Colonel continued his brilliant career with a head victory in the $29,850 Royal Poinciana Handicap, his seventh straight triumph.

Roman Colonel carried 130 pounds, ran the six furlongs in 1:09 1-5 and paid $4.10 for $2. Fred W. Hooper's Alhambra was second and Claiborne Farm's Dunce, third.

The race was televized nationally (NBC) in color, the first time a thoroughbred race was screened across the nation in full color. All Hialeah's seven Saturday features will be telecast nationwide in color.

Barber Holds Lead In Open

YORBA LINDA, Calif. (AP) — The inaugural $20,000 Yorba Linda Open reached the showdown stage today with Jerry Barber of Los Angeles still on top.

The 43-year-old Californian went into the final 18 holes of play with rounds of 67-70-69.

His 54-hole total of 206 was three strokes in front of the nearest threat, Harry Weetman of England, a member of five British Ryder Cup teams. Weetman's rounds were 68-71-70—209.

Alone in third place was Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., with a pair of 71's and a 68 Sunday for 210.

Six strokes off the pace were Dow Finsterwald, Julius Boros and Bob Goalby.

Deadlocked in the 213 bracket were such stars as Art Wall Jr., U.S. Open champion Billy Casper, Arnold Palmer and Jack Burke Jr.

Mike Souchak, Bo Wininger and Tony Lema, the latter in a relapse after his first round sensational score of 66, were in the 215 bunch, and Doug Ford was 'way back at 220.

Double Qualifier

DENVER (AP) — Bob Rosburg has qualified for the 1960 National Open golf championship on two counts. He was runnerup in the 1959 event and a few weeks later won the PGA title. The 1960 Open will be held at the Cherry Hills Country Club June 16-18.

Machen Given Edge Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Heavyweights Eddie Machen and Zora Folley both go out with a lot to prove tonight when they battle over 12 rounds or less at the Cow Palace.

First, they both want to be considered worthy challengers for the title held by Ingemar Johansson.

Secondly, when they met here on April 9, 1958, a charitable word to describe the action was dull. That one ended in a draw.

After that bout, Machen was knocked out by Johansson in one round and Folley lost a disputed decision to England's Henry Cooper to further deflate their stock.

Both say things will be much different this time. Each won seven without a loss in 1959.

When they first met, Machen was a 2½ to 1 favorite as the No. 1 ranking heavyweight challenger. Folley was No. 2. Even though currently still No. 2, the fighter from Chandler, Ariz., finds himself on the short end of odds at about 2-1.

A fat purse for a fight against Sonny Liston of Chicago, the No. 3 ranked contender, awaits the winner with several promoters bidding for such a fight.

Machen has a record of 31 victories, one loss and one draw. Folley is 49-3-2.

Scoring will be on the California 10-point must system.

Cunninghams Win Third Straight In Grade Loop Play

Cunninghams of Westgate remained undefeated in the Grade School League by winning its game Saturday morning at East Junior High.

Cunninghams, with a 3-0 record, tripped the East Knicks, 20-19.

Neville and the East Whirlwinds also were victors.

Nevilles chalked up its first victory by defeating Andersons, 32-6. The Whirlwinds ripped Battistellis, 35-10.

Beaver Local Routs Augusta, 67-43, For Fourth Victory

Durbin Leads Beaver Quint With 16 Points

Beaver Local pushed closer to the .500 mark for the season by defeating Augusta, 67-43, for its fourth victory in nine games Saturday at the Beaver Local gym.

The win was the second over Augusta this season for Coach Jack Frontone's Beavers, who gained a 63-62 decision in December.

Frontone substituted freely as Beaver Local led all the way, 15-5 at the end of the first period, 38-23 at halftime and 50-34 after three quarters.

Beaver Local's balanced scoring attack found four cagers hitting in the double figures.

Leading the parade was Mike Durbin, a 6-foot-2 junior who tallied 16 points.

Bill Reed and Jim Pike, two other juniors, each chipped in with 13 and Thurm Allen connected for 12.

Beaver Local had a wide edge from the field, connecting on 29 field goals. Augusta showed only nine buckets.

The visitors picked up 25 points at the foul line, however.

Dick Barnhart, one of Beaver Local's leading scorers, was slowed by personal fouls after collecting four in the first period.

Crawford topped Augusta in the scoring department with 18 points, including 12 from the foul line.

Beaver Local reserves also won, 34-17.

Potters Drop Third Of Season

Defending State Champs Edge EL Wrestlers, 24-16

East Liverpool's wrestlers had an upset in the making, but dropped the final two matches and Bridgeport came out on top, 24-16, Saturday at Memorial Auditorium.

The Potters were tied at 16-16, but Bridgeport won the 177-pound and heavyweight match to wrap up the victory.

Bridgeport, which captured the state wrestling crown in 1959, won six of the 11 matches, but three victories came by falls while one other bout ended in a tie.

The loss was East Liverpool's third in four starts this season.

Dom Danzo, East Liverpool's 105-pounder, started the Potters off on the right foot with a 5-3 decision over Burley. Then John Goemple outpointed Sommer, 3-1, in the 114-pound bout.

Other Potter victories came at 135, where Joe Hager, a newcomer to the sport this season, won his third match by decking O'Hara in 3:43.

John McCullough picked up a 6-0 decision over Kuhar at 140, while Jim Bise wrestled Ernes to a 1-1 draw in a 167-pound battle.

Douglas, Bridgeport's 122-pounder, pinned Frank Danzo in 3:20, while Cunningham decisioned Don Seibert 5-0 in a match between 129-pounders.

In the 147-pound tussle, Glenn Mays gave Tolarchyk a battle before bowing 2-1.

John Goodballet dropped the 156-pound match on an 8-2 decision to Matusek.

Wiersbick blanked Eugene Wolfe 5-0 at 177, while Ward pinned Bruce "Big Mama" Reynolds in 2:45.

The Potters will travel to Weirton Wednesday for a 4:15 match.

The results of Saturday's competition follow:

105—D. Danzo (EL) decisioned Burley (B) 5-3.

114—Goemple (EL) decisioned Sommer (B) 3-1.

122—Douglas (B) pinned F. Danzo (EL) 3:20.

129—Cunningham (B) decisioned Seibert (EL) 5-0.

135—Hager (EL) pinned O'Hara (B) 3:43.

140—McCullough (EL) decisioned Kuhar (B) 6-0.

147—Tolarchyk (B) decisioned Mays (EL) 3-1.

156—Matusek (B) decisioned Goodballet (EL) 8-2.

167—Bise (EL) and Ernes (B) 1-1 draw.

177—Wierzbicki (B) decisioned Wolfe (EL) 5-0.

Heavyweight — Ward (B) pinned Reynolds (EL) 2:45.

Hoppel Brothers Win Two Matches For BG

Bowling Green notched its 14 and 15th consecutive wrestling victories over a two-year span this past weekend and two East Liverpool brothers captured both of their matches. Jim and Dave Hoppel both won 3-0 decisions in the match with Miami of Ohio Friday and Jim picked up an 8-0 victory against Wayne State Saturday while Dave won on a forfeit. Jim is a 147-pounder and Dave wrestles in the 137-pound division.

Race For National Honors Jumbled After Bradley Edges Cincy, 91-90

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The bulk of the major college basketball teams turn full attention to the classroom for mid-term exams this week, leaving unanswered the question of which is the nation's best.

Bradley's giant - killing Braves and their invincible home court at Peoria, Ill., chopped down Cincinnati's clear-cut claim to No. 1 last Saturday with a sizzling 91-90 defeat of the last major unbeaten.

It was, in fact, wipe-out week among the "unbeatables," with the three other perfect record clubs of a week ago also falling. First it was Texas A&M, beaten by Southern Methodist Tuesday night. Then LaSalle, defeated by Syracuse on Wednesday, before Villanova, beaten by West Virginia 89-81, and top - ranked Cincinnati fell Saturday night.

Now the race for the top national rankings is thoroughly jumbled, with a half-dozen or more teams presenting impressive credentials.

Besides Cincinnati, which holds an 86-71 earlier victory over Bradley, there's defending NCAA champion California (14-1), West Virginia (15-1), Bradley (12-1) and Georgia Tech (13-1) in the front line.

Behind them Ohio State (11-2), the twin Skyline powers of Utah State (13 - 2) and Utah (13 - 2), Texas A&M (11 - 1), Villanova (10-1), and Miami (Fla.), holder of a 15-1 record and an 11-game win streak that's now best among the major schools.

It's such a scramble that it'll be almost like starting all over again when the mid-term exams are over and concentrated play resumes again in the drive toward the wind-up of the conference races, conference tournaments and two major post-season tests —The NCAA and the NIT.

Of the top 20 teams in last week's Associated Press poll, only 12 have games this week and only two of those 12 play more than once.

Bradley, which used the clutch play of sophomore Chet Walker and senior Mike Owens to overcome a 6-point splurge by Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson, has a major test against improving Notre Dame (11-3) at Chicago Stadium on Friday. Cincinnati plays at Duquesne on Saturday in its only game of the week. Both second-ranked California and West Virginia are idle.

Fifth-ranked Ohio State is at Purdue Saturday, seventh-ranked Utah at Brigham Young Friday, and 12th-ranked Utah State at Montana Saturday. Georgia Tech, No. 6, is the only top ten club to double up — facing Auburn in a non-Southern eastern conference game Tuesday and Tennessee in a game that counts in the SEC on Saturday.

Miami (Fla), rated 15th nationally last week, tries to push its win streak to 12 against Houston Saturday.

Some of tonight's top pairings send 14th-ranked Illinois (10-2) against Big Ten foe Minnesota, 13th-ranked Wake Forest (9-4) against Tennessee, and Kansas State, the Big Eight Conference leader, against Iowa State.

Other games show Missouri at Oklahoma and Oklahoma State at Kansas in the Big Eight, North Carolina State against Maryland in the Atlantic Coast Conference, Baylor against Southwest Conference foe Texas, Tennessee Tech against Eastern Kentucky's Ohio Valley Conference leaders, and Findlay against 18th-ranked Toledo (10-2), the Mid-American kingpin.

Horses Await Hialeah Tests

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Candidates for two $100,000 races get their first tests this week as Hialeah begins its first full week of a 40-day thoroughbred racing operation with three-year-olds and handicap horses slated to see action.

The $20,000-added six furlong Hibiscus Stakes will be run on Wednesday, giving candidates for the Flamingo Stakes a chance to test their speed. The Hibiscus drew 40 nominations for its 25th running, including 20 Flamingo eligibles, headed by Bally Ache.

This colt finished second in five $100,000 races last year and may face such youngsters as Mad Count, Cuvier Relic, Greek Page, Francis S., Gaylad, Winonly, Grand Total, April Skies, Good Joy, Allowable, Hellenic Star and others.

The $25,000-added Royal Palm on Saturday is for Widener prospects and may attract Dunce, Talent Show, Rose Trellis, Petare, Troubadour 2nd, Muscadel, Amerigo, Captain Kidd 2nd, Stratmat and Grey Ghost, the latter an Australian horse yet to start in this country.

Saturday's crowd of 25,033 set an opening day record at the betting windows of $1,856,426. Record opening day crowd was 28,945 in 1946.

Silver Creek Farm's Roman Colonel continued his brilliant career with a head victory in the $29,850 Royal Poinciana Handicap, his seventh straight triumph.

Roman Colonel carried 130 pounds, ran the six furlongs in 1:09 1-5 and paid $4.10 for $2. Fred W. Hooper's Alhambra was second and Claiborne Farm's Dunce, third.

The race was televized nationally (NBC) in color, the first time a thoroughbred race was screened across the nation in full color. All Hialeah's seven Saturday features will be telecast nationwide in color.

Barber Holds Lead In Open

YORBA LINDA, Calif. (AP) — The inaugural $20,000 Yorba Linda Open reached the showdown stage today with Jerry Barber of Los Angeles still on top.

The 43-year-old Californian went into the final 18 holes of play with rounds of 67-70-69.

His 54-hole total of 206 was three strokes in front of the nearest threat, Harry Weetman of England, a member of five British Ryder Cup teams. Weetman's rounds were 68-71-70—209.

Alone in third place was Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., with a pair of 71's and a 68 Sunday for 210.

Six strokes off the pace were Dow Finsterwald, Julius Boros and Bob Goalby.

Deadlocked in the 213 bracket were such stars as Art Wall Jr., U.S. Open champion Billy Casper, Arnold Palmer and Jack Burke Jr.

Mike Souchak, Bo Wininger and Tony Lema, the latter in a relapse after his first round sensational score of 66, were in the 215 bunch, and Doug Ford was 'way back at 220.

Double Qualifier

DENVER (AP) — Bob Rosburg has qualified for the 1960 National Open golf championship on two counts. He was runnerup in the 1959 event and a few weeks later won the PGA title. The 1960 Open will be held at the Cherry Hills Country Club June 16-18.

Machen Given Edge Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Heavyweights Eddie Machen and Zora Folley both go out with a lot to prove tonight when they battle over 12 rounds or less at the Cow Palace.

First, they both want to be considered worthy challengers for the title held by Ingemar Johansson.

Secondly, when they met here on April 9, 1958, a charitable word to describe the action was dull. That one ended in a draw.

After that bout, Machen was knocked out by Johansson in one round and Folley lost a disputed decision to England's Henry Cooper to further deflate their stock.

Both say things will be much different this time. Each won seven without a loss in 1959.

When they first met, Machen was a 2½ to 1 favorite as the No. 1 ranking heavyweight challenger. Folley was No. 2. Even though currently still No. 2, the fighter from Chandler, Ariz., finds himself on the short end of odds at about 2-1.

A fat purse for a fight against Sonny Liston of Chicago, the No. 3 ranked contender, awaits the winner with several promoters bidding for such a fight.

Machen has a record of 31 victories, one loss and one draw. Folley is 49-3-2.

Scoring will be on the California 10-point must system.

Cunninghams Win Third Straight In Grade Loop Play

Cunninghams of Westgate remained undefeated in the Grade School League by winning its game Saturday morning at East Junior High.

Cunninghams, with a 3-0 record, tripped the East Knicks, 20-19.

Neville and the East Whirlwinds also were victors.

Nevilles chalked up its first victory by defeating Andersons, 32-6. The Whirlwinds ripped Battistellis, 35-10.

Lewis Stays; On Probation

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (AP)—Art (Pappy) Lewis will be back next fall as West Virginia University's head football coach, but he is, in effect, on probation.

University President Elvin J. Stahr Jr. took the unusual step of delivering a public reprimand to Lewis over a statewide radio hookup Sunday, in announcing the school's Board of Governors had decided to keep Lewis on the payroll.

Lewis, who will be 49 next month, makes $13,100 a year.

Stahr, who said Lewis was kept on "by the skin of his teeth," has been president only since last fall. Pappy has been around for 10 years.

"I am thankful for the action of President Stahr and the Board of Governors," Lewis said in a prepared statement.

Stahr had recommended that Lewis be retained, contrary to an athletic council secret proposal of last Dec. 12.

One Big Miss

BODE, Iowa (AP) — Albert City High School's sophomore end Dick Sundblad intercepted 11 Bode-Twin River passes in a football game last fall. But in the final seconds, with the winning touchdown pass in his hands, he dropped the ball in the end zone.

Expansion To Be Aired By National Pro Loop

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—One word—"alignment"—could be the key to whether the National Football League expands this year.

The league's executive committee met for an hour Sunday night and voted favorably to consider at Wednesday's annual meeting franchise applications from Dallas, St. Louis, Miami and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Acting Commissioner Austin H. Gunsel said a majority vote of the executive committee — comprising one representative from each of the 12 clubs — approved the move. He refused to disclose the vote but a reliable source said it was 10-2.

The word "alignment" crept into the picture when several club owners were asked just what they meant by favoring expansion. The owners, who declined to be identified, said they thought the league should expand if a satisfactory alignment of the two conferences could be agreed on.

Also, an agreeable schedule and method of alloting players to new clubs would be necessary before new teams were admitted.

The vote to consider the four franchise applications was cast along the lines of expansion feeling. Ten clubs have indicated a desire to consider expansion now. George Preston Marshall of Washington and Walter Wolfner of the Cardinals are against adding any team.

It was learned that Gunsel, who was named acting commissioner last October after the death of Bert Bell, and Marshall Leahy, San Francisco attorney, are leading candidates for commissioner. A source said Gunsel possibly holds a 7-5 edge. It takes nine votes to elect.

An Associated Press poll of the teams showed six clubs firmly committed to Gunsel, two to Leahy and four uncommitted.

Delany Lowered Indoor Mark During Mile Streak

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Irishman Ron Delany lowered the world indoor mile record to 4:01.4, the U. S. men defeated the Russians again in the world's biggest dual meet, and Americans broke a cluster of records in track and field in 1959.

The American men over-powered the Russians, 127-108 — 14 first places to 8 — in the gigantic meet in Philadelphia's Franklin Field. Ray Norton of San Jose State was the big man in the U. S. victory, winning the 100 meter and 200-meter sprints and anchoring the winning 400 - meter relay team.

But the Russian women, as expected, defeated the U. S. lasses, 67-40, for the second straight year.

Of all the American marks, the high jump mark of 7 feet, 1¼ inches set by John Thomas of Boston University, was the best.

Young John dissipated all the arguments caused by Yuri Stepanov's elevator shoe when the Russian ace set a record of 7-1.

Don Bragg of the Army went up 15 feet, 9½ inches for a world indoor pole vault record and now has his sights set on 16 feet.

Veteran Parry O'Brien, pressed by several young muscle men who have been threatening to take over his spot as top man, shattered his own world shot put record with a heave of 63 feet, 4 inches.

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Tony Di Tardo was 85 Sunday and cried happily when his fellow convicts presented them with a cake with 85 candles.

Sentenced to life in 1920 in the slaying of his wife, Di Tardo has no interest in leaving after 40 years behind bars.

Killed In 'Horseplay'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Horseplay apparently led to the shooting death of Simpson Henry Fairchild, 17, after he drank wine with a group of friends Saturday night. Police said Sunday that Robert Burgin, 21, one of the wine-drinkers, admitted pointing the gun at Fairchild and pulling the trigger, believing the gun unloaded.

Band, Crowds Pay Honor To Negro Leader

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — A marching band, surging crowds and a new $19,000 hearse greeted the arrival Sunday night of the body of Negro spiritual leader Bishop C. M. (Sweet Daddy) Grace.

Husky uniformed members of the Grace Guard lifted Sweet Daddy's casket from the train which brought it from Los Angeles where he died Jan. 12.

The body of the 78-year-old religious leader of three million persons was placed in the hearse and a police escort led a 10-car motorcade to Grace's Charlotte temple.

As the motorcade neared Daddy Grace's House of Prayer for All People, an imposing $350,000-structure in Charlotte's slum area, the press of the crowds became tighter.

A block from the temple, a smartly uniformed Negro band briskly moved into position in front of the motorcade and struck up a march. Then the Grace Drum and Bugle Corps took its place in the procession and struck up with the band.

The body will lie in state until Tuesday when it will be taken by motorcade to Newport News, Va., Washington, Newark, N.J., where it will lie in state one day each, and then to New Bedford, Mass., for burial.

Six Reach Finals In Oratory Event

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Six teen-agers, representing nearly every area of the state, will come back here next Sunday to vie in the finals of the 35th statewide Prince of Peace oratory contest.

The six topped 20 others here Sunday in the semifinals of the competition sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches. The contest attracts nearly 3,000 youngsters.

Moving on to the finals are Sue Day of Toledo; Grace Ann Hickey of Rt. 1, St. Louisville (Licking County); Nick Baskey of 71 S. Willow, Fremont; Sandye Atkins of 821 Monroe, Lancaster; Douglas Lathrem of Dayton, and Mary Hall of Cleveland.

All of the 26 district winners will receive a four-day trip to the United Nations. The winners in next week's competition will receive college scholarships and cash prizes.

War On Starlings

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two night forays by a squad of eight marksmen armed with 12-gauge shotguns have bagged about 1,000 starlings that cluster around downtown Cincinnati buildings, police report. City Safety Director Oris Hamilton asked for the shotgun patrol last week, saying the birds had become a nuisance.

Princess Margriet, 16-year-old daughter of Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands, was born in Ottawa, Canada, during World War II.

Awards Given In Bridge Play

Three tables of bridge were in play when Mrs. Milan Garick entertained the fortnightly club at her home on N. Park Pl., Lisbon, Thursday night.

Prizes were awarded Miss Lucile Bennett and Mrs. Jack Clunk of Columbiana. Mrs. Lawrence Sauers of Lima, a former member, was a guest.

The club will meet in the Bennett home on N. Market St. Jan. 28.

The Charmettes met last week with Mrs. Solomon Williams at her country home.

Mrs. William Gibson presided. Plans were formulated for a tea and fashion show, with a tentative date of May 15. Committees were appointed by Mrs. Gibson as follows: Mrs. David Williams and Mrs. Solomon Williams, styles; Mrs. Foster Lewis, Mrs. Charles Dorsey and Mrs. Gibson, food and decorations, and Mrs. Joseph Kearse, fashion commentary.

Lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Dorsey in East Liverpool.

Mr. John Lake of Columbiana was hostess to Lisbon Club Associates Friday evening at her home. Mrs. Walter McCoy and Miss Alice Jean McGrew were awarded prizes at cards.

Iva Chapter 311, Order of Eastern Star will meet Wednesday night at the Masonic Temple. There will be initiation and lunch.

John Calvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Calvin, 527 W. Washington St., will leave this week for Tarkio, Mo., where he will enter the second semester at Tarkio College. He will major in teaching. He has been a cashier at the Farmers National Bank.

Miss Joyce Prudner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Prudner of E. Washington St., has been named to the dean's list at Kent State University for the fall quarter. Miss Prudner is majoring in elementary education.

Mr. and Mrs. James McGrew of East Liverpool spent Sunday with Mrs. McGrew's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pepple and daughter, of E. Washington St. and attended services at the First Presbyterian Church.

The Sunday morning service at the First Presbyterian Church included ordination of ruling elders, Howard Hochmann and Russell Peppel; installation of ruling elders, Ross Fox and O. Dale Mason; ordination of a deacon, Mrs. Russell Lodge; installation of a deacon, Mrs. Genesta Barr, and recognition of trustees, Donald Crosser and Roy E. Patterson.

Ohio's Air Guard Will Assist Army

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Air National Guardsmen will lend a helping hand to Regular Army troops at Ft. Knox, Ky., Feb. 4-5. Eighteen F84F Thunderstreaks will put on a bombing, strafing and rocketry demonstration.

The aerial attack is part of a firepower demonstration given to armored infantry troops. The jet attacks formerly were conducted by Tactical Air Command active duty pilots. However, the TAC has several higher priority missions so the show was accepted by the Air National Guard.

The Ohio weekend warriors will send six fighter-bombers from each of their tactical fighter squadrons—the 162nd at Springfield, the 164th at Mansfield and the 166th at Lockbourne AFB near Columbus, wing commander Col. Dale E. Shafer Jr. announced.

Pilots, maintenance men and other personnel will depart for Ft. Knox on Jan. 31, practice attack procedures Feb. 1-3 and perform Feb. 4-5. Col. Albert B. Line of Mansfield is the project officer for the undertaking.

Bulldozers Keep Lava From Engulfing Resort

HONOLULU (AP) — A fiery river of lava continued its flow to the sea from Kilauea volcano today after hard-working bulldozer crews prevented it from engulfing Warm Springs resort Sunday.

The crews pushed up a 20-foot dike to divert the molten rock shortly before a new fountain from the main lava flow shot lava and pumice to 1,700 feet. The main flow is near the evacuated village of Kapoho, three miles from Warm Springs.

Guided tours to the Kapoho area were permitted again Sunday after fumes and pumice fall stopped. Kilauea is on Hawaii Island, largest in the archipelago and 200 miles southeast of Honolulu.

Swastikas Painted

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Vandals painted three swastikas and the words "Ousten Judden" on the Temple Beth Israel here early Sunday, police reported. They said the temple had been broken into but no damage was reported inside.

Band, Crowds Pay Honor To Negro Leader

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — A marching band, surging crowds and a new $19,000 hearse greeted the arrival Sunday night of the body of Negro spiritual leader Bishop C. M. (Sweet Daddy) Grace.

Husky uniformed members of the Grace Guard lifted Sweet Daddy's casket from the train which brought it from Los Angeles where he died Jan. 12.

The body of the 78 - year - old religious leader of three million persons was placed in the hearse and a police escort led a 10-car motorcade to Grace's Charlotte temple.

As the motorcade neared Daddy Grace's House of Prayer for All People, an imposing $350,000-structure in Charlotte's slum area, the press of the crowds became tighter.

A block from the temple, a smartly uniformed Negro band briskly moved into position in front of the motorcade and struck up a march. Then the Grace Drum and Bugle Corps took its place in the procession and struck up with the band.

The body will lie in state until Tuesday when it will be taken by motorcade to Newport News, Va., Washington, Newark, N.J., where it will lie in state one day each, and then to New Bedford, Mass., for burial.

Six Reach Finals In Oratory Event

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Six teen - agers, representing nearly every area of the state, will come back here next Sunday to vie in the finals of the 35th statewide Prince of Peace oratory contest.

The six topped 20 others here Sunday in the semifinals of the competition sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches. The contest attracts nearly 3,000 youngsters.

Moving on to the finals are Sue Day of Toledo; Grace Ann Hickey of Rt. 1, St. Louisville (Licking County); Nick Baskey of 71 S. Willow, Fremont; Sandye Atkins of 821 Monroe, Lancaster; Douglas Lathrem of Dayton, and Mary Hall of Cleveland.

All of the 26 district winners will receive a four-day trip to the United Nations. The winners in next week's competition will receive college scholarships and cash prizes.

War On Starlings

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two night forays by a squad of eight marksmen armed with 12-gauge shotguns have bagged about 1,000 starlings that cluster around downtown Cincinnati buildings, police report. City Safety Director Oris Hamilton asked for the shotgun patrol last week, saying the birds had become a nuisance.

Princess Margriet, 16-year-old daughter of Queen Juliana and Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands, was born in Ottawa, Canada, during World War II.

Awards Given In Bridge Play

Three tables of bridge were in play when Mrs. Milan Garick entertained the fortnightly club at her home on N. Park Pl., Lisbon, Thursday night.

Prizes were awarded Miss Lucile Bennett and Mrs. Jack Clunk of Columbiana. Mrs. Lawrence Sauers of Lima, a former member, was a guest.

The club will meet in the Bennett home on N. Market St. Jan. 28.

The Charmettes met last week with Mrs. Solomon Williams at her country home.

Mrs. William Gibson presided. Plans were formulated for a tea and fashion show, with a tentative date of May 15. Committees were appointed by Mrs. Gibson as follows: Mrs. David Williams and Mrs. Solomon Williams, styles; Mrs. Foster Lewis, Mrs. Charles Dorsey and Mrs. Gibson, food and decorations, and Mrs. Joseph Kearse, fashion commentary.

Lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Dorsey in East Liverpool.

Mr. John Lake of Columbiana was hostess to Lisbon Club Associates Friday evening at her home. Mrs. Walter McCoy and Miss Alice Jean McGrew were awarded prizes at cards.

Iva Chapter 311, Order of Eastern Star will meet Wednesday night at the Masonic Temple. There will be initiation and lunch.

John Calvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Calvin, 527 W. Washington St., will leave this week for Tarkio, Mo., where he will enter the second semester at Tarkio College. He will major in teaching. He has been a cashier at the Farmers National Bank.

Miss Joyce Prudner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Prudner of E. Washington St., has been named to the dean's list at Kent State University for the fall quarter. Miss Prudner is majoring in elementary education.

Mr. and Mrs. James McGrew of East Liverpool spent Sunday with Mrs. McGrew's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Pepple and daughter, of E. Washington St. and attended services at the First Presbyterian Church.

The Sunday morning service at the First Presbyterian Church included ordination of ruling elders, Howard Hochmann and Russell Peppel; installation of ruling elders, Ross Fox and O. Dale Mason; ordination of a deacon, Mrs. Russell Lodge; installation of a deacon, Mrs. Genesta Barr, and recognition of trustees, Donald Crosser and Roy E. Patterson.

Ohio's Air Guard Will Assist Army

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Air National Guardsmen will lend a helping hand to Regular Army troops at Ft. Knox, Ky., Feb. 4-5. Eighteen F84F Thunderstreaks will put on a bombing, strafing and rocketry demonstration.

The aerial attack is part of a firepower demonstration given to armored infantry troops. The jet attacks formerly were conducted by Tactical Air Command active duty pilots. However, the TAC has several higher priority missions so the show was accepted by the Air National Guard.

The Ohio weekend warriors will send six fighter - bombers from each of their tactical fighter squadrons—the 162nd at Springfield, the 164th at Mansfield and the 166th at Lockbourne AFB near Columbus, wing commander Col. Dale E. Shafer Jr. announced.

Pilots, maintenance men and other personnel will depart for Ft. Knox on Jan. 31, practice attack procedures Feb. 1-3 and perform Feb. 4-5. Col. Albert B. Line of Mansfield is the project officer for the undertaking.

Bulldozers Keep Lava From Engulfing Resort

HONOLULU (AP) — A fiery river of lava continued its flow to the sea from Kilauea volcano today after hard-working bulldozer crews prevented it from engulfing Warm Springs resort Sunday.

The crews pushed up a 20-foot dike to divert the molten rock shortly before a new fountain from the main lava flow shot lava and pumice to 1,700 feet. The main flow is near the evacuated village of Kapoho, three miles from Warm Springs.

Guided tours to the Kapoho area were permitted again Sunday after fumes and pumice fall stopped. Kilauea is on Hawaii Island, largest in the archipelago and 200 miles southeast of Honolulu.

Swastikas Painted

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Vandals painted three swastikas and the words "Ousten Judden" on the Temple Beth Israel here early Sunday, police reported. They said the temple had been broken into but no damage was reported inside.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband has been doing a good bit of reading on adult-child relationships and he has decided that every father should be a pal to his son.

Our only boy is 10. My husband is 44. Recent psychological findings, according to my husband, indicate most kids are scared stiff of their parents. These authorities claim a relaxed "buddy" atmosphere creates a healthy emotional climate.

Some of our older friends who bought this theory turned out spoiled, selfish kids who walk all over them. I don't go along with it personally but he says it's sound. May we have your views? — MOMMER.

Dear Mommer: Your husband must be reading old books. According to recent psychological findings it's the PARENTS who are scared stiff of their kids. Too much permissiveness had put kids in the driver's seat.

A father should be a father. What 10-year-old kid wants a 44-year-old pal? A healthy father-son relationship is one which is relaxed and friendly. When Dad gets palsy-walsy he destroys the symbol of authority which every child needs to guide him through childhood and adolescence.

Sweet And Innocent

Dear Ann: I have a question several of my girl friends would like answered. If you print this letter you'll be doing a lot of teen-agers a big favor.

How can a girl keep a fellow interested without letting him get away with murder, if you know what I mean? My best friend, who has gone steady with four different guys, says the best technique is to let a boy advance gradually. I don't think this is a good idea because it's a one-way street to you know where.

Another girl in our crowd, who is a top student and leader in school government, says the best policy is to stay sweet and innocent and let the boys know where you stand. She may be right but she sure stays home a lot.

We are puzzled and need advice from an older person—SWEET 16.

Dear Sweet: A girl who has trouble keeping her boy friend in line is better off losing him—in fact she should tell him to get lost.

It's up to the girl to set the limits and make it clear from the outset what those limits are. Any fellow who would move on because a girl's standards are too high isn't worth having around.

The girl who feels she must resort to intimacy in order to keep a fellow interested admits she has nothing else to offer. Some girls are better off home alone than out with an 11-handed creep.

Common Thief

Dear Ann: That letter from Nannette who complained because her boy friend thought it was cute to swipe things from restaurants needs a sequel.

The boy, of course, is a common thief. He can call it souvenir hunting if he likes — it still is stealing. The guy probably orders a 30 cent sandwich and walks out with $3 worth of swag.

I'm in the restaurant supply business. China cups cost 70 cents a piece, plates are $24 a dozen. Stainless steel spoons are 20 cents Tea and coffee pots are $2.50 each. These are wholesale prices.

I hope Nannette will chuck the cluck.—DAYTON DAN.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Dieter Should 'Know The Score'

Of the millions of words written on diet and reducing, perhaps none commands so much respect or does more to bolster sagging morale than straight talk from former overweights who have won through to success. One victorious reducer writes:

By Ida Jean Kain

"I believe a person should never diet unless she knows something about it. I learned from experience. I used to try to follow a diet, but I would soon lose faith. I had no gauge to know whether I was doing well or poorly."

The best-intentioned dieter can be thrown for a loss when the pointer on the scales refuses to go down, despite conscientious calorie cutting. This can happen at the start of a diet as well as later on, after part of the fat has been lost.

ONCE A DIETER understands that water retention in tissues is a common cause of these weight plateaus, she is not thrown off her course. She no longer doubts herself or the diet.

The inordinate craving for sweets in the early stages of the diet is another hurdle that should be understood. This initial craving is quite normal, but within two or three weeks the sharp appetite-demand diminishes perceptibly. Knowing that the craving will not go on forever, you can concentrate on surmounting the problem rather than being overwhelmed by it.

To continue the letter: "Last January I started your protective diet. It is a real help to have menus to follow and to know many different foods can be used in a diet. But the greatest help came from your columns in which you told us what to expect. It was like having a friend to call on for help!

"I found out that a person, regardless of hard work, cannot lunch on sweets and expect to lose. Since I changed my sweet snacks to a hard-cooked egg or fruit, I've lost my craving for sweets and feel so much better.

"I have reduced from 170 to 139 and I am 5 feet 4 tall. My friends think I've starved myself to lose so much weight. How wrong they are! I tell them that the secret is a protective diet ... plus slimming psychology.

"In one of your articles you wrote, 'Would you rather have the 5-minutes' pleasure of eating a piece of cake — or the more lasting reward of a shapely figure?' I tell you that really stays in my mind.

—:—

"I HAVE ALSO followed your suggestions on exercising and have found them a great help not only in reducing, but in shaping up and keeping the pounds off. Many, many thanks."

Hurrah! Dieters, exercise is the dieter's "life-saver," particularly when you hit the later weight-standstills. With exercise, you keep right on slimming your measurements.

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for the "Hunger Control Diet." Address your letter to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Sales Set Record

CINCINNATI (AP)—The U. S. Shoe Corp. says its sales of $50,858,932 in 1959 and profit of $3,392,892—equal to $3.01 a share—set new all-time highs for the firm. Officials report this compared with sales of $45,316,619 in 1958 when profit was $2.34 per share. The firm makes women's shoes at 13 plants.

Wounded Critically

CINCINNATI (AP) — Douglas Blake, an Elkton, Ky., native now of Chicago, was shot and wounded critically Sunday by a patrolman who said Blake pointed a gun at the officer's partner. Patrolman Perry Brunson said his partner, Eugene Black, was disarming two men when Blake pulled out the gun.

Barking Dog Saves 17 As Fire Strikes

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Minnie Howard doesn't know where she and her son, 14, will live after having been turned out of their apartment, but wherever they go they'll be sure to take Mary Margaret, their 2-year-old mongrel dog.

Mary Margaret's incessant barking awoke Mrs. Howard and resulted in five families getting safely out of a burning building in downtown Painesville early Sunday.

The fire, which started in the Vogue Lounge on the ground floor of the two-story brick building, caused damage estimated by the building owner, Michael Mucciarone, at $50,000. There were unofficial estimates that another $30,000 worth of damage resulted from smoke in adjacent stores and apartments.

There was extensive smoke and water damage to the bus depot in the same building.

Mrs. Howard said when she awoke and went into the living room, "there she (the dog) was, yapping and jumping at the walls." Mrs. Howard opened the door and found the hallway filled with smoke. Firemen were called and directed 17 people down the smoke-filled stairway.

Fire Chief Claude E. Tuthill said a smouldering cigarette dumped from an ash tray into a waste basket in the bar could have caused the blaze.

1,106 Given Food During January

Some 1,106 persons, representing 308 relief cases, received surplus food in January, according to Robert Bycroft, county welfare director and supervisor of the foods program. There were 527 cases certified involving 1,731 persons.

Last Week's distribution included:

Friday — East Liverpool Central Fire Station — 204 certified cases for 635 persons with 104 receiving aid for 350 persons.

Thursday—Wellsville City Building—103 certified for 321 persons with 72 receiving food for 237.

Wednesday — Salem City Building—119 certified for 374 with 64 receiving food for 220.

Tuesday — Warehouse in Columbiana — 101 certified for 401 with 68 receiving aid for 299.

73rd Wedding Date, 100th Year Observed

POINT PLEASANT, N.J. (AP) —Henry Roth and his wife, Ida, celebrated Sunday his 100th birthday and their 73rd wedding anniversary.

The retired carpenter and his wife, 93, were asked whether they had ever thought about age. "No," said Roth, "and now is no time to start."

Frank Declined Double Indemnity Option In Policy

WESTPORT, Conn (AP)—Julian Frank, who met death in the possible suicide-bombing of an airliner, declined an option for double indemnity in a half-million-dollar life insurance policy.

This was disclosed Sunday night by Edward Boyd Jr., who sold the $500,000 policy to Frank.

Boyd has said Frank inquired about a insurance policy in the neighborhood of $100,000, but that he himself showed the attorney "how to own subtantially more" isurance. It led to the $500,000 policy, Boyd said.

Frank's declining the double indemnity option added to the mystery surrounding his death and the Jan. 6 crash of the New York-to-Miami airliner in North Carolina. Frank and 33 others lost their lives in the crash, apparently caused by a bomb blast.

Since the tragedy, numerous financial and legal difficulties that beset Frank have come to light. Some authorities leaned toward the theory that Frank carried a bomb aboard the flight.

Frank, who lived in Westport but practiced law in New York City, was known to fear plane travel.

Second largest city in Great Britain is Glasgow, Scotland.

President Eisenhower's tour of Europe, Asia and Africa took him to lands in which live about 23 per cent of the world's population.

Air Reservists Slate Visit At City Station

Air Reserve personnel will be at the East Liverpool Air Force Recruiting Station on the third floor of the city hall Jan. 26 and 28 to explain the six-month program and other reserve information.

The visit is in connection with Air Force Reserve Week Jan. 25-29, according to M. Sgt. Robert Haley, Youngstown recruiter.

The recruiting office is assisting the 757th Troop Carrier Squadron in the recruiting observance of Air Force Reserve Week. The recruiting personnel will be here between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. both days. Many vacancies exist for prior service personnel of any branch of service. Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband has been doing a good bit of reading on adult-child relationships and he has decided that every father should be a pal to his son.

Our only boy is 10. My husband is 44. Recent psychological findings, according to my husband, indicate most kids are scared stiff of their parents. These authorities claim a relaxed "buddy" atmosphere creates a healthy emotional climate.

Some of our older friends who bought this theory turned out spoiled, selfish kids who walk all over them. I don't go along with it personally but he says it's sound. May we have your views? — MOMMER.

Dear Mommer: Your husband must be reading old books. According to recent psychological findings it's the PARENTS who are scared stiff of their kids. Too much permissiveness had put kids in the driver's seat.

A father should be a father. What 10-year-old kid wants a 44-year-old pal? A healthy father-son relationship is one which is relaxed and friendly. When Dad gets palsy-walsy he destroys the symbol of authority which every child needs to guide him through childhood and adolescence.

Sweet And Innocent

Dear Ann: I have a question several of my girl friends would like answered. If you print this letter you'll be doing a lot of teen-agers a big favor.

How can a girl keep a fellow interested without letting him get away with murder, if you know what I mean? My best friend, who has gone steady with four different guys, says the best technique is to let a boy advance gradually. I don't think this is a good idea because it's a one-way street to you know where.

Another girl in our crowd, who is a top student and leader in school government, says the best policy is to stay sweet and innocent and let the boys know where you stand. She may be right but she sure stays home a lot.

We are puzzled and need advice from an older person—SWEET 16.

Dear Sweet: A girl who has trouble keeping her boy friend in line is better off losing him—in fact she should tell him to get lost.

It's up to the girl to set the limits and make it clear from the outset what those limits are. Any fellow who would move on because a girl's standards are too high isn't worth having around.

The girl who feels she must resort to intimacy in order to keep a fellow interested admits she has nothing else to offer. Some girls are better off home alone than out with an 11-handed creep.

Common Thief

Dear Ann: That letter from Nannette who complained because her boy friend thought it was cute to swipe things from restaurants needs a sequel.

The boy, of course, is a common thief. He can call it souvenir hunting if he likes — it still is stealing. The guy probably orders a 30 cent sandwich and walks out with $3 worth of swag.

I'm in the restaurant supply business. China cups cost 70 cents a piece, plates are $24 a dozen. Stainless steel spoons are 20 cents. Tea and coffee pots are $2.50 each. These are wholesale prices.

I hope Nannette will chuck the cluck.—DAYTON DAN.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Dieter Should 'Know The Score'

Of the millions of words written on diet and reducing, perhaps none commands so much respect or does more to bolster sagging morale than straight talk from former overweights who have won through to success. One victorious reducer writes: "I believe a person should never diet unless she knows something about it. I learned from experience. I used to try to follow a diet, but I would soon lose faith. I had no gauge to know whether I was doing well or poorly."

By Ida Jean Kain

The best-intentioned dieter can be thrown for a loss when the pointer on the scales refuses to go down, despite conscientious calorie cutting. This can happen at the start of a diet as well as later on, after part of the fat has been lost.

ONCE A DIETER understands that water retention in tissues is a common cause of these weight plateaus, she is not thrown off her course. She no longer doubts herself or the diet.

The inordinate craving for sweets in the early stages of the diet is another hurdle that should be understood. This initial craving is quite normal, but within two or three weeks the sharp appetite-demand diminishes perceptibly. Knowing that the craving will not go on forever, you can concentrate on surmounting the problem rather than being overwhelmed by it.

To continue the letter: "Last January I started your protective diet. It is a real help to have menus to follow and to know many different foods can be used in a diet. But the greatest help came from your columns in which you told us what to expect. It was like having a friend to call on for help!

"I found out that a person, regardless of hard work, cannot lunch on sweets and expect to lose. Since I changed my sweet snacks to a hard-cooked egg or fruit, I've lost my craving for sweets and feel so much better.

"I have reduced from 170 to 139 and I am 5 feet 4 tall. My friends think I've starved myself to lose so much weight. How wrong they are! I tell them that the secret is a protective diet ... plus slimming psychology.

"In one of your articles you wrote, 'Would you rather have the 5-minutes' pleasure of eating a piece of cake — or the more lasting reward of a shapely figure?' I tell you that really stays in my mind.

—:—

"I HAVE ALSO followed your suggestions on exercising and have found them a great help not only in reducing, but in shaping up and keeping the pounds off. Many, many thanks."

Hurrah! Dieters, exercise is the dieter's "life-saver," particularly when you hit the later weight-standstills. With exercise, you keep right on slimming your measurements.

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for the "Hunger Control Diet." Address your letter to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests can not be answered.

Sales Set Record

CINCINNATI (AP)—The U. S. Shoe Corp. says its sales of $50,858,932 in 1959 and profit of $3,392,892—equal to $3.01 a share—set new all-time highs for the firm. Officials report this compared with sales of $45,316,619 in 1958 when profit was $2.34 per share. The firm makes women's shoes at 13 plants.

Wounded Critically

CINCINNATI (AP) — Douglas Blake, an Elkton, Ky., native now of Chicago, was shot and wounded critically Sunday by a patrolman who said Blake pointed a gun at the officer's partner. Patrolman Perry Brunson said his partner, Eugene Black, was disarming two men when Blake pulled out the gun.

Barking Dog Saves 17 As Fire Strikes

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Minnie Howard doesn't know where she and her son, 14, will live after having been turned out of their apartment, but wherever they go they'll be sure to take Mary Margaret, their 2-year-old mongrel dog.

Mary Margaret's incessant barking awoke Mrs. Howard and resulted in five families getting safely out of a burning building in downtown Painesville early Sunday.

The fire, which started in the Vogue Lounge on the ground floor of the two-story brick building, caused damage estimated by the building owner, Michael Mucciarone, at $50,000. There were unofficial estimates that another $30,000 worth of damage resulted from smoke in adjacent stores and apartments.

There was extensive smoke and water damage to the bus depot in the same building.

Mrs. Howard said when she awoke and went into the living room, "there she (the dog) was, yapping and jumping at the walls." Mrs. Howard opened the door and found the hallway filled with smoke. Firemen were called and directed 17 people down the smoke-filled stairway.

Fire Chief Claude E. Tuthill said a smouldering cigarette dumped from an ash tray into a waste basket in the bar could have caused the blaze.

Air Reservists Slate Visit At City Station

Air Reserve personnel will be at the East Liverpool Air Force Recruiting Station on the third floor of the city hall Jan. 26 and 28 to explain the six-month program and other reserve information.

The visit is in connection with Air Force Reserve Week Jan. 25-29, according to M. Sgt. Robert Haley, Youngstown recruiter.

The recruiting office is assisting the 757th Troop Carrier Squadron in the recruiting observance of Air Force Reserve Week. The recruiting personnel will be here between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. both days. Many vacancies exist for prior service personnel of any branch of service. Interested persons may contact the recruiting office or call Youngstown, RIverside 6-3378.

1,106 Given Food During January

Some 1,106 persons, representing 308 relief cases, received surplus food in January, according to Robert Bycroft, county welfare director and supervisor of the foods program. There were 527 cases certified involving 1,731 persons.

Last Week's distribution included:

Friday — East Liverpool Central Fire Station — 204 certified cases for 635 persons with 104 receiving aid for 350 persons.

Thursday—Wellsville City Building—103 certified for 321 persons with 72 receiving food for 237.

Wednesday — Salem City Building—119 certified for 374 with 64 receiving food for 220.

Tuesday — Warehouse in Columbiana — 101 certified for 401 with 68 receiving aid for 299.

73rd Wedding Date, 100th Year Observed

POINT PLEASANT, N.J. (AP) —Henry Roth and his wife, Ida, celebrated Sunday his 100th birthday and their 73rd wedding anniversary.

The retired carpenter and his wife, 93, were asked whether they had ever thought about age. "No," said Roth, "and now is no time to start."

Frank Declined Double Indemnity Option In Policy

WESTPORT, Conn (AP)—Julian Frank, who met death in the possible suicide-bombing of an airliner, declined an option for double indemnity in a half-million-dollar life insurance policy.

This was disclosed Sunday night by Edward Boyd Jr., who sold the $500,000 policy to Frank.

Boyd has said Frank inquired about a insurance policy in the neighborhood of $100,000, but that he himself showed the attorney "how to own subtantially more" isurance. It led to the $500,000 policy, Boyd said.

Frank's declining the double indemnity option added to the mystery surrounding his death and the Jan. 6 crash of the New York-to-Miami airliner in North Carolina. Frank and 33 others lost their lives in the crash, apparently caused by a bomb blast.

Since the tragedy, numerous financial and legal difficulties that beset Frank have come to light. Some authorities leaned toward the theory that Frank carried a bomb aboard the flight.

Frank, who lived in Westport but practiced law in New York City, was known to fear plane travel.

CONTEMPORARY GEM. From the front this looks like an ordinary three-bedroom ranch. Looks, however, are deceiving. Beneath this home's three bedrooms, living and dining areas are a basement playroom and two-car garage. Here's A Speedy Remedy If Bureau Drawer Sticks

If you really want to start the day in the wrong manner, the balky bureau drawer is exactly the right place.

Probably there is nothing more irritating than to try to get a clean shirt out of your shirt drawer and only be able to get it halfway out. In many homes there are more than one drawer, in more than one chest of drawers, which will never open properly. The fact is that it takes only about 10 minutes to fix almost any sticking drawer.

The top edge of the sides presents 90 per cent of the difficulty, and a few minutes with sandpaper does the trick. Naturally, the question is how to get the drawer out so that you can work on the edge.

The best method is to start the drawer, if it is tightly closed, by using a pry between one of the handles and the front edge of the bureau top. If the drawer can be opened a few inches a block of wood and hammer is used to tap the sides alternately and inch the drawer out. After the top edges are sanded off smooth, a slight application of wax-stick guarantees long and easy operation.

In speaking of bureaus and chests of drawers, it might be said that many fine pieces are outdated only by the ornate hardware. These can be removed and plain brass buttons substituted for the heavy, old handles usually seen on old furniture. The difference this makes in a piece is remarkable.

Balky drawers never cure themselves, but get worse as the constant tugging warps them out of shape. Once a drawer is eased it helps a lot to coat the sides and interior with shellac. This prevents swelling in damp weather.

Here Are Tidbits Of Interest For Home Owners Over U.S.

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

From many different sources comes these various tidbits of interest to home owners:

Housing experts, who don't always see eye to eye, are pretty much agreed that there will be a drop of about 10 per cent in home building this year. The only thing that might change the picture, they say, is a sudden easing of the tight money market, a development not expected.

When selecting a color from from those little cards or "chips," remember that the color will appear slightly darker when applied to a large area such as a wall.

No matter how vapor - tight the walls of a house are, clothes dryers should be vented to the outside to prevent excessive moisture indoors.

A Texas realtor sold a house in Houston for $325,000 cash. He claims it is the largest all-cash residential sale ever made.

Some real estate authorities feel that the 6.6 per cent vacancy rate for rental units recently quoted by the Census Bureau was misleading.

They point out that a considerable percentage of these vacancies lack plumbing and other facilities to make them habitable. In the active market, these authorities explain, the rate of rental vacancies actually is less than half the figure released by the Census Bureau.

Parchment lampshades can be preserved and protected with a thin coat of clear shellac.

A record number of workers in 1960 is expected to shift into residential areas new to them, thanks to the continuing decentralization of industry, which in turn is spurred by the federal highway program from coast to coast.

New on the market for do-it-yourselfers is a radial drill press, heretofore used only in industrial plants.

The manufacturers of water-conditioning equipment are looking for a big increase in sales, due to a recognition by prospective home buyers of the fact that soft, conditioned water makes homemaking tasks easier and saves more than it costs over the years.

States applying for planning assistance from the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the federal government now will be required to show that such planning will embrace the total urbanized area, including fringe localities and adjoining sections.

No Job Hazard

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Postman E. L. DeWitt says he has carried the mail 30 years without either a bunion or a dog bite.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I restore my soiled powder puffs?

A. Wash them in warm soapsuds, scrubbing the bad spots with a fingernail brush. Don't lay them out flat to dry, or they might turn sour. Instead, pin them to the sunny side of a window curtain so that the air can get at them.

Q. How can I keep watercress fresh and crisp for several days?

A. Wash and drain the watercress, then place it in a heavy paper bag in the refrigerator — keeping the bag in the moderately cold section.

Q. How can I forestall the constant fraying of lamp cords near the sockets?

A. You can put an end to this nuisance by dabbing on a couple of thin coats of fresh white shellac.

In many homes there are more than one drawer, in more than one chest of drawers, which will never open properly. The fact is that it takes only about 10 minutes to fix almost any sticking drawer.

The top edge of the sides presents 90 per cent of the difficulty, and a few minutes with sandpaper does the trick. Naturally, the question is how to get the drawer out so that you can work on the edge.

The best method is to start the drawer, if it is tightly closed, by using a pry between one of the handles and the front edge of the bureau top. If the drawer can be opened a few inches a block of wood and hammer is used to tap the sides alternately and inch the drawer out. After the top edges are sanded off smooth, a slight application of wax-stick guarantees long and easy operation.

In speaking of bureaus and chests of drawers, it might be said that many fine pieces are outdated only by the ornate hardware. These can be removed and plain brass buttons substituted for the heavy, old handles usually seen on old furniture. The difference this makes in a piece is remarkable.

Balky drawers never cure themselves, but get worse as the constant tugging warps them out of shape. Once a drawer is eased it helps a lot to coat the sides and interior with shellac. This prevents swelling in damp weather.

Here Are Tidbits Of Interest For Home Owners Over U.S.

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

From many different sources comes these various tidbits of interest to home owners:

Housing experts, who don't always see eye to eye, are pretty much agreed that there will be a drop of about 10 per cent in home building this year. The only thing that might change the picture, they say, is a sudden easing of the tight money market, a development not expected.

When selecting a color from from those little cards or "chips," remember that the color will appear slightly darker when applied to a large area such as a wall.

No matter how vapor - tight the walls of a house are, clothes dryers should be vented to the outside to prevent excessive moisture indoors.

A Texas realtor sold a house in Houston for $325,000 cash. He claims it is the largest all-cash residential sale ever made.

Some real estate authorities feel that the 6.6 per cent vacancy rate for rental units recently quoted by the Census Bureau was misleading.

They point out that a considerable percentage of these vacancies lack plumbing and other facilities to make them habitable. In the active market, these authorities explain, the rate of rental vacancies actually is less than half the figure released by the Census Bureau.

Parchment lampshades can be preserved and protected with a thin coat of clear shellac.

A record number of workers in 1960 is expected to shift into residential areas new to them, thanks to the continuing decentralization of industry, which in turn is spurred by the federal highway program from coast to coast.

New on the market for do-it-yourselfers is a radial drill press, heretofore used only in industrial plants.

The manufacturers of water-conditioning equipment are looking for a big increase in sales, due to a recognition by prospective home buyers of the fact that soft, conditioned water makes homemaking tasks easier and saves more than it costs over the years.

States applying for planning assistance from the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the federal government now will be required to show that such planning will embrace the total urbanized area, including fringe localities and adjoining sections.

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Postman E. L. DeWitt says he has carried the mail 30 years without either a bunion or a dog bite.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I restore my soiled powder puffs?

A. Wash them in warm soapsuds, scrubbing the bad spots with a fingernail brush. Don't lay them out flat to dry, or they might turn sour. Instead, pin them to the sunny side of a window curtain so that the air can get at them.

Q. How can I keep watercress fresh and crisp for several days?

A. Wash and drain the watercress, then place it in a heavy paper bag in the refrigerator — keeping the bag in the moderately cold section.

Q. How can I forestall the constant fraying of lamp cords near the sockets?

A. You can put an end to this nuisance by dabbing on a couple of thin coats of fresh white shellac.

Billion Boost Called For In Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A billion-dollar boost in U.S. foreign aid money was asked today by President Eisenhower. The increase is needed to help provide free world allies with advancd weapons and equipment, he said.

In his message to Congress on his budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, the President asked $4,175,000,000 in new appropriations for U. S. mutual security programs. This is about 950 million dollars above current appropriations, he said. He had asked $3,930,000,000 last year, but Congress cut the amount sharply.

"This increase in the program," his message said, "is needed to accelerate economic and technical assistance, chiefly through the Development Loan Fund, and to strenthen free world forces, in particular the forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, with advanced weapons and equipment."

Specifically, the President asked for two billion dollars in new money for military assistance, and $2,175,000,000 for various forms of economic aid. The military assistance request accounts for 700 million dollars of the total increase.

The message estimated actual foreign aid expenditures in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961 at $3,450,000,000 or 100 million over the current period. This includes 1¾ billion for military aid spending.

Dies Of Wreck Injuries

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Mary Teeter, 80, of Bainbridge, died Sunday of injuries suffered last Thursday in a bus-truck collision on U. S. 50, six miles west of here. Mrs. Teeter was one of seven persons injured in the crash.

Toll Awaited As Train Rips School Bus

FACKLER, Ala. (AP) — A freight train crashed into a school bus near this northeast Alabama town today. Ambulance drivers at the scene said possibly 10 children were killed.

The dead and injured were taken to hospitals at nearby Scottsboro, Ala., and the Stevenson community.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Bell of Stevenson said the train hit the bus just behind the mid-section. The vehicle was demolished.

At Stevenson, hospital officials said they had received three dead children and one critically injured. They ranged in age from 10 to 16.

At Scottsboro, hospital officials said they had received 10 to 12 children, but were unable to give an immediate count of the dead.

The bus was carrying about 14 children at the time of the collision, Bell said. It was headed for Stevenson schools.

Billion Boost Called For In Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — A billion-dollar boost in U.S. foreign aid money was asked today by President Eisenhower. The increase is needed to help provide free world allies with advanced weapons and equipment, he said.

In his message to Congress on his budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, the President asked $4,175,000,000 in new appropriations for U. S. mutual security programs. This is about 950 million dollars above current appropriations, he said. He had asked $3,930,000,000 last year, but Congress cut the amount sharply.

"This increase in the program," his message said, "is needed to accelerate economic and technical assistance, chiefly through the Development Loan Fund, and to strenthen free world forces, in particular the forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, with advanced weapons and equipment."

Specifically, the President asked for two billion dollars in new money for military assistance, and $2,175,000,000 for various forms of economic aid. The military assistance request accounts for 700 million dollars of the total increase.

The message estimated actual foreign aid expenditures in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961 at $3,450,000,000 or 100 million over the current period. This includes 1¾ billion for military aid spending.

Toll Awaited As Train Rips School Bus

FACKLER, Ala. (AP) — A freight train crashed into a school bus near this northeast Alabama town today. Ambulance drivers at the scene said possibly 10 children were killed.

The dead and injured were taken to hospitals at nearby Scottsboro, Ala., and the Stevenson community.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Bell of Stevenson said the train hit the bus just behind the mid-section. The vehicle was demolished.

At Stevenson, hospital officials said they had received three dead children and one critically injured. They ranged in age from 10 to 16.

At Scottsboro, hospital officials said they had received 10 to 12 children, but were unable to give an immediate count of the dead.

The bus was carrying about 14 children at the time of the collision, Bell said. It was headed for Stevenson schools.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

3 CARD OF THANKS

OUR sudden loss, the death of our beloved mother, Georgia Williams has left an emptiness in our hearts, that can never be wholly filled, but the many kind words and acts of sympathy from our friends and relatives have helped immeasurably. We are deeply grateful to the pall bearers, Rev. Arden Mercier, and the Cannon Funeral Home.

Demonstrators Hit Anti-Semitism

By The Associated Press

Thousands of Britons who fought nazism and Italians who lived under fascism demonstrated Sunday against anti-Semitism.

The month-long wave of swastika smearings that began in West Germany and spread around the world seemed fading — as many Jewish leaders predicted it would. Only a few scattered incidents directed at Jews were reported over the weekend.

Widespread inquests into the swastika displays—whether hooligan exhibitionisms or symptoms of an organized revival of nazism —have brought forward nothing conclusive.

A British Sunday newspaper, the Empire News, said it had proof the anti-Semitic outbreaks in West Germany were inspired by Soviet agents to discredit Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government. British officials declined comment.

There have been anti - Semitic displays in Britain, too, but the newspaper did not suggest these were inspired by the Reds. Home Secretary Richard A. Butler has said the British outbreaks could be "largely attributed to irresponsible hooliganism."

Waving banners reading "We protest against nazism" and "The blood of millions cries out," thousands marched through London's half-deserted streets Sunday. The long column paraded silently to the West German Embassy, where a delegation delivered a letter describing the manifestation as a reflection of British public opinion "which holds anti-Semitism in abhorrence."

They got a sympathetic reception from the charge d'affaires, Dr. Joachim Ritter, who promised the Bonn government would crack down on hate mongers "until this evil is eradicated."

Rallies against anti-Semitism, with youth movements of various political parties taking part, also were held in several Italian cities. The biggest were in Turin and Florence, where hundreds paid tribute at memorials honoring the victims of fascism and nazism.

West Berlin police rounded up three right-wingers freed by a magistrate last Thursday when they were brought before him on charges of advocating anti-constitutional acts. The prosecutor's office got new arrest warrants from another court.

The three, officers of the German Union, were charged with supplying of a bust of Hitler and Nazi literature to a banned group calling itself the "National Youth of Germany." A 23-year-old student also surrendered when he learned police had a warrant for his arrest.

In New York City, two six-footers were charged Sunday with attacking a party of six Jews—including two women—in a diner. The melee broke out after the young men reportedly made anti-Semitic remarks. The two, Peter Askeland, 22, and Anthony Huskins, 27, said in court they would file counter charges of assault against the Jews.

The row was in Queens County Long Island, where three self-styled admirers of Hitler were charged with treason last week. Conviction could mean the death penalty. They were originally charged with meeting for illegal purposes — a misdemeanor — but Magistrate Milton Solomon raised the charge to the capital offense.

An officer of the American Jewish Congress said Sunday night he opposed treason charges against the trio. "These youths and their evil actions must not become the opportunity for martyrdom or confusion," said Shad Polier, vice president of the AJC.

Possibility Of Love Triangle Raised In Professor's Killing

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—The possibility of a love triangle was raised today in the slaying of Dr. Margaret McMillan.

Dist. Atty. J. St. Clair Favrot said the state thought it had a plausible motive why the 39-year-old unwed biology professor was hacked to death on a lonely country road.

"You have one professor and another professor and he is married," Favrot said in an interview. "There is bound to be a triangle."

The other professor is Dr. George H. Mickey, 49, suspended dean of the Louisiana State University Graduate School. Dr. Mickey, married and the father of two children, has been charged with the slaying of Dr. McMillan, his friend for several years, who taught at LSU's New Orleans branch.

Defense lawyer Robert Kleinpeter said there was no possibility of a love affair between the two. "It was a close relationship between two scientists," he said. "Favrot is talking through his hat."

A few hours before Dr. McMillan died of 13 blows on the head, she drove into a service station with a man to buy gas, according to James S. Versen, manager of a station near the front gate of the LSU campus.

Versen is the last person known to have seen her alive. He said she and a man drove into his station between 6:45 and 8 p.m. Jan. 9. Her death was placed at 12:45 the next morning.

Albert Kober, owner of the station, told reporters he did not know who the man in the car was and neither got out of the car.

Mickey has maintained his innocence and insists he knows nothing of the slaying.

Dr. McMillan, a native of Evanston, Ill., met Mickey when he was a professor at Northwestern University about 10 years ago.

Weirton Man Named As Hancock Deputy

A. J. Rouse, former police court clerk in Weirton for four years, has been appointed a deputy on the staff of Hancock County Sheriff Clayton H. Hobbs.

Rouse, 29, fills a vacancy created by the recent resignation of Deputy Louis Torchio, who became a member of the Weirton police department.

Rouse studied two years at the University of Tulsa in Oklahoma and received high school training in Madison, Wis. He is married and has two children.

Dangerous Plaything That 1863 Cannonball

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — The cannonball bore the date 1863, and it seemed harmless enough to two boys rolling the 95-pound ball down their drive.

The rolling game continued until someone got the idea it might be dangerous.

It was.

The Jacksonville Naval Air Station found the ball contained 2½ pounds of explosive powder.

Mrs. M. D. Moody, whose sons were playing with it, said the ball was among relics collected by her father.

Teachers Get Salary Boosts

Annual salary increases ranging from $200 and $350 were granted Wellsville teachers at a special meeting of the Board of Education Saturday afternoon.

Earl Bake, president, said the special session was called after new figures were received on the State Foundation program. All money for the increases will come from state funds.

The increases were made retroactive to Jan. 1. The board granted $200 to teachers with two years' experience; $250 to those with three years, and $350 to those with four or more years' experience and those holding a masters' degree.

The board also granted $100 annual increases to part - time employes such as bus drivers and $150 to $200 to other employes such as janitors and secretaries.

Those hired to do extra work will receive $1.25 an hour instead $1.

The new base salary for beginning teachers with a bachelors degree will be $3,850 and for those starting with a masters degree, $4,250. The top salary for those with all increments will be $5,050 for a bachelors degree and $5,450 with a masters.

Bake said the board met with teachers' committee and explained how the increases would be given. The committee also was given a breakdown of the state fund so it could learn how it is to be used, he said.

The board also accepted the resignation of Robert Miller as custodian at MacDonald School. Earl Mundy, maintenance man, will fill in for him until a replacement is named.

Director Named To Operate Dump

SALINEVILLE — Amos Williams of R. D. 1 has been named supervisor of the Washington Township and Salineville dump in a move to make operation of the disposal area more efficient.

Williams will be in charge of the dump in exchange for sole salvage rights, according to an agreement worked out Friday night at a meeting of the township trustees and Council's health committee.

Cleaning of the dump area now is underway and Williams will direct the placement of trash when it is brought to the site. Authorities had been receiving complaints of persons dumping rubbish along the road leading to the dump.

In other action, the trustees authorized the purchase of a 2-ton Chevrolet truck from the Hart Motor Co. of Salineville. The only other bid was received from the O. S. Hill Co. of Lisbon.

The trustees discussed road conditions and slated slagging and repair work. Meeting nights were changed to the first and third Wednesdays of the month. The next meeting will be Feb. 3.

Rev. Hammerton Named to Serve Palestine Church

EAST PALESTINE — The Rev. Tom Hammerton of Lisbon has been approved as the new minister of the Centenary Methodist Church, Bishop Hazen Werner of Columbus has announced.

Rev. Hammerton, a native of England, will begin his duties Feb. 1, succeeding the Rev. Herbert Massey, who left last week to accept a new pastorate at Fairborn.

Rev. Hammerton, who has been serving at Lisbon and Elkton, came to the United States in 1925, settling in Youngstown. He attended Ohio Wesleyan University before serving in the Army during World War II, later returning to obtain a degree from the university.

He received a degree from Yale Divinity School in 1950 and has served at Smithfield, Winona and Cheshire. He is married and has two sons, Gerald, 5, and Robert, 9-months, and a daughter, Patricia, 4.

35 Attend Meeting Of County NCCW

Some 35 attended a meeting of the Columbiana County Deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women Saturday afternoon at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall.

Fr. Carl Nicolay, pastor, spoke in the preparation for priesthood and the studies involved.

Miss Josephine Furey, president, conducted business.

Refreshments were served by members of the Catholic Women's Study Club, the Altar and Rosary Society and the Catholic Daughters of America.

The next meeting is pending.

Shoots Wife, Kills Self

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Mary Lee Mabrey, 39, was taken off critical listing Sunday night and pronounced "fair" several hours after her estranged husband shot her in the back, abdomen and arm—before he fatally fired a .38 caliber revolver bullet into his own head.

Farm Deadline Set

LISBON — Clifford Shaw, chairman of the Columbiana County agriculture stabilization and conservation committee today, advised farmers that Feb. 1 is the final date for placing 1959-crop wheat, barley, oats, rye and soybeans under price support. Shaw requested that applications be in the county office by Jan. 25 to allow time for inspections and approval of forms.

Weeping Kids

CULPEPER, Va. (AP)—A second grader caused every kid in school here to weep. A tear gas bomb he had found and brought to school exploded.

SALINEVILLE — Amos Williams of R. D. 1 has been named supervisor of the Washington Township and Salineville dump in a move to make operation of the disposal area more efficient.

Williams will be in charge of the dump in exchange for sole salvage rights, according to an agreement worked out Friday night at a meeting of the township trustees and Council's health committee.

Cleaning of the dump area now is underway and Williams will direct the placement of trash when it is brought to the site. Authorities had been receiving complaints of persons dumping rubbish along the road leading to the dump.

In other action, the trustees authorized the purchase of a 2-ton Chevrolet truck from the Hart Motor Co. of Salineville. The only other bid was received from the O. S. Hill Co. of Lisbon.

The trustees discussed road conditions and slated slagging and repair work. Meeting nights were changed to the first and third Wednesdays of the month. The next meeting will be Feb. 3.

Rev. Hammerton Named to Serve Palestine Church

EAST PALESTINE — The Rev. Tom Hammerton of Lisbon has been approved as the new minister of the Centenary Methodist Church, Bishop Hazen Werner of Columbus has announced.

Rev. Hammerton, a native of England, will begin his duties Feb. 1, succeeding the Rev. Herbert Massey, who left last week to accept a new pastorate at Fairborn.

Rev. Hammerton, who has been serving at Lisbon and Elkton, came to the United States in 1925, settling in Youngstown. He attended Ohio Wesleyan University before serving in the Army during World War II, later returning to obtain a degree from the university.

He received a degree from Yale Divinity School in 1950 and has served at Smithfield, Winona and Cheshire. He is married and has two sons, Gerald, 5, and Robert, 9-months, and a daughter, Patricia, 4.

35 Attend Meeting Of County NCCW

Some 35 attended a meeting of the Columbiana County Deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women Saturday afternoon at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall.

Fr. Carl Nicolay, pastor, spoke in the preparation for priesthood and the studies involved.

Miss Josephine Furey, president, conducted business.

Refreshments were served by members of the Catholic Women's Study Club, the Altar and Rosary Society and the Catholic Daughters of America.

The next meeting is pending.

Shoots Wife, Kills Self

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Mary Lee Mabrey, 39, was taken off critical listing Sunday night and pronounced "fair" several hours after her estranged husband shot her in the back, abdomen and arm—before he fatally fired a .38 caliber revolver bullet into his own head.

Farm Deadline Set

LISBON — Clifford Shaw, chairman of the Columbiana County agriculture stabilization and conservation committee today, advised farmers that Feb. 1 is the final date for placing 1959-crop wheat, barley, oats, rye and soybeans under price support. Shaw requested that applications be in the county office by Jan. 25 to allow time for inspections and approval of forms.

Weeping Kids

CULPEPER, Va. (AP)—A second grader caused every kid in school here to weep. A tear gas bomb he had found and brought to school exploded.
